Human Resources Rules and Regulations Manual Introduction

(EFFECTIVE DATE: November 1, 2002, Revised Date: 01/30/2020)

These human resources rules and regulations are the results of the efforts of the employees of the Blount County Sheriff's Office, and their publication is dedicated to the notion that a professional criminal justice organization must be guided by a rule of law and operated within the parameters of clearly established rules and regulations. Each employee is, and should always be, treated as an individual and allowed discretion, but all employees must recognize the need for uniformly acceptable conduct, and to be clearly aware of what is expected of him or her as an employee, and what employees expect of the Sheriff's Office.

This manual was developed to provide general guidelines about Blount County Sheriff's Office policies and procedures for employees; however, it does not contain promises to any employee about how any particular situation will be handled. It is a guide to assist employees in becoming familiar with some of the benefits and obligations of employment, including our policy of at-will employment. None of the guidelines in this handbook are intended to give rise to contractual rights or obligations, or to be construed as a guarantee of employment for any specific period of time or any specific type of work. These guidelines are subject to modification, amendment, or revocation by Blount County Sheriff's Office at any time, without advance notice.

The integrity of an organization rests with the actions of its employees, and these rules and regulations are guidelines to assist with the regulation of conduct and the procedural parameters of the human resources related functions of the Sheriff's Office. The perceptions the citizens of Blount County have of its Sheriff's Office rests upon the competence of all our employees, and these rules and regulations, and the protocols and procedures related to them, will help to ensure that public trust is well placed.

Sheriff James L. Berrong

GENERAL

The PowerDMS System which hosts the "Electronic Directives Manual" is internet based and will be accessible to all employees on a 24-hour basis. The "Electronic Directives Manual" serves as a repository for agency written directives and provides a system for agency employees to acknowledge receipt and understanding of agency directives. In addition, the entire, updated manual is maintained by the Accreditation Manager and copies will be stored on thumb drives within each function of the Sheriff's Office.

Upon initial appointment, new employees will be provided with a unique user name, password, and receive instruction on how to access the "Electronic Directives Manual." Newly hired employees will be trained during orientation.

New directives, updates, and revisions will be incorporated into the "Electronic Directives Manual." When changes are made to agency directives, appropriate notice will be sent to all employees. The process of new or amended written directive training will be done through roll call and staff meetings in the other functions covered by these directives. Once this review has been completed, each employee will be required to electronically sign.

This manual provides employees with a readily accessible source of information relating to the human resources rules and regulations of the Sheriff's Office, and is intended to serve as a guide and framework within which human resource decisions can be made. This manual cannot; however, cover every situation that may arise in the course of an employee's career, but ample provisions for review and amendment are provided so that a framework exists that will allow employees and the Command Staff to resolve differences and to determine the proper path to resolution of any situation.

This manual is created under the authority of the Blount County Sheriff and the Blount County Sheriff's Office Merit Service Board, and is made possible through the efforts of employees who have read, revised, and agreed upon its contents. Employees should become familiar with its contents since it relates to every aspect of employment with the Sheriff's Office. Orientation and in-service training provide employees an opportunity to understand the outline of the manual and the matters included in it. Roll call training will be conducted periodically to ensure that employees are given the opportunity to understand the basics of the manual and its importance to every employee's job, and to discuss changes in the manual as they occur. It is important to understand that laws, court decisions, and changes within the organization relating to human resources, require constant monitoring, to the extent that the manual is always a work in progress. The challenge is to keep employees informed and to ensure their understanding of the basics of their employment with the Sheriff's Office.

CIVIL AND CRIMINAL LIABILITY

This manual is for internal use only, and is not intended to enlarge an employee's civil or criminal liability in any way. The directives contained within should not be construed as the creation of a higher standard of safety or care, in an evidentiary sense, with respect to third party claims. Violations of these directives, if proven, should only form the basis of a complaint by the Sheriff's Office, and then only in a non-judicial administrative setting.

REVISIONS

- A. This manual is designed to be a constant work in progress, but will be reviewed at least annually. Implementation of newly issued or revised directives will be accomplished by dissemination through the PowerDMS system. Employee acknowledgement of the newly issued or revised directive will be tracked in PowerDMS. In addition, newly issued or revised directives will be posted for 30 days in the Patrol Roll Call Room, CID, Adult, and Juvenile Detention Centers. Employees are encouraged to print and save copies of newly issued or revised directives for review and quick reference.
- B. Supervisors should verify periodically that employees within their shift, unit, or function are accessing PowerDMS for updates. Employees will receive an email as an extra notification to remind them of a revised and/or new policy that they need to review. Supervisors should review new or revised changes with employees at roll call training, weekly, and monthly staff meetings. Supervisors may also coordinate with the Training Unit and or with the Human Resources Director or designee to conduct and document such review and training as needed. Supervisors will be responsible for coordinating with an employee to make-up any missed review and or training relating to this manual to ensure compliance. Employees should notify their supervisor of any missed training or review of this manual.
- C. All revisions and or new directives will be coordinated through The Accreditation Unit. The Accreditation Unit, with the authority of the Sheriff or his designee, will have the only authority to make changes or additions to the Blount County Sheriff's Office Human Resources Rules and Regulations Manual (HR Manual).

CONSTRUCTIVE COMMENTS BY STAFF

Please notify the Accreditation Manager if any area of this manual needs correction, or if there are suggestions or comments for future revisions. Any assistance is greatly appreciated.

The MISSION provides a big picture perspective of “who we are, what we do, and where we are headed.” It leaves no doubt about our long-term direction and where we intend to take the Sheriff's Office. Our VALUES will help us chart the course to the way we serve our citizens, allowing us to achieve new levels of effectiveness and teamwork.

In accomplishing this mission, we adhere to the following VALUES:

Integrity

The men and women of the Blount County Sheriff's Office foster the highest performance standards, ethical conduct, and truthfulness.

Service

The men and women of the Blount County Sheriff's Office are committed to quality service and are responsive to the needs of the citizens of our community through problem solving partnerships.

Respect

The men and women of the Blount County Sheriff's Office value the dignity of every individual who lives in our community, and promise to uphold the principles found in the Constitution of the United States and the laws of the State of Tennessee.

CODE OF ETHICS

As an employee of the Blount County Sheriff's Office, my fundamental duty is to serve mankind; to safeguard lives and property, to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation, and the peaceful against violence or disorder; and, to respect the constitutional rights of all persons to liberty, equality, and justice.

I will keep my private life unsullied as an example to all; maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn, or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and, be constantly mindful of the welfare of others, honest in thought and deed in both my personal and official life. I will be exemplary in observing the laws of the land and the regulations of my agency. Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature, or that is confided to me in my official capacity, will be kept secret, unless revelation is necessary in the performance of my duty.

I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, animosities, or friendships to influence my decisions. With no compromise for crime and with relentless prosecution of criminals, I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without unnecessary force or violence, and will never accept gratuities.

I recognize the badge of my office as a symbol of public faith, and I accept it as a public trust to be held so long as I am true to these objectives and ideals, dedicating and affirming myself to my chosen profession.

Enforcement Courtesy

Courtesy is definitely a science of the highest degree, consisting of quiet, unassuming behavior based on a sincere consideration for the feelings of others. Race, religion, gender, color, or creed, do not influence the practice of courtesy. Courtesy presupposes an attitude of desiring to please or desire to serve. One can be firm and conscientious in carrying out duties and still be courteous.

Approach

Courtesy is most frequently expressed in the initial approach to citizens or inmates. Facial expression, tone of voice, the manner in which one walks, is all considered an indication of one's attitude of mind.

To approach citizens or inmates with a scowl and a threatening gesture is to immediately antagonize. The response will be resentment and a desire to argue and "fight it out." However, a friendly, cheerful approach, not at all apologetic, but interested and pleasant, is usually far more disarming. It is the manner in which someone says or does something that discloses character, especially if that someone is an officer of the law. It is the expression given to someone's thoughts and feelings by looks, tones, and gestures rather than by deeds or words that determine judgment of an employee.

There are times when patience may become frayed after long hours of work. This does not excuse sarcasm or discourtesy. Courtesy does not preclude someone from becoming indignant or aggravated, but it does require an employee to express such indignation in a professional manner.

Every employee of the Blount County Sheriff's Office should bear in mind that an act of discourtesy or offensive conduct reflects on all employees of the agency, and tends to destroy the public confidence we are working so hard to gain. Agency personnel should watch carefully their approach and note particularly the affect of various kinds of approaches upon different people. A uniform and badge, or being an employee of the Blount County Sheriff's Office, does not give a right to indulge in abusive oratory or display personal vindictiveness. Overbearing methods should be replaced by courtesy and politeness. An employee can be courteous to everyone without exception and still be firm and sincere in efforts to get the job done.

Courtesy is essential to any successful person. It is equally important to be courteous to the foreign-speaking, the "down and out," and the less fortunate. An employee of the Sheriff's Office to them represents this country, the law, and the attitude of the government, and can be influential in helping such people understand what is required of them, and to gain their cooperation in law enforcement efforts. Most people feel better after having handled a situation courteously than they do after being rude or abrupt. There is a feeling of pride in knowing that a person contacted goes away with a feeling of warmth and friendliness towards the employee and the Sheriff's Office, rather than feelings of resentment or indignation. There is no such thing as a small enemy.

Attitude

Attitude and conduct must be in line with the position assumed. Uniform and badge do not give anyone the right to act in an officious, sarcastic, or tough manner. An efficient employee of the Sheriff's Office does not need to be abusive to show authority, and should never let their line of associations with criminals warp their own personality and attitude toward the public that they are serving.

Causes of Discourtesy

Employees in uniform are always seen by a great many more people than they see. Curious crowds watch them. In other words, they live in a "glass house." A feeling of self-importance sometimes follows the donning of a uniform. This feeling of self-importance may make the employee take each violation of the law as a personal offense, as if offenders were purposely doing something to annoy them. Reaction, then, is one of "getting even" rather than impartial enforcement of the law.

With the strain of duty and the many responsibilities that an employee has, there may be a loss of sleep. Fatigue may make one irritable and easily upset. The employee should be on guard to see that physical condition is not an excuse for "taking it out" on the public or inmates.

An employee may not be discourteous because an individual being dealt with has been discourteous. Offenders are usually on the defensive when approached by an employee, and may open an attack with abusive language and discourteous behavior. Employees who can maintain self-control under such situations, and deal both firmly and courteously with offenders, show themselves to be superior and are far more effective. In other words, do not lower yourself to their level.

Discourtesy is sometimes due to lack of knowledge and understanding. Courtesy is something which is acquired through continuous practice, imitation, and thoughtfulness based on a sincere consideration for the feelings of others. It becomes a more intimate part of the personality and captures goodwill wherever the person possessing it goes.

Bearing

There is strength in calmness; therefore, employees should maintain composure despite trying conditions. In a time of stress and disaster, there are those who may become distracted and excited. Employees can best execute their responsibilities when they can take charge of situations with calmness and an appearance of knowing what should be done. An employee with good bearing stimulates confidence.

An attitude of blustering, cross-grained officiousness gains nothing except the ill will of those whom the employee should be serving. Cultivate the ability to meet people easily and employ tact and consideration. These attitudes will be helpful in any task that is performed.

Courtesy is built on the ability to show respect to others in both trivial and important contacts. Thus, respect is invited in return. By making a sincere effort to understand the other person's point of view, the key to understanding and good judgment is acquired in all contacts.

Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990

It is the policy of Blount County that qualified individuals with disabilities not be excluded from participation in or benefit from services, programs, or activities of the County. It is the policy of Blount County not to discriminate against a qualified individual with a disability in: job application procedures; the hiring, advancement, or termination of employment; employee compensation; job training; and other terms, conditions and privileges of employment. It is the intent of Blount County Government to comply with all applicable requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

Reasonable Accommodations/Modified Job Duties

Blount County will reasonably accommodate persons with a disability. Such reasonable accommodation may include: making facilities readily accessible to individuals with a disability, restructuring jobs, modifying work schedules, modifying equipment, or other similar accommodations. To assist our employees who are or become disabled and those employees who suffer on-the-job injuries, we will make reasonable accommodations to enable such employees to continue performing the essential functions of their jobs. Consistent with this policy, we may modify job duties to comply with medical requirements or restrictions. Other accommodations, such as transfer to a vacant position for which the employee is qualified, may be appropriate, depending upon specific facts and circumstances of individual situations.

Obviously, there are limits to the accommodations which we can realistically make. For example, where an accommodation would cause an undue hardship to the County we would be unable to make the particular accommodation. Similarly, where placing an individual in a position, with or without accommodation, would cause the employee to be a direct threat to the employee or others, we may be unable to place the employee in a particular position.

If you need to request a reasonable accommodation because of a disability or on-the-job injury, please follow the procedure set forth in our EEO Grievance Procedure. We will discuss the matter with you, investigate your request and attempt, to the extent possible, to reasonably accommodate you.

Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964

Blount County Government ensures compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964; 49 CFR, part 21; related statutes and regulations to the end that no person shall be excluded from participation in or be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance on the grounds of race, color, sex, or national origin.

Blount County Government also ensures compliance with Federal laws particularly applicable to language access included in Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and the Title VI regulations, prohibiting discrimination based on national origin, and Executive Order 13166 issued in 2000 which applies to individuals who do not speak English as their primary language and who have a limited ability to read, speak, write, or understand English. These individuals may be entitled language assistance with respect to a particular type or service, benefit, or encounter. Many individual federal programs, states, and localities also have provisions requiring language services for LEP individuals. An Executive Order is an order given by the President to federal agencies. The LEP Executive Order (Executive Order 13166) states that people who are LEP should have meaningful access to federally-conducted and federally-funded programs and activities.

Executive Order 13166 requires all agencies that provide federal financial assistance to issue guidance on how recipients of that assistance can take reasonable steps to provide meaningful access consistent with Title VI and the Title VI regulations.

To report any complaints or to receive additional information about Title VI, contact the Title VI Coordinator at 865-273-5780.

1.46 Participation in Auctions or Sales sponsored by the Blount County Sheriff's Office (New Amendment, 09/04/07)

The purpose of this Code of Conduct is to prohibit Blount County Sheriff's Office employees from engaging in transactions or having financial or personal interests that conflict with their official duties or tend to impair their judgment in performing their duties. This code seeks to prevent both actual and potential conflicts of interest.

The Blount County Sheriff's Office employees, their family members, and or their representatives may not participate in auctions or sales sponsored by the Blount County Sheriff's Office during which process the disposal of property that the Sheriff's Office employees have seized, maintained, or classified as surplus has been selected for that auction or sale.

This involvement would create a potential conflict of interest and the appearance of impropriety for the Sheriff's Office employee involved in the acquisition through seizures, maintenance, disposition and disposal of the property in Sheriff's custody to bid on and purchase that property at the auction or sale. Allowing the Sheriff's Office employee to be involved in the purchase would create the justifiable impression to the public of a conflict between the employee's official duties in seizing and disposing of the property and the employee's personal and financial interests.

Employees owe a fiduciary obligation that requires them to place the Sheriffs' Office best interests above their own private interests. It prohibits employees from participating directly or indirectly in any recommendation or decision in which they, their immediate family, or a related business have a financial or personal interest. It raises a potential, if not actual, conflict of interest for the same individual to make the decision that property in the Sheriff's Office custody should be sold and then purchase that property at the auction or sale. This personal interest in the property would tend to impair the decision maker's judgment and conflict with his or her official duties in determining whether the Sheriff's Office should retain the property for its own use, destroy it, discard it, or relinquish the property through a public auction or sale.

It prohibits employees from using confidential information acquired in their official capacity to advance their own financial or personal interests. In each instance, the employees may have access to inside information about the property to be sold that is not available to other persons who attend the public auction or sale. It would create the appearance of impropriety and a potential conflict of interest for the same individual to process, handle, or seize property in his official capacity and then subsequently purchase that same piece of property for his own personal use. To protect the integrity of the process, there needs to be a total separation between the Sheriff's Office employees who make the decisions to acquire and dispose of the property and the persons who may benefit from those decisions by purchasing property at the auction or sale. (Serious)

Any violations covered in this section of the Code of Conduct will be classified as a serious violation.

An employee may be found to have violated the BCSO Code of Ethics separately or in conjunction with a violation of the Code of Conduct. (Serious)

This will not be construed as restricting any employee of the Sheriff's Office from requesting an interview with any member of the Sheriff's Office Command Staff. (Minor)

2.09 Respect Between Ranks

Deputies will treat those in the Sheriff's Office of a supervisory or lesser rank with the courtesy due them as fellow law enforcement officers. In referring to or addressing a supervisory officer in an official capacity, the appropriate rank (title) of the employee addressed or referred to will be used. To prevent dissemination of confidential information and the unauthorized recording of communications between employees, no employee of the Sheriff's Office will tape or otherwise record any communication between the employee and any other employee of the Sheriff's Office unless specifically authorized by General Orders, or with the prior approval of the employee being recorded, or the Chief Deputy. Leave Accrual Date: The date that determines the rate of annual leave accrual that is computed from the employment date (minus any time in a non-paid status). Part-time employees working less than 30 hours per pay period are not entitled to accumulate or use leave (see 3.02).

Nonexempt: Employees defined by the FLSA and designated by the Deputy Chief of Administration who are eligible to receive compensation at a rate of time and one-half for any hours actually worked in excess of the hours specified by the Sheriff (see 2.02).

Overtime: Time worked by employees who work over their scheduled hours for a work day (10 hours for patrol deputies and 8 hours for all other certified employees) for which they are paid time-and-one-half .

Classified positions in the Sheriff's Office are assigned to a skill level based on a class description developed from a job analysis that is conducted periodically. Each skill level has 19 pay steps that represent experience and/or longevity in the position. (See 2.01)

Performance Evaluation Date: (See Semi-Annual Performance Evaluation date)

Personnel File: The official central file for each employee containing information pertaining to employment in the Sheriff's Office maintained by the Office Manager (see 1.10).

Probation: Employees are required to satisfactorily complete a 12-month probation during which time an employee has no right to continued employment, and may be terminated at any time without cause and without any recourse (see also Conditional Probationary Employee). At the discretion of the Sheriff, a probation period may be extended.

Reclassification: The change of a position from one classification to another.

Re-employment: Occurs when an employee who voluntarily terminates is subsequently employed again by the Blount County Sheriff's Office. When a former employee returns within 6 months from the effective date of an authorized leave of absence it is considered a reinstatement. If an employee who returns has been gone longer than 1 year from the effective date of their termination, the re-employment process is the same as for a new employee (see 1.06).

Resignation: An employee's voluntary termination of employment.

Salary Range: A range of pay associated with a pay grade that includes a minimum rate and a maximum rate of pay (see 2.01).

Secondary Employment: Employment in any capacity (within or outside of the Sheriff's Office) other than the employee's primary job. (See 6.02)

Semi-Annual Performance Evaluation Date: Performance evaluation dates are the same for all non-probationary employees (January and July). A special evaluation date may be assigned if a supervisor and/or function head wishes to evaluate or re-evaluate an employee's performance at a time other than (but not in lieu of) the scheduled semi-annual performance evaluation date (see Chapter 4, Performance Management).

Separation: The cessation of employment by an employee's action or by action of the Sheriff's Office for any reason (see 1.09).

Separation Date: The last day an employee is physically on the job. The Blount County Sheriff's Office will not be held liable for matters affecting an employee following his or her physical absence from the job due to separation. It is not ideal to delay the effective date by the full or partial amount of annual or compensatory leave earned and unused by the separated employee, therefore pay for annual or compensatory leave balances to eligible employees will be paid on a lump sum basis. (Delaying the effective date must be approved by the Deputy Chief of Administration.) If an employee is on approved sick or workers' compensation leave when separated, the effective date may be the actual date of separation notice as given by the employee and not the last day physically on the job. When the effective separation date immediately precedes a holiday, the employee will not be paid for the holiday since he or she is no longer an employee. The Deputy Chief of Administration will determine all official separation dates.

Service Date: The date from which service time is calculated for purposes of service awards. Length of service is not reduced by any approved leave of absence and includes any temporary or part time employment immediately prior to full time employment in an authorized position as defined in this section.

Supervisor: An employee who has the responsibility for directing and evaluating the work of other employees, including but not limited to: scheduling work, recommending or taking disciplinary action, providing on-the-job training, approving leave requests, and/or recommending hiring or dismissal.

Suspension: A disciplinary action that results in loss of pay and may also result in loss of benefits depending on the length of a suspension.

Temporary Employee: A full time or part time employee hired for a designated time period not to exceed 60 days and who is not covered by benefits. Temporary employment must be approved by the Chief Deputy and may be extended beyond 60 days by the Chief Deputy.

Transfer: The movement of an employee for any reason from one position to another in the same or different pay grade. This movement may require a conditional probationary period.

Volunteer: An individual who provides services to the Blount County Sheriff's Office without compensation.

Wage Adjustment: A change in the rates assigned to a pay grade contingent on approval of the County Commission.

Workday: A regularly scheduled duty day for an employee. Each function will have varying workdays in each 24-hour period based on job duties and responsibilities.

Workweek: A regularly scheduled 40-hour week, generally five 8-hour days or four 10- hour days as specified in these rules or by the Sheriff.

depositions, issue subpoenas, compel the attendance of witnesses, and to compel the production of books, accounts, papers, records, documents, and testimony.

2. In case of the disobedience of any person to comply with the orders of the Board, or of a subpoena issued by the Board or any of its members, or on the refusal of a witness to testify on any matter on which he or she may be lawfully interrogated, the judge in any court of record within Blount County, on application of any member of the Board, may compel obedience by proceedings as for contempt. The Sheriff or his legal deputy will serve such subpoenas as issued by the Board.

H. Record of Testimony: In the interest of economy, arrangements for the production of a record of testimony at a hearing of any appeal of a personnel action will be a matter of negotiation between the Board and the appellant. No appellant, however, may be denied the right to make a written or transcribable record if demanded. An electronic record of good fidelity will be deemed as sufficient to meet this requirement.

I. Assistance of the Sheriff: In preparation for a hearing, or the investigation of personnel matters, the Board may demand the assistance of the Sheriff.

J. Adoption of Rules and Regulations

The Blount County Sheriff's Human Resources Rules and Regulations as set forth in this manual supersede all previous rules and regulations and, having been originally adopted by the Merit Service Board of the Blount County Sheriff's Office (as established by Chapter 332 of the Private Acts of the 1972 General Assembly of the State of Tennessee), and the Sheriff, serve as the base for the human resources rules and regulations governing all Blount County Sheriff's Office employees except for those specifically excepted.

K. Purpose of Rules and Regulations

2. To provide equitable conditions of employment for employees of the Blount County Sheriff's Office.
3. To establish and maintain uniform standards of human resources administration.
4. To aid supervisors in dealing with their personnel in a fair and responsible manner.

L. Scope of Application of Rules and Regulations

1.04 Job Analysis/Classification Plan

Job Analysis

1. At least every 4 years, each member of the Sheriff's Office will participate in a job analysis process that will include completion of a job analysis questionnaire.
2. Upon completion of job analysis questionnaires, the Accreditation Manager, with assistance from the Command Staff, will analyze them, compare each to previous job and classification descriptions to determine whether significant changes have occurred, and propose changes to job and classification descriptions as required. This will ensure that all job descriptions are current. Job analysis will consist of review of the following:
 - a. Work behaviors as they relate to an employee's duties, responsibilities, functions, tasks, etc.
 - b. The frequency with which the identified work behaviors occur.
 - c. How important the work behaviors are.
 - d. Identification of the job-related knowledge, skills, and abilities related to work behaviors.
 - e. Proposed changes to job and classification descriptions will be reviewed by employees, their supervisors, and by the Chief Deputy prior to presentation to the Sheriff.
 - f. The Chief Deputy will present recommended changes to the Sheriff who will have final approval over changes and then made available to all employees.

Classification Plan

1. The Classification Plan provides for the grouping of positions into classes based on factors determined by the Merit Service Board, or designee. The plan consists of written specifications of the classes of positions with their titles and rules guiding the allocation of each position to its appropriate classifications, and serves as the basis for the development of the Salary Plan as presented in Section 2.01.

a. Amendment to the Classification Plan

The Deputy Chief of Administration, after review and approval by the Chief Deputy and the Sheriff, may amend the Classification Plan.

b. Class Specifications

Each class specification describes the essential nature of the work, characteristics of positions of the class (with examples), a statement of minimum qualifications and those knowledge, skills, and abilities necessary to perform the duties assigned, and supervisory responsibilities if any. Class specifications are considered descriptive rather than restrictive and do not limit the authority of a function captain or supervisor to direct, control, or evaluate the work of any employee.

c. Class Title

The class title is the official title of the position wherever such position is designated in any payroll, budget estimate, or other official records or reports. Class titles are assigned by the Deputy Chief of Administration after consultation with the Sheriff and Chief Deputy, and based on the allocation of positions approved by the Merit Service Board.

d. Maintenance of the Sheriff's Office Classification Plan

- a. The Classification Plan is the repository for critical information concerning positions in the Sheriff's Office, and is made available to the command staff, supervisors, and any interested employees. Copies of the Classification Plan are available in the offices of the Deputy Chief of Administration, the Accreditation Manager, the Chief Deputy, the Deputy Chiefs, and all captains. After consultation with the command staff, the Deputy Chief of Administration will prepare recommendations for the Chief Deputy regarding changes or additions to the Sheriff's Office Classification Plan caused by changes in operations, such as additional duties for existing positions, additional positions caused by changes in operational responsibilities, or any matter which in some way changes the duties, responsibilities, knowledge, skills, or abilities requirements of any position.
- b. The Accreditation Manager will prepare required changes in the job and/or classification descriptions as required, ensuring that all incumbents and supervisory personnel have an opportunity to review and revise changes prior to submission to the Chief Deputy for review.
- c. Upon review, the Chief Deputy will forward recommended changes to the Sheriff for approval.

- d. Copies of current classification descriptions are included in Appendix 3.

1.05 Allocation and Distribution of Personnel

A. Table of Authorization

The Table of Authorization (Appendix 4) is a listing of all permanent positions approved by the County Commission and the Merit Service Board. The Deputy Chief of Administration, or designee, will maintain the official record of all positions (Table of Authorization) that have been established under the provisions of these Rules and Regulations.

B. Workload Assessments

Workload assessments will be conducted at least, every four years by the Deputy Chief of Administration, or designee, prior to the budget process, and will be submitted to the Sheriff for budgeting purposes with conclusions and recommendations of the workload assessment for distribution/allocation of personnel. In preparing the workload assessment, consideration will be given to the following:

1. Outstanding programs and projects that impact on manpower allocation.
2. Current job task analysis.
3. The allocation chart as authorized by the Merit Service Board and the County Commission.
4. An analysis of the incidents/tasks handled by deputies based on hour of the day and day of the week
5. Average time required to handle incidents/tasks.
6. Time lost through days off, holidays, mandatory training, and other leave such sick, military, etc.
7. Allocation of deputies to Patrol will be based on a workload assessment that includes the following:

- a. Number of incidents handled by patrol personnel during a specified period.
- b. Average time required to handle an incident at the patrol level.
- c. Calculation of the average percentage of time that should be available to a patrol deputy for handling incidents during a shift.

C. Distribution of Personnel

1. Employees allocated to each organizational component will be distributed in a manner consistent with the workload assessments, and will take into account the time and location factors necessary to complete specific tasks, and will encourage the equalization of individual workloads.
2. Patrol deputies will be distributed in accordance with time factors and the geographic distribution of incidents to equalize individual workloads as much as possible. Information such as the hour of the day, day of the week, and reporting area may be compiled from monthly statistical reports generated by the Crime Analyst and Records.
3. A monthly report of calls for service, minus administrative tasks, is used to determine the percentage of patrol workload on each shift. The hourly distribution of incidents is collected and used to determine if the distribution of personnel within shift hours is affected by hourly workload variances.

1.06 Recruitment and Selection

The Sheriff's Office will recruit and select the most qualified applicants available. Emphasis on quality recruitment in full compliance with current law should result in a lower rate of turnover, fewer disciplinary problems, higher morale, better community relations, and more efficient and effective services. The Deputy Chief of Administrative Operations, through the Human Resources Director, is responsible for recruiting and selection activities through implementation of a Recruitment Plan and compliance with the selection process.

A. Professional and Legal Requirements

The Deputy Chief of Administrative Operations, through the Human Resources Director, is responsible for formulating, directing, and coordinating a comprehensive recruitment and selection program involving positive participation and cooperation among Sheriff's Office employees including, but not limited to, the following:

2. Coordination of the application process by ensuring that Employee Applications are complete, and by coordinating correspondence with applicants.
3. Disqualification of applicants who do not meet BCSO guidelines.
4. Preparation of relevant testing components and procedures tailored to meet the specific needs of the Sheriff's Office, and to ensure that the rating criteria for all elements of the testing phase relate to the required knowledge, skills, and abilities established for each position.
5. Establishment and maintenance of eligibility lists.

Blount County Sheriff's Office Human Resources Rules and Regulations Manual Chapter 1
(Reviewed 01/30/2020, 03/01/2022, Approved by County Commission 05/21/2020)

6. Testing materials are stored in a locked file cabinet in a locked storage room managed by the Director of Human Resources or designee. When those materials are out of their locked storage, they are never left unattended. Materials no longer used in the selection process will be destroyed.
7. On-boarding of new employees.

B. Equal Opportunity Employer

The Sheriff's Office will strive to obtain the best-qualified applicants available for each opening as it occurs without regard to gender, race, color, religion, national origin, age, disability, or other non-merit or non-job related factors. The Blount County Sheriff's Office Equal Employment Opportunity Plan (Appendix 1) is a part of the Human Resources Rules and Regulations, and copies of the plan are available upon request from the Human Resources Director, or designee.

C. Recruitment Plan

The Deputy Chief of Administrative Operations, or designee, will prepare and maintain a Recruitment Plan (see Appendix 5) that includes the following elements:

1. Statement of objectives.
2. Plan of action designed to achieve the objectives.
3. Procedures to periodically review the progress towards meeting the objective.
4. Revise/ Reissue the plan as needed.

D. Application Process, Initial Selection, Initial Screening

1. The operational elements of the selection process presented below are clearly set forth and administered identically for all applicants. The elements include testing components, procedures, forms, and assurance that all components relate to the required knowledge, skills, and abilities of the position as developed based on task analysis.
2. Applicants who properly complete and successfully submit BCSO's online Employment Application will be considered an Applicant. Applications received by BCSO will be reviewed by the respective functional areas (e.g., Patrol, Corrections, etc.). Those initially selected for further consideration will be notified of the procedures for continuation in the initial screening and selection process.
3. A determination will be made on any request for accommodation noted as to whether it can be met. This includes identifying any accommodation requested and determining if it can be met without jeopardizing the basic requirements of a job. If an accommodation cannot be met, the applicant will be informed of the specific essential tasks of a position that could not be performed, even with a requested accommodation.
4. Applicants for Corrections and/or Patrol who are selected to continue in the process will be invited by email to test with BCSO, and notified by email of the - date, time, and location of the testing and the forms and documents required to be received by BCSO from the applicant at the time of the test in order to be continue. Applicants invited to test, who confirm their attendance at the test by the given deadline, and who arrive at the test location on time and furnish to BCSO at that time all required, signed forms and documents, will be permitted to take the appropriate test (Patrol or Corrections). The Sheriff's Office will make reasonable accommodations as necessary for an applicant to take the test.

5. Applicants who fail to appear on time for the exam or who appear but fail to submit required documents and forms will not be tested at that time and may forfeit continuation in the screening process.
 - a. Applicants who complete the test and submit the required signed forms and documents at that time will be reviewed by the Deputy Chief of the functional area for which testing was administered (e.g., Patrol or Corrections). After consideration of test scores, information in the Personal History Statement, NCIC and Credit reports, confirmation of minimal requirements (age, HS diploma/GED, US citizenship, SS number, and DD-214 (for former military), and other information made available to BCSO, the most qualified applicants will be notified and invited by email to a panel interview. Those applicants not selected for a panel interview will be notified by email accordingly.
 - b. Testing of applicants through use of a written examination obtained from an organization specializing in developing and validating entry-level test instruments criminal justice jobs. These tests will be scored immediately after the tests are administered, and applicants who have failed to make the pre-established passing grade will be so advised. Those who have not made a passing grade may be invited to retest at a later date.
 6. Applicants invited to a panel interview are notified by email and/or phone of the date and time of their interview and given instructions on location, what to bring, what to wear (and what not to wear), and information about the panel interview. The panel interview is typically composed of 3-4 uniformed officers of varying rank in the functional area with open positions. All applicants are asked the same questions, with variation on one or two questions specific to their application or information submitted to or obtained by BCSO. Applicants are scored on their answers and a recommendation made as to their continuation in the process. The Deputy Chief over the functional area (e.g., Corrections or Patrol) meets the interviewed applicants informally after the panel interview.
 7. The Deputy Chief then reviews the file content of each applicant interviewed and selects the best qualified to advance in the process. Those applicants not selected to advance are notified by email. Those applicants selected to advance are notified by email that their file is being sent to an investigator who will conduct a preliminary background investigation.

8. After completion of a full and routine background investigation and satisfactory resolution of any questions from the investigator, the background investigation report is generated, and the applicant's file is again reviewed by the Deputy Chief. In the event there are more qualified applicants at this stage than open positions, the Deputy Chief selects the most qualified applicants from the group and authorizes the issuance of a "Conditional Offer of Probationary Employment" letter to those applicants for whom an open position is available and funded. This letter contains instructions on next steps in the process.
9. After completion of the physical exam, drug screen, psychological evaluation and polygraph exam by the applicant who received the "conditional offer" letter, the Deputy Chief again reviews the applicant's file to determine if any test results disqualify the applicant from further consideration. If no disqualifying test results occur (i.e., the applicant successfully completes and passes the psychological evaluation, physical exam, drug screen, and polygraph exam), and if a position for which the applicant was screened is open and funded, the applicant's current employer will be contacted in order to finalize the background investigation. If no disqualifying information is learned during that contact, the applicant will receive an "Offer of Probationary Employment" with a stated salary and a specific start date.
10. The Human Resources Director, or designee, will maintain contact with applicants from initial application to final selection disposition. Applicants who complete the screening process but are not hired will remain on an "eligibility list" for further consideration for a period of one year. After the one year period expires, the applicant must re-apply, be selected to continue in the screening process and successfully complete all steps to be eligible for further consideration.

E. Administrative Practices and Procedures

1. Lateral entry is allowed at the patrol deputy and corrections officer level when the Chief Deputy, after evaluating an applicant's prior related service with another agency, can recommend to the Sheriff appointment to a salary level higher than entry level. At the discretion of the Sheriff, lateral entry may be allowed for any position that may require special talents or professional capabilities not found within the Sheriff's Office. Lateral entry personnel will be given a 1 for 2 credit for qualified previous experience, i.e. 2 years previous experience equates to 1 year credit with BCSO.
2. Applicants who have been rejected for cause (background investigation) may be allowed to reapply in one year, or within a different time period if specified in an email to them.
3. Applicants rejected due to initial test scores being below cut off on the written test will be allowed to reapply and be retested if chosen during the next selection process.

4. At the time an application is successfully submitted on line and the applicant is selected for advancement to the next step in the process, the applicant is informed of all elements of the selection process, and is provided a summary of the information contained in this section as well as the expected duration of the selection process.
5. The Human Resources Director, will inform applicants in writing, not chosen to continue in the selection process.
6. The Human Resources Director will ensure that records of ineligible applicants are retained for a period of 1 year, after which they are disposed of in accordance with federal, state, and local requirements for privacy, security, and freedom of information. These files are maintained securely in the Human Resources Office and the Administrative Captain's Office.

F. Background Investigations

1. Background investigations will be conducted by personnel trained in background investigation techniques. Personal reference interviews will be conducted on all applicants.

3. Applicants are required to provide whatever releases necessary that will permit investigators to complete a background investigation.
4. Background investigations will be conducted on civilian applicants to ensure that all persons employed by the Sheriff's Office are qualified and have suitable backgrounds compatible with the goals and objectives of the Sheriff's Office.
5. The Human Resources Director will ensure that the record of each Applicant's background investigation, to include physical exam, drug screen, psychological evaluation and polygraph exam is:

- a. Maintained, to the extent permitted by law, in the confidential section of each successful Applicant's personnel file.
- b. Maintained for 1 year in a disqualified applicants' file. Names of all new applicants will be screened against available files, and when a prior file is found, the Chief Deputy will review such information to determine further eligibility for candidacy.

H. Polygraph Examinations

Polygraph examinations will be used in the selection process, and are conducted only by trained, certified personnel as required by TCA 62-27-107 et. Seq., and in compliance with GO 4.09 located in the Sheriff's Office Policy and Procedures Manual. Applicants are provided with an orientation relating to the polygraph process as a part of the testing process, and advised of the areas from which polygraph questions will be drawn prior to the examination. Polygraph examinations as a part of the selection process are used only as an investigative aid and not as a single determinant of employment eligibility.

I. Probationary Period

1. All employees are required to complete a 12-month probationary period. During the probationary period, all patrol deputies and corrections officers must complete an on-the-job training ("field training") program as prescribed in their respective policies and procedures manuals.
2. After completing the required field training program, probationary work performance will be evaluated monthly for the remainder of the 12-month probation period. (See Chapter 4, Performance Evaluation)
3. The Chief Deputy, upon recommendation of a captain and the concurrence of a Deputy Chief, may extend a probation period for up to an additional 12 months.

J. Agreement to Reimburse the Sheriff's Office for Expenses Related to Employment

When offered employment with the Sheriff's Office, applicants will be asked to sign an agreement (see Appendix 7) which provides that if the applicant voluntarily resigns prior to completion of 3 years of employment, he or she may be required to reimburse the Sheriff's Office based on the following schedule:

1. If the applicant voluntarily leaves during the first year, he or she will be required to reimburse the Sheriff's Office for 100% of the costs and expenses incurred in training the applicant.
2. If the applicant voluntarily leaves after the first year and before the end of the second year, he or she will be required to reimburse the Sheriff's Office for 50% of the costs and expenses incurred in training the applicant.

Training Supervisors, after consultation with the Deputy Chief of Administration, the deputy chief where the employee is assigned, and the Chief Deputy, will determine the amount of reimbursement, which, if required, will be made to the Sheriff's Office within 6 months of the date of separation.

K. Employment of Relatives

The Sheriff's Office does not prohibit employment of a member of a current employee's immediate family, provided that the current employee does not exercise any direct control over the employment, or the employment activities of the member or his/her immediate family, and the current employee is not in a position to influence those activities. Questions concerning the interpretation or application of this section should be directed to the Chief Deputy.

L. Employment Date (Date of Hire)

Employment will become effective as of the date on which the employee officially begins the performance of the duties of the position. This will include new employee orientation and training. So far as is practical, effective dates will be established at the beginning of a pay period. Only the Chief Deputy may make exceptions to this policy.

M. Reinstatement and Re-employment

1. Reinstatement: When an employee returns to work from an authorized leave of absence, or goes from a paid status to a non-paid status and then back into a paid status within 6 months, and has completed their probation, it is called "reinstatement," which means the employee will be treated as on leave without pay for the time he or she was away. Each case of re-instatement will be evaluate on a case by case basis by the Chief Deputy and/or the Sheriff to determine the length of field training required and other benefits such as leave and seniority.
2. Re-employment: When an employee terminates and is subsequently re-employed, it is termed a "re-employment". Each case of re-employment will be evaluated on a case by case basis by the Chief Deputy and/or the Sheriff to determine the length of field training required and other benefits such as leave and seniority.

N. Emergency Hiring

There may be instances where circumstances and conditions necessitate the hiring of personnel outside of the normal procedures for filling vacancies. Authority to hire on an emergency basis will be requested in writing to the Chief Deputy. No employment under this provision can be implemented prior to the approval of the Sheriff. As in normal hiring circumstances, only the Sheriff may make commitments on offering a job, a beginning salary, and starting date.

O. Temporary Employees

1. Temporary full time or part time employees are hired for a designated period of time. The Chief Deputy will set the rate of pay after consultation with the Sheriff and the Deputy Chief of Administration, and continued employment or changes in rate of pay should not be expected.
2. Full time or part time employees are occasionally hired for a specific program or project for a defined period of time. The Chief Deputy will set the rate of pay after consultation with the Sheriff and the Deputy Chief of Administration, and continued employment or changes in rate of pay should not be expected. These employees are not eligible for benefits and do not earn leave.
3. If an employee changes from temporary status to one that provides for benefits, it is viewed as a change in job status and is not necessarily treated as a promotion or demotion.
4. If a temporary employee moves to an authorized position (as defined in 1.01), it is the supervisor's responsibility to see that the employee meets with the Office Manager so that all proper forms are completed (i.e., tax forms, retirement forms, hospitalization forms, etc.).
5. A temporary employee moving from temporary to full time status must meet the requirements for employment established in this section.

P. Part-Time Employees in Authorized Positions

1. Part time employees are persons assigned to regularly work for less than 30 hours weekly. They must successfully complete a background investigation as prescribed in G. of this section as a condition of continued employment.
2. Compensation: Persons employed on a part time basis in an authorized position (as defined in 1.01), will be paid at an hourly rate set by the Sheriff based on budgetary constraints and the demands of the position as defined in the Classification Plan (see 1.04).
3. Benefits: Eligible part time employees who are scheduled to work less than 30 hours per week do not earn benefits.

Q. Transfer from Full Time to Part Time

It is the Deputy Chief of Administration's, or designee's, responsibility to inform an employee in an authorized position (as defined in 1.01) transferring from a full time to a part time status, of all changes in benefits. This should be done before the transfer is complete. The employee will need to be advised of applicable changes in benefits as referenced in the Employee Benefits Handbook.

1.07 Promotion

It shall be the policy of the Blount County Sheriff's Office to administer standardized procedures pertaining to the promotional process. Promotion is the process of selecting supervisors and middle managers through the use of testing and evaluation mechanisms that evaluate past performance and future potential. The goal of the promotional process is to examine and select the best-qualified candidates in a valid, fair, and equitable manner.

A. Promotion Responsibilities

1. The Chief Deputy is responsible for the formulation, direction, and coordination of a comprehensive promotion program including the following:
 - a. Job analysis that develops the key dimensions required of supervisory positions.
 - b. Announcements of vacancies describing the processes to be used to fill them.
 - c. Prescribing application procedures and receiving completed applications.
 - d. Disqualification of applicants who do not meet basic requirements.
 - e. Preparation of relevant examination components and procedures tailored to meet the needs of the Sheriff's Office and that are job-related and non-discriminatory.
2. The Chief Deputy is the primary contact point for the promotion process with responsibilities for:
 - a. Establishing eligibility criteria.
 - b. Assisting in the development of measurement instruments used in determining knowledge, skills, abilities, and promotion potential.

- c. Assisting in conducting oral interviews of candidates.
 - d. Selecting a candidate for promotion.
 - e. Administering probation periods.
3. The Sheriff is the primary contact point for appointment to the position of Chief Deputy and Deputy Chief.

B. Promotion Procedures

1. The Chief Deputy or designee will administer the promotion process and draft a written announcement for the promotional testing that will be prominently posted throughout the Sheriff's Office, including Juvenile Corrections located at the Blount County Courthouse and 5th Judicial Task Force office. This announcement will include the minimum qualifications needed to apply and will establish a filing deadline. This announcement will be done at the direction of the Sheriff and will typically occur during the first quarter of the fiscal year. The minimum requirements to participate in the first component of the promotional process are as follows:
 - a. Must have 3 years of experience with a law enforcement agency with 2 of those years being current continuous experience with the Blount County Sheriff's Office.
 - b. Cannot have any sub-standard semi or annual evaluations in the previous 12 months from the date of the promotional process announcement.
 - c. Cannot have any formal, documented disciplinary actions in the previous 12 months from the date of the promotional process announcement.
2. Any employee who does not meet the minimum years of experience requirement when the announcement is posted but would gain eligibility in the next 12 months from the date of the announcement may apply. Example, if the announcement is posted in July, an employee who will have 3 years experience with a law enforcement agency and 2 years current continuous experience with the Blount County Sheriff's in June of the next year would be eligible to apply.
3. Employees who meet the posted minimum position criteria are encouraged to apply for consideration. The Deputy Chief of Administration, or designee, will ensure that each applicant meets the criteria and will qualify or disqualify them accordingly. The Sheriff may amend the eligibility criteria based on the needs of the Sheriff's Office.
4. After the filing deadline has passed, the Chief Deputy or designee will provide candidates with information on the first component of the promotion process and the schedule. The first component is a written examination and will be completed by each participant and scored.
5. All applicants who complete the written examination will be placed on the eligibility list established by the Chief Deputy. There will be no passing score or numerical weight assigned on the written test, just a listing of scores from highest to lowest. The eligibility list will be maintained for a period of up to one year from the completion date of the written test. The eligibility list may be extended for an additional year at the discretion of the Sheriff.

6. Should a position become available while the eligibility list is active, the Chief Deputy will post an announcement that specifies the position that is available along with the job description and minimum requirements for that position. Those employees who have completed the written testing phase and meet the minimum requirements that are listed in the posted job description will be contacted if chosen to continue to the next phase of the promotional process. The Sheriff may amend the minimum requirements of the job description at any time based on the needs of the Sheriff's Office.
7. The Sheriff will determine which applicants will continue to the next phase of the promotional process based on their past work history and job performance as known by the Sheriff. The Sheriff may consult his command staff, if needed, to receive input as to an employee's job performance. This phase of the promotional process is an oral interview that is conducted by the Sheriff or his designee. There will be no numerical weight assigned to the oral interviews.
8. Those employees not chosen to participate in the oral interviews will still maintain their position on the eligibility list. Anyone not promoted of an eligibility list may reapply for promotion during the next promotional process.
9. The Sheriff may use the "rule of five" in all promotions. Under the "rule of five," the candidate to be promoted may be selected from among the participants who scored in the top five. When more than one vacancy is to be filled by competitive evaluation, the rule of five may be adjusted accordingly.
10. The Chief Deputy will make results of the promotional process available to applicants by personal appointment if requested, advising each candidate as to their standing, and counseling each as to appropriate career development needs and means to improve potential for promotion.
11. The Sheriff will announce his decision at a department-wide meeting and/or memo.
12. Promotions in every case will involve a definite increase in duties and responsibilities, and will not be made merely for the purpose of affecting an increase in compensation.
13. Promotion qualifications are indicated in the job descriptions as presented in the Sheriff's Office Classification Plan.

C. Promotion Process Components

Elements of the promotion process are designed to ensure that they are job related and nondiscriminatory.

1. Scored Components

- a. Written Tests: Candidates will be given a written test prepared within the agency or by other organizations that are job-related, non-discriminatory and appropriate for the Blount County Sheriff's Office. There will be no passing score or numerical weight assigned on written promotional examinations, just a listing of scores from highest to lowest.
- b. Oral Interview (if selected): The Sheriff and / or the Chief Deputy will supervise and coordinate oral interviews.

D. Probationary Period

1. A probationary period is important to the promotion process and will be used to observe a promoted employee's work, easing the adjustment to their new position. The probationary period for all promotional appointments will be for a period of 12 months. Every 30 days during the probationary period, the promoted employee's immediate supervisor will evaluate his or her willingness and ability to perform their duties satisfactorily (see Chapter 4, Performance Evaluation).
2. An employee may be removed from a promotional appointment at any time during the probationary period and returned to their previous position at the lower rate of pay.

E. Appeals

1. Employees may challenge any aspect of a promotion process. Any of the following may be the subject for an appeal:
 - a. An adverse decision concerning eligibility.
 - b. Review of the answer key of any written examination.
 - c. Review of written results of scored elements of the process.
 - d. Re-application, retesting, and/or reevaluation.
2. Employees wishing to appeal any aspect of the promotion process must reduce their appeal to writing and present it directly to the Chief Deputy within 10 working days of completion of the promotion process.
3. The Chief Deputy will respond with a decision on the appeal within 10 working days of receipt of the written appeal.
4. Employees who wish to appeal the decision of the Chief Deputy will forward their appeal to the Sheriff within 5 working days, and the Sheriff will respond within 10 working days of receipt of the written appeal. The decision of the Sheriff will be final.

F. Miscellaneous Matters Relating to Promotion

1. This section of the manual serves as a standard operating procedure

(Reviewed 01/30/2020, 03/01/2022, Approved by County Commission 05/21/2020)

governing the promotion process, and employees desiring to enter a promotion process will review this material carefully.

2. Lateral entry into the promotion process from other agencies outside the Sheriff's Office is not normally allowed. Lateral entries will be at the discretion of the Sheriff. Eligibility requirements will be determined based on experience, training, education, and needs of the Sheriff's Office.
3. Promotional material is considered confidential, and is stored in a locked file cabinet in the locked office of the Administrative Captain. Only those involved in the administration of the promotion process are permitted access to these files at any time.
4. The promotion process will be reviewed annually by the Chief Deputy or designee and revised as required.

1.08 Transfer

A transfer occurs when an employee is moved from one position to another, either voluntarily or involuntarily, and may be with the same or different pay status.

A. Voluntary Transfer

1. An employee may request a voluntary transfer in writing indicating specific reasons for the change. Acceptable justification for a transfer may be (but not limited to) a change in the health status of an employee, a change in the mental attitude toward a job to the extent an employee feels he or she is not able to perform up to the expectations of the position, among others.
2. After completing a request that fully indicates the reasons for the request, an employee will forward the request to their supervisor who will review the request and document in writing his or her recommendation for either approval or disapproval of the request, and forward it to the appropriate Deputy Chief. The Deputy Chief, the Chief Deputy, and the Deputy Chief of Administration, or designee, will review the request, and the Chief Deputy will either approve or disapprove the request based on the validity of the request as well as the operational and budgetary ability to make the transfer.
3. The Chief Deputy will render a decision through the chain of command back to the requesting employee either approving the transfer, or stipulating the reason for denying the request.

B. Involuntary Transfer

1. An involuntary transfer may be the result of disciplinary action or as a part of a program of remedial training designed to make an employee better able to meet the expectations of his or her position.

2. The Chief Deputy will approve all involuntary transfers after recommendation by the appropriate Deputy Chief.
3. An employee may appeal any involuntary transfer through the grievance procedures established in 1.11 of this manual.
4. Any employee transferred for any reason is subject to a conditional 12-month probationary period that may or may not be subject to certain conditions relating to continued employment, especially in the case of an involuntary transfer related to disciplinary action.

Subject Index: Human Resources Rules and Regulations Manual, Chapter 1, Human Resources Administration	Distribution: All Personnel
By order of: Sheriff James L. Berrong

1.09 Separations

A. Resignations

An employee desiring to resign from the Sheriff's Office may submit a letter to his or her supervisor setting forth their reason(s) for leaving, with a period of notice of not less than 2 weeks. Deputy Chiefs, and supervisors (through their Deputy Chief) desiring to resign, are encouraged to submit a letter to the Chief Deputy setting forth the reasons for their leaving, with a period of notice of not less than 4 weeks. A review of benefits will be offered to resigning employees upon their request.

B. Dismissals

A non-probationary employee may be dismissed for certain violations of the Codes of Ethics and Conduct found in this manual, or many of the policies and procedures found in the manuals governing the operations of the functions (see Chapter 5, Disciplinary Procedures). A non-probationary employee who believes a dismissal was without cause, may seek redress through the Administrative Review Process (see 5.05). Probationary employees may be dismissed without cause and are not eligible to use the Administrative Review Process.

C. Final Settlement

When an employee terminates, he or she will receive their final paycheck on the next regular payday, and it will include payment for all unused annual and compensatory leave based on the employee's current rate of pay at time of separation. Employees will also be entitled to payment for all unused holiday leave at the time of separation. The final paycheck may not be released to the terminating employee until all Sheriff's Office-furnished equipment (i.e., uniforms, I.D. cards, badges, equipment, weapons, manuals, and any other similar items of property) have been returned to, or accounted for by the affected function, and all financial accounts with the Sheriff's Office have been settled. The Deputy Chief of Administration will be consulted for any variation from this policy.

D. Separation Date

1. When an employee involuntary separates from the Sheriff's Office, the effective date must be the last day the employee is physically on the job. The Sheriff's Office will not be liable for matters affecting an employee following his or her physical absence from the job. It may be permissible to delay the effective date of separation by any amount of accumulated annual or compensatory leave due the separating employee. Pay for annual and holiday leave balances to eligible employees may be paid on a lump sum basis as well. Delaying the effective date must be approved by the Deputy Chief of Administration.
2. If an employee is on approved sick leave, workers' compensation leave, or leave without pay when separated, the effective date of separation will be the actual date of separation as given by the employee and approved by the Chief Deputy with consultation with the Human Resources Director and Office Manager, and not the last day physically on the job. When the effective separation date immediately precedes a holiday, the employee will not be paid for the holiday since he or she is no longer an employee.

E. Disability Separation

If an employee will be leaving the Sheriff's Office due to an illness or injury that keeps the employee from performing the essential functions of their job, the employee should contact the Office Manager to discuss benefit options. This could include long-term disability and/or disability retirement. The separation needs to be coordinated with workers' compensation benefits if the illness or injury is work related and is compensable.

F. Payments Due Deceased Employees

The death of an active employee will be reported to the Deputy Chief of Administration as soon as a function is aware of this. All payments due the deceased employee will be made payable "to the estate of" said employee. This includes compensation for hour's already worked, annual leave, accumulated compensatory time, and any refunds or reimbursements due the employee. This regulation is for the protection of the employee's estate and helps to ensure that payments made by the County do not mistakenly fall into the wrong person's possession.

By order of: Sheriff James L. Berrong

1.10 Personnel Records

- A. The Office Manager maintains personnel records for all Sheriff's Office employees, including records and information required to make the human resources function effective. An employee has the right to review his or her file during working hours by scheduling an appointment with the Office Manager. If an employee finds information that he or she believes is inaccurate, they may request in writing that it be changed or purged. Employees are encouraged to provide information (e.g., letters of commendation, community recognition, education) to the Office Manager for inclusion in their files.
- B. Supervisors may review the file of any employee, or prospective employee, under their direction by contacting the Office Manager. Files are not normally removed from the Office Manager's office without a court order or directions from the Sheriff or Chief Deputy.
- C. Requests for verification of employment and references for current or past employees are handled through the Office Manager, and are provided only if an employee supplies a signed authorization for the Office Manager to do so. Other Sheriff's Office employees are not (repeat: not) to provide information regarding their fellow employees or ex-employees to other individuals, businesses, or outside agencies. The Sheriff or Chief Deputy may approve exceptions to this policy on a case-by-case basis.
- D. Employee Identification
1. Employment requires identification through the use of an identification card that is provided at no expense to the employee. The card will be issued on or about the new employee's hire date. An employee's supervisor will coordinate any changes to an issued ID card.

2. Upon termination, an ID card is to be returned to the employee's supervisor who in turn will return it promptly in to the Deputy Chief of Administration.
3. Most positions in the Sheriff's Office require the wearing of a uniform and/or badge as well as the issuance of special equipment and/or tools. This equipment is normally provided at no cost and is usually a condition of employment. Upon termination or movement into another position, this equipment will be returned to the Quarter Master or appropriate person as designated by a Deputy Chief or designee. Payment for damaged or destroyed equipment may be withheld from an employee's final paycheck if settlement is not resolved prior to the date of the final paycheck (see 1.09).

E. Personal Information

It is an employee's responsibility to see that their supervisor is notified of any changes in his or her personal information such as name, mailing address, telephone number, marital status, disability status, residency, name of person to contact in case of emergency, etc., and that the Office Manager be notified of these changes to ensure that personnel records are current. It is essential that this information be kept up-to-date. If an employee does not make such changes in a timely fashion, any problems occasioned by the use of out-of-date information are the responsibility of the employee.

Subject Index: Human Resources Rules and Regulations Manual, Chapter 1, Human Resources Administration	Distribution: All Personnel
By order of: Sheriff James L. Berrong

1.11 Grievance Procedures

It is the policy of the Sheriff's Office to provide a procedure for the mutual adjustment of misunderstandings or disagreements that arise between and among employees and their supervisors, and to assure employees their problems and complaints are considered fairly, impartially, quickly, and without reprisal.

- A. A grievance is defined as a misunderstanding, a complaint, a point of view, or an opinion pertaining to the following: work conditions; relationships between employees and supervisors; or, relationships with other employees. Misunderstandings, complaints, points of view, and opinions are considered a grievance except in cases where they relate to personnel actions arising out of position classification, pay, demotion, suspension, or dismissal. There are separate appeals processes for these actions (see 1.07, Promotions and Chapter 5, Disciplinary Procedures). The Chief Deputy, or designee, is responsible for coordinating all grievance procedures and for the maintenance and control of grievance records.

B. Grievance Procedures

1. An employee, within 30 working days of an incident or occurrence that creates an alleged grievance, will notify their supervisor in writing of a grievance with copies forwarded by chain of command to the appropriate Deputy Chief, and the Chief Deputy.
2. An employee will use the Grievance Form or memo (Appendix 8) to submit their grievance that will include, at a minimum, the following information:
 - a. A written statement of the incident or occurrence which gives rise to the grievance and the facts upon which it is based.
 - b. A written statement of the remedy or adjustment sought.

3. Within 10 working days of receipt of a written grievance, the employee's supervisor will respond in writing to the employee. The supervisor's written response will include, at a minimum:
 - a. Date and time the grievance was received.
 - b. Analysis of the facts or allegations.
 - c. Affirming or denying, in writing, the allegations in the grievance.
 - d. Identifying the remedy or adjustment, if any, to be made.
 - e. Supervisor's signature.
4. The supervisor's response will be forwarded to the Deputy Chief and Chief Deputy via chain of command. The Chief Deputy will maintain a file of all grievances. If an employee is not satisfied with the response to the grievance, they have 5 days to present it to the Chief Deputy, at which time the matter will enter the Administrative Review Process (see 5.05).
5. There is no representation by an attorney or any other person at a Level 1 hearing of the Administrative Review Process in relation to any grievance matter.
6. The Chief Deputy, or designee, will conduct the Level 1 hearing and make a decision, advising the grievant in writing of the decision within 10 working days after the conclusion of the hearing. The written response from the Chief Deputy will address the same issues as did the supervisor's written response, and a copy will be placed in the employee's personnel file.
7. If the grievance cannot be resolved to the satisfaction of the employee, or if the Chief Deputy fails to render a written decision within the 10 working days, the employee may submit the grievance to the Sheriff who will have the final authority to amend, reverse, or confirm the decision of the Chief Deputy. The Sheriff will notify the employee in writing of his decision within 5 working days after receipt of the grievance from the employee.
8. The Chief Deputy will annually review employee grievances, as well as supporting policies and practices to identify trends to minimize future grievances and prepare a report to the Sheriff indicating his findings.
9. Unless the grievance is ruled unfounded, a copy of the grievance will be placed in the employee's personnel file. If there is disciplinary action involved, the grievance will stay in the employee's personnel file for the same duration as the disciplinary action.

Written Directive Subject: Harassment	Type/Action: <input type="checkbox"/> New <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Amends <input type="checkbox"/> Rescinds

Subject Index: Human Resources Rules and Regulations Manual, Chapter 1, Human Resources Administration	Distribution: All Personnel
By order of: Sheriff James L. Berrong

1.12 Harassment

Harassment of any kind is not acceptable behavior and is inconsistent with the commitment of the Sheriff's Office to create a work environment in which every employee can work without being harassed. Harassment, therefore, may lead to sanctions up to and including dismissal.

Harassment is any conduct, verbal or physical, that has the intent or effect of unreasonably interfering with a person's work performance, or creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment. Harassment on the basis of race, color, gender, disability, religion, national origin, or age includes harassment of a person in terms of a stereotypes group characteristic, or of that person's identification with a particular group. Sexual harassment may take many forms. Sexual assault and requests for sexual favors that affect employment decisions constitute sexual harassment. However, sexual harassment may also consist of unwanted physical contact, requests for sexual favors, visual displays of degrading sexual images, sexually suggestive conduct, or offensive remarks of a sexual nature.

The Sheriff's Office is committed to stopping harassment and associated retaliatory behavior. Supervisors have a responsibility to act to stop any type of harassment in their commands. Any employee who feels harassed is encouraged to seek assistance and resolution of a complaint. The Sheriff's Office provides a variety of avenues by which an employee who feels harassed may proceed, so that each person may choose an avenue appropriate to his or her particular situation. These procedures (presented below) are intended to protect the rights of both the complainant and respondent, to protect privacy, and to prevent reprisal.

- A. What Is and Is Not Harassment -- This section is intended to help employees deal with a wide spectrum of offensive behavior, whether or not a formal investigation would find the behavior to constitute harassment. A formal investigation requires that a complainant prove the complaint, and the process is quite restrictive with respect to definitions in formal investigative processes, and insists upon fairness. However, offensive behavior considered harassment does not have to be found through a formal investigation process to constitute harassment in order for steps to be taken to get it to stop.

1. Examples of Behavior that Might be Found to be Harassment (some of them are criminal in nature):

- a. Assault and battery of any kind.
 - b. Overt threats.
 - c. Serious intimidation.
 - d. Stalking behavior.
 - e. Repeated refusal to take no for an answer.
 - f. Obscene messages on voice mail or computer internet or intranet mail.
 - g. Threats of reprisal and actual reprisal.
 - h. Sexual bribes and blackmail.
 - i. Repeated unwanted and unwelcome touching or kissing.
 - j. Physically restraining someone against his or her will.
 - k. Degrading, public tirades against an employee.
 - l. Deliberate, repeated humiliation of another, or group of people.
- 2. An unfounded harassment complaint deemed to have been made in malice would be treated as a serious offense. Dishonesty in the context of a formal investigation relating to any type of harassment would be treated as a serious offense.

3. Examples of Behavior That are Not (or Probably are Not) Harassment:

- a. Everyday administrative actions – In order to get work done, supervisors often must make difficult decisions, such as changing an employee's assignment, shift, or other work related activities. Such decisions may or may not please people, but normally do not constitute harassment.
- b. Performance evaluation – Supervisors have the responsibility to give appropriate criticism and to take corrective action when the work of an employee is not satisfactory. Such criticism, however, should be made in a reasonable manner, be constructive, and may not be used in a retaliatory manner.
- c. Intimate personal relationships between a supervisor and an employee, or between employees – Such relationships in themselves do not constitute harassment, but anyone who believes that his or her behavior may be in conflict with the interests of the Sheriff's Office is responsible for seeking advice about the situation, and for taking responsible action to avoid or end any such conflict. Even in the absence of any problems, intimate relationships between a supervisor and employee, or between employees, can lead to harassment complaints by third parties, and there may also be a complaint by one of the participants if the relationship ends.

- d. Social situations – If an employee is repeatedly turned down for a date, it is not harassment for the unwilling person to stop talking socially with the person turned down.
 - e. Behavior that may be offensive, whether or not it is harassment – There is a wide range of ambiguous behavior, or behavior that might offend some people, but not necessarily others. Examples might include: a second polite request for a date from a co-worker; comments about another employee's clothing; compliments about improved appearance; non-destructive practical jokes that most people of the same gender or race find reasonable.
- 4. Supervisors have a special responsibility to avoid potentially unacceptable behavior, such as telling off-color stories, making personal remarks, or losing their temper, any of which might intimidate or offend other supervisors and employees under their command. They have an even stronger responsibility to avoid all forms of clear harassment. The actions of supervisors represent not only their views about what constitutes acceptable behavior, but what the Sheriff's Office considers acceptable behavior as well. Both the Sheriff's Office and individual supervisors can be held accountable for unacceptable behavior.
 - 5. Reprisal against anyone who brings a complaint in good faith concerning any form of harassment is not only a violation of Sheriff's Office policy and procedures, but may be violation of state and federal laws. Proven reprisal will be considered a serious offense.
- B. What To Do If Harassed – If an employee feels he or she is being harassed in any way, the complaint should be addressed as promptly as possible. Resolving a complaint should mean, at a minimum, that the employee is no longer being harassed and there is no reprisal from the alleged harasser. This can happen in a number of ways, with or without disciplinary action against a harasser, and with or without a record of the complaint, depending on the option chosen.

1. Initial Response

- a. Don't ignore offensive behavior – As a rule, ignoring offensive behavior is not an effective way of changing that behavior. Sometimes it makes sense to ignore an incident once or twice, especially if the employee feels there has been a misunderstanding. However, employees of the Sheriff's Office are expected to conform to a strict set of rules, regulations, policies, and procedures, therefore offensive behavior is discouraged, especially in circumstances where an employee cannot avoid contact with the harasser and the employee continues to feel harassed.
- b. Talk about it – If an employee is being harassed, he or she may begin to find that they have difficulty concentrating, cannot sleep or eat, have a quick temper, and may begin to doubt their own abilities and judgment, even to the point of having health problems. If an employee feels that he or she is being harassed, they may want to tell a discreet, trusted co-worker, a friend, a family member, or possibly request to contact the employee assistance program, discussing the facts, how the employee feels about them, and begin to get a handle on emotions that may become uncontrollable.

- c. Write about it – An employee who feels he or she is being harassed may want to write down the account of an incident(s) and what he or she feels should happen to correct the situation. Writing helps to organize thoughts and to decide, based on the options available, what to do next.
2. Choose an Option – The options available in responding to harassment will depend of the seriousness of the incident(s), the type of resolution the person harassed wishes to take, and the extent to which there is evidence of an offense. The options available to resolve a charge of harassment include:
 - a. The direct approach – If an employee feels he or she has been harassed, an effective approach may be to approach the offender, either in person or in writing, in order to try to resolve the issue, which may be nothing more than a misunderstanding. An employee is not required to inform a supervisor of the incident, but the employee should keep copies of anything written, and should be accompanied by a trusted friend or fellow employee to vouch for the fact that the employee made an effort to confront a situation without a formal inquiry. If a supervisor was informed of the possibility of a harassment situation, he or she should follow up with the complainant and the offender to ensure the problem has been resolved and that there is no reprisal.
 - b. Informal third party intervention – A complainant may request that someone, possibly a co-worker, a supervisor, or a close friend, serve as a go-between in an effort to informally resolve a problem. This type of intervention may result in a reassignment or an informal agreement to discontinue whatever activity or situation is causing a problem. This approach assumes that the accused party will accept the resolution, and may require a supervisor (if involved) to ensure the problem has been resolved and that there is no reprisal.
 - c. Formal investigation and judgment – To pursue a formal complaint, an employee must put the complaint in writing and take it directly to the Chief Deputy, who may appoint the Internal Affairs Investigator to conduct an investigation. This process requires that the alleged offender is informed and has a reasonable opportunity to respond to the major elements of the complaint(s) and evidence against him or her. In a formal investigation, the preponderance of the evidence must establish that harassment has occurred for a complaint to be found justified. The alleged offender is assumed innocent unless proven otherwise, and the burden of proof will be on the complainant.
3. Confidentiality – The Sheriff's Office will strive to maintain privacy in matters of harassment to the greatest extent possible regardless of the option chosen by a complainant. Although a third party or an investigator will try to maintain as much privacy as possible, there can be no guarantee of complete confidentiality under all circumstances. The more formal the complaint, the less likely that complete confidentiality can be maintained. For example, in a formal complaint the offender must be informed, witnesses must be identified and questioned, that may include supervisors, co-workers, among others. This should not stop an employee who feels he or she is being harassed from making efforts to stop the situation, but if an employee does not want anyone to know that they are involved in a harassment situation, as mentioned above the employee assistance program may be an alternative.

4. Follow Up – Whatever option is chosen to resolve a harassment situation, it is important to follow up to ensure the harassment does not recur, or if there is evidence that retaliation has occurred. Retaliation by someone who has been identified as a harasser is a serious violation of Sheriff's Office policies and procedures, and may result in dismissal.

The Blount County Sheriff's Office does not tolerate the harassment of applicants, employees, customers, or vendors. Any form of harassment relating to an individual's race, color, sex (including same sex), religion, age, national origin, handicap or disability, citizenship status, veteran status, political affiliation, retaliation for protected activity, or any other protected activity or category is a violation of this policy and will be treated as a disciplinary matter.

Violation of this policy may result in disciplinary action, up to and including immediate termination.

If you have any questions about what constitutes harassing behavior or what conduct is prohibited by this policy, please discuss the questions with your immediate supervisor. At a minimum, the term "harassment" as used in this policy includes:

- Offensive remarks, comments, jokes, slurs, or verbal conduct pertaining to an individual's race, color, sex, religion, age, national origin, handicap or disability, citizenship status, or any other protected category
- Offensive pictures, drawings, photographs, or other graphic conduct or communications, including e-mail, faxes, and copies pertaining to an individual's race, color, sex, religion, age, national origin, handicap or disability, citizenship status, or any other protected category
- Offensive sexual remarks, sexual advances, or requests for sexual favors regardless of the gender of the individuals involved
- Offensive physical conduct, including touching, regardless of the gender of the individuals involved
- Threatening an employee for refusing to respond to requests for sexual favors, for reporting a violation of this policy, or for participating in an investigation conducted under this policy.

Our supervisors and managers are also covered by this policy and are prohibited from engaging in any form of harassing conduct. No supervisor or other member of management has the authority to suggest to any applicant or employee that employment or advancement will be affected by the individual entering into (or refusing to enter into) a personal relationship with the supervisor or manager. Such conduct is a direct violation of this policy.

Harassment of our employees in connection with their work by non-employees also may be a violation of this policy. Any employee who experiences or observes any harassment of an employee by a non-employee should report such harassment to a member of management or the human resources department.

Employees who believe that our No Harassment policy may have been violated should immediately report the matter to their immediate supervisor. If the matter involves your immediate supervisor or another manager, or if you believe that a previously reported matter was not handled to your satisfaction, you should immediately contact the Director of Human Resources, or the Chief Deputy. You should report any actions that you believe may violate our policy no matter how slight the actions may seem.

We will investigate the report and, where appropriate, take prompt remedial action including disciplinary action up to and including immediate termination. The Blount County Sheriff's Office will protect the confidentiality of employees making complaints about suspected violations of this or any other policy to the extent possible consistent with our investigation and applicable law.

You will not be penalized or retaliated against for reporting improper conduct, harassment, or other actions that you sincerely believe violate this policy.

We are serious about enforcing our policy against harassment. However, we cannot resolve a potential policy violation unless we know about it. You are responsible for bringing your concerns about possible policy violations to our attention so that we can take appropriate actions to address your concerns.

The Salary Plan may be amended by the Sheriff, as appropriate, within budgetary limits set by the Blount County Commission.

B. Interpretation and Effect of the Salary Plan

1. Entrance Rate: Except as provided below, the entrance rate for a position in any class will be the minimum step in the skill level for that class, unless training, experience, and the relevant labor market, support a higher step as determined by the Chief Deputy and Sheriff. An entrance step below the minimum may be paid during a training period when the appointee is not fully qualified and when there is no other suitable, fully qualified applicant. Newly hired Corrections and Patrol Deputies will be classified as a Deputy in Training for the first six months of employment while they complete the appropriate academies and training programs. The Chief Deputy and the Sheriff will make the final determination regarding the appropriate step for newly hired employees, to include lateral entry personnel. Lateral entry is allowed at the Patrol Deputy and Corrections Deputy level when the Chief Deputy, after evaluating an applicant's prior related service with another agency, can recommend to the Sheriff appointment to a salary level higher than entry level. Lateral entry personnel will be given a 1 for 2 credit for qualified previous experience, i.e. 2 years previous experience equates to 1 year credit with BCSO.

2. Promotion: When promoted from one classification to another, an employee may receive a pay increase or be placed in the first step in the skill level of the higher classification. The Sheriff has full authority to authorize a promoted employee be placed in any step in the classification they were promoted to. The Sheriff will determine the effective date of a promotion. Although promotions do not affect annual performance evaluation dates, promoted employees are placed in a promotion probationary status for a period of 12 months. If during this probationary period an employee fails to meet the higher expectations of a position, he or she may be returned to their previous position at their former skill level and step. A close family member of another present employee will not be promoted into a direct supervisory or subordinate relationship with that employee (see 1.07).
3. Demotion:
 - a. When an employee is demoted, voluntary or involuntary, their pay should be decreased by the amount of their first pay increase when initially promoted. Example, an employee is promoted and they receive a $2,000.00 pay increase, the employee is demoted and their pay decreases $2,000.00. The Sheriff has full authority to determine a different step in a skill level for a demotion, but all demotions should carry a decrease in pay. The effective date of a demotion will be determined by the Sheriff or Chief Deputy.
 - b. An employee may be involuntarily demoted due to a failure to meet minimum qualifications of their job to a position for which they qualify. Upon any demotion an employee will be placed in a conditional probation status for a period of 12 months that will not affect annual performance evaluation dates. Continuation in the position to which demoted will be subject to continued satisfactory performance.
4. Transfer: Occurs when an employee moves from one position to another, at which time the employee will be placed in the same step (or a step lower or higher) which appropriately reflects their training and experience for the new position. For career enhancement purposes, an employee may move from one classification to another that has a lower skill level and step in which case there would be a corresponding decrease in pay. Length of service in a higher skill level position and other special circumstances may be considered when determining the proper step. Upon transfer, employees are placed in a probationary status for a period of 12 months. Transfers that involve a lateral move or a decrease in skill level and step may be made without a competitive process after consultation with the Chief Deputy. A Deputy Chief or designee will determine the effective date of a transfer subject to the approval of the Deputy Chief of Administration.

5. Reclassification of Position: If a position is reclassified upward and an incumbent is assigned to the higher-level position, salary consideration will be treated as a promotion. If a position is reclassified downward and an incumbent is assigned to a lower level position, salary consideration will be treated as a demotion. However, the skill level and step for a reclassified employee will not be any higher than the top step of the skill level for the new classification. Movement under a reclassification is not step-for-step. The Chief Deputy will make the final determination regarding the employee's skill level and step in the Compensation Plan. An incumbent in a position that is reclassified must meet all minimum qualification requirements for that reclassified position.

6. Pay Increases

- a. Pay increases are awarded annually at the beginning of the fiscal year based on acceptable job performance as documented in the semi-annual performance evaluation program (see Chapter 4, Performance Evaluation). New employees hired (or re-employed) after April 30 may not be eligible for a pay increase until their hiring anniversary date.
 - b. A Deputy Chief or designee can disapprove or delay a step increase if an employee's performance is not at the required level. The final authority with respect to performance evaluations and pay increases rests with the Chief Deputy. No performance evaluation is final until an employee's function head, a Deputy Chief, and/or the Chief Deputy approves it.
 - c. Types of pay increases (Based on availability of funds):
 - 1) Step Increase -- To receive a step increase within a skill level an employee must receive an acceptable or better performance evaluation rating.
 - 2) Extraordinary Pay Increase -- The Sheriff may authorize an extraordinary pay increase under extraordinary circumstances after consultation with the command staff.
 - 3) Increases If Hired Above Step 1: Employees hired at a step higher than entry level, as approved by the Chief Deputy, will be eligible to receive a pay increase in accordance with intervals outlined above. Such employees still must complete a probationary period with performance evaluations consistent with the appropriate rating.
7. Levels of Pay: All levels of pay based on the skill levels and steps as outlined in the Compensation Plan are those authorized for full time employment for 12 months with allowances for holidays and approved leaves of absence with pay (i.e., annual leave).

C. Rates of Pay for Temporary and Part Time Employees (Revised 1/4/11)

1. Persons employed on a part time and/or temporary basis are paid at an hourly rate determined by the Chief Deputy.

2. Persons employed for a specified period of time, or for a specific task(s), will be paid on an hourly rate determined by the Chief Deputy, based on information received from a supervisor regarding the duties to be performed and the skills needed to accomplish the task.
3. No temporary appointment will be longer than 60 days, and time spent in a temporary status will not be used to meet requirements for benefits afforded employees in authorized positions as defined by 1.01. Continuous temporary employment immediately preceding employment in an authorized position in the same class as defined by 1.01 (and where duties are identical) may be used in determining a level of compensation.
4. Employees may be hired in a part time status for less than 30 hours per week for an extended period. Part time employees have no right to continued employment, or expectation of any change in the level of compensation, benefits, or continued employment.

D. Pay for Serving in an Acting Capacity

Whenever an employee (whether exempt or non-exempt) is required to work in the capacity of a higher level supervisory or technical position for a period exceeding 1 full time card (14 days), the employee may be paid additionally for assuming those duties. Such assumption of duties must be recommended by a Deputy Chief or designee, and approved by the Chief Deputy. Remuneration will be 2 extra steps in addition to the employee's regular rate of pay, or the first step of the skill level assigned to the position/classification in which the employee is acting, whichever is greater. Eligibility for acting pay will start at the beginning of the second full pay period. A person acting in a higher-level position due to the temporary vacancy created by an incumbent using annual, compensatory, or paid military leave, is excluded from this policy. Requests for acting pay will be forwarded to the Chief Deputy for approval. Retroactive requests will not be considered and in no case will pay for serving in an acting capacity exceed 6 pay periods. The Chief Deputy may approve exceptions to this policy.

E. Paydays: Paydays are bi-weekly and based upon a 14 day period.

F. Payroll Procedures

1. Time Reporting: Function heads are responsible for ensuring that accurate information is submitted for each employee through use of Kronos. Errors and omissions of time worked or leave used may be corrected in the system prior to a function head submitting it to the Office Manager.
2. Data Submission: Any information affecting an employee's pay or records must be submitted to the Office Manager as soon as it is known. Such changes include pay changes, tax status changes, address changes, name changes, etc. All requests for manual payroll checks must be received by the Office Manager prior to 2:00 p.m. of the next regular workday after payday, and must be submitted on a Personnel Action Request Form explaining in detail (reason, number of hours, etc.), and include the function's Deputy Chief's signature. Requests made after the deadline will be considered with the next regular payroll period.

3. Changes in Pay: Any change in pay must be effective at the beginning of a pay period, and no change will be effective without the approval of the Chief Deputy.
4. Attendance Records: The Office Manager maintains records regarding work hours and accumulated leave information.

G. Longevity Pay

Employees who have been with the Sheriff's Office through June 30, 2001, are eligible to receive an annual longevity payment (in October) of $125.00 for each year of service up to June 30, 2001. There will be no credit given for any years of service beyond June 30, 2001.

H. Field Training Officer Pay (Added 02/08/12)

Employees assigned as Field Training Officers will be eligible for a $600.00 per year salary increase in addition to their base salary. The $600.00 salary increase will be paid between May and June of each year. FTO's will also be able to earn ½ hour of overtime pay for each day that the FTO is training a new employee as part of that employee's Field Training Program. Overtime pay will be paid at the Deputy's base salary rate, not the rate that includes the $600.00 salary increase.

I. Emergency Medical Responders (EMRs) (Added 03/18/2020)

Employees selected as an Emergency Medical Responder (EMR), who successfully complete the necessary training to become an EMR Deputy, and retain the continuing education requirements within the Program, will be compensated $4,000.00 annually.

J. Fluent Speaking (Added 03/18/2020)

Employees who are fluent at speaking and translating in different languages will be compensated $1,200.00 annually.

2.02 Overtime and Compensatory Time

- A. Employees may be required to work overtime. The standard 7-day workweek begins on Sunday (0001) and ends on Saturday, and overtime for employees not covered by the special exemption for law enforcement and corrections officers as provided in the FLSA, is computed as time worked above each shift. Employees (deputies and corrections officers) who fall under the special exemption may work above each shift before being paid FLSA overtime. Employees covered by the special exemption include POST and TCI certified employees actually working in law enforcement and corrections positions. If at all possible, Captains, or their designees, should approve overtime in advance, although this is often not possible due to operational necessity.
- B. Normally when an employee is called to work from an off duty status, compensable hours of work begin when the employee leaves his or her domicile and ends once they return to their domicile.
- C. Regular overtime are those hours worked beyond standard hours on a designated shift (i.e. 8 hours for civilian employees, Support Operations, and Criminal Investigations employees, and 10 hours for patrol deputies), and is limited to emergency, occasional peak load needs, or hours critical to public safety. The rate of pay for this type of overtime will be at the basic rate of pay as the time itself is figured at 1.5. Its use for accomplishing regular services that can be provided during a regular workday schedule should be avoided as much as possible.
- D. For purposes of computation, hours worked in a paid leave status are not considered hours worked toward eligibility for FLSA overtime. These include, but are not limited to: military, annual, sick, civil (except when considered part of the employee's job), and Worker's Compensation leaves. The only hours used in computing eligibility for FLSA overtime at the time and one-half rate are hours actually worked on the job. Holidays and closings due to adverse weather are also not considered as hours actually worked for overtime computation.

- E. Time associated with attending training related to maintaining certifications (such as in-service training required by P.O.S.T and/or T.C.I.) is not compensable. Employees involved in continuous training relating to special units (such as SWAT, CERT, K-9, Honor Guard, Dive Team, etc.), must, as much as possible, have employees use flextime (see definition in 1.01) within the 14-day work period.
- F. Non-exempt employees may receive compensation or compensatory time in lieu of overtime pay, depending on availability of funds. Overtime is earned at a rate of one-and-one-half hours for each hour worked over the applicable work period (over eight hours for an assigned 8 hour shift and above 10 hours for an assigned 10 hour shift). An employee who works above each shift will receive overtime compensation or compensatory time at the rate of an hour for each hour worked. An employee may not accrue more than 80 hours of compensatory time. Once this amount of overtime is accumulated, all overtime compensation must be paid providing funds are available. An employee who has accrued compensatory time upon termination of employment (for any reason, including termination for disciplinary reasons) must be paid the regular rate of pay received by the employee.
- G. Compensatory/vacation time can only be taken with approval of a supervisor, who should make every effort to comply with an employee's request for compensatory/vacation leave, as long as overtime is not needed to sustain the deputies' shift or unit. A supervisor may direct that an employee use accumulated compensatory time during periods convenient to the function's operations in an effort to minimize disruption of services during times of peak service demand.
- H. A non-exempt employee may volunteer their time (without compensation) to work in another county department or agency and not be subject to overtime, as long as the work is totally different from the work the employee normally performs. However, if a deputy were to volunteer to assist in coaching a sports team at a county school, there would be no expectation of overtime since coaching is not similar to their job with the Sheriff's Office. The Chief Deputy should be consulted to clarify any such situation to ensure that the county is not obligated to pay overtime if an employee wishes to volunteer their services for another county agency.
- I. Certified personnel working approved extra duty, may use Vacation, Compensatory, Holiday or Snow time in lieu of their regularly scheduled work hours (8 or 10) to qualify for the current extra duty rate paid. This may only be done if the regularly scheduled shift of the deputy is not left below minimum numbers of personnel that would require overtime in order to sustain the deputies' shift or unit.

2.03 On Call Pay

On call pay is compensation for those employees who are scheduled to be available when needed to handle emergency situations occurring outside of standard working hours, and is available only to full-time, non-exempt employees as determined by FLSA regulations. When conditions warrant that a function may schedule sufficient personnel to work outside of standard working hours, the following procedures should be followed:

- A. Specific individuals scheduled to be on call should be scheduled on a rotation basis consisting of 7 consecutive days per on call assignment.
- B. Individuals such as Criminal Investigators will be on a daily on call rotation.
- C. On call is considered to be a period of time when an employee is not required to remain at his or her work station or domicile, and is free to engage in his or her own pursuits, but is subject to the understanding that word be left with the Communications Center as to where he or she may be reached, and that he or she report promptly as outlined by policies and procedures relating to being in an on call status.
- D. An on call employee is guaranteed compensation equivalent to 4 hours at straight time, or overtime (if appropriate) for the time actually worked, whichever is larger, for each 7-day on call assignment. When an employee in on call status and is called back to work after hours, credit will be received for the actual time worked from the time the employee leaves his or her domicile until they return to their domicile, or 2 hours straight time, whichever is larger. An employee is never paid more for on call than actual time spent responding to calls, unless the actual time is less than 2 hours per call, or 4 hours per 7-day on call period. Once an employee has responded to a call, any additional calls received before the employee returns home are treated as one call out, and the time spent on subsequent calls is added to the original call.

- E. Employees scheduled for a daily on call rotation such as Criminal Investigators, are guaranteed compensation equivalent to 1 hour at straight time, or overtime (if appropriate) for the time actually worked, whichever is larger, for each 14 day pay period that they were on call. An employee in a daily rotation is never paid more for on call than actual time spent responding to calls, unless the actual time is less than 1 hour per 14 day pay period that they were on call.
- F. Employees are considered to be in an on call status only when so designated in writing by the appropriate authority, and a copy of the designation is forwarded to the Office Manager's office.
- G. The Sheriff will determine future changes in compensation or in the number of guaranteed on call hours.
- H. Should state or federal regulations differ from the foregoing policy, those state or federal regulations will govern those Sheriff's Office employees required to follow such policies.
- I. All employees are subject to be called out at any time, regardless of whether they are on call or not. Any non-exempt employee that is called in to work from an off duty status will be compensated. When an employee is called back to work after hours, credit will be received for the actual time worked from the time the employee leaves his or her domicile until they return to their domicile, or 2 hours straight time, whichever is larger.

2.04 Benefits

The county offers a comprehensive benefits package to all full time employees. Specific benefits plan information is available through the Office Manager, who has a copy of the Employee Benefit Guide, or through the Blount County Human Resources Office located in the Courthouse. A copy of the plan is presented to each new employee and posted on the Blount County Government website of Blounttn.org, and upgrades or amendments to the plan are provided to all employees as they are made. The benefits package includes:

A. Health Insurance

The Employee Benefits Guide is posted annually to the Blount County Government website of Blounttn.org. Employees receive an updated copy annually as well. For the most accurate information regarding benefits to include: health insurance, life insurance, dental, vision, etc., employees are urged to refer to the Employees Benefits Guide.

1. Blount County is self-insured. Claims are managed through an administrator under contract with Blount County Government. The health benefits package is part of a medical group known as Allegiance a Cigna Company that includes area hospitals, doctors, and other medical services. Questions regarding health coverage and claims can be answered by a representative of the Blount County Employee Benefits Office (273-5780) that is located at the Courthouse.
2. IMPORTANT NOTE: Your coverage under the Blount County Employee Benefits Plan can be delayed after you are on the payroll, as allowed by federal law. The plan imposes a waiting period on all new employees for coverage to begin, meaning your coverage will begin on the 1st day of the month following 30 days of employment.

3. Medical and Dental benefits will continue for the spouse of an employee involved in a Line-of-Duty Death until a life changing event such as remarriage or the point at which the spouse becomes Medicare eligible. The same benefits will also continue for dependants until the dependant ages out based upon federal law. These benefits will be paid by the Blount County Sheriff's Office.

B. Life Insurance

Blount County Government offers a basic life insurance program to all employees equivalent to an employee's annual salary up to $50,000. The county pays the premium for this coverage. There are also voluntary life insurance plans available for discounted fees based on group participation. Questions regarding the basic coverage, or the voluntary coverage plans available, can be answered by a representative of Blount County Employee Benefits Office (273-5780) located at the Courthouse.

C. Retirement

Blount County Government participates in the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System (TCRS). Employees contribute 5% of their pay. Employees are considered vested under this plan in 5 years, and up to 4 years of military service may be counted towards time in service (there are certain restrictions to the use of military time in computing creditable service for retirement). There are several different options relating to retirement that are explained in a pamphlet that is provided by TCRS, and is part of the packet of information given to each new employee during their orientation.

Summary of Provisions

Effective July 1, 2009 Blount County Government has established a Postretirement Policy to clarify the terms of all retirement benefits. The following is a summary of the Postretirement benefits available to employees.

Postretirement Medical or Dental Plan

The Postretirement Medical Care Plan permits eligible retirees, and dependents covered under the Plan at the time of the employee's retirement, to continue medical and prescription drug benefits until Medicare eligible, or age 65; whichever is earlier, the dental plan benefits will continue until age 65. The Employee Benefits Guide is posted annually to the Blount County Government website of Blounttn.org. Employees receive an updated copy annually as well. or the most accurate information regarding benefits cost to include: health insurance, life insurance, dental, vision, etc., employees are urged to refer to the Employees Benefits Guide.

The County determines cost sharing ratios on an annual basis. For current premiums, check with Human Resources.

Termination of employee coverage

Coverage will end on the earlier of the following dates:

- The day in which you become Medicare eligible, or age 65; whichever is earlier
- The last date for which you pay your share of the cost of your coverage.

Termination of spouse and dependent children coverage

The spouse's coverage will end on the earlier of the following dates:

- The date your spouse becomes Medicare eligible, or age 65; whichever is earlier
- The last date for which you pay your share of the cost of spousal coverage.

The Dependent child's coverage will end on the earliest of the following dates:

- The date the child ceases to be a dependent, as defined in the plan
- The date the dependent child attains age 26
- The last date for which you pay your share of the cost of the dependent child's coverage.

See the related coverage termination information for your spouse and dependent children in the event of your death or divorce after retirement.

If death occurs while retired

If employee's spouse is enrolled for coverage under the Postretirement Health/Dental Care Plan at employee's date of death, spouse's coverage may continue, subject to COBRA regulations.

Under these same circumstances, coverage for dependent children would continue to age to age 26, subject to COBRA regulations.

D. Income Supplement for Certified Sworn Employees

In compliance with TCA 38-8-105 and 38-8-111, qualified Police Officer Standards and Training Commission (P.O.S.T.) certified sworn employees are provided a pay supplement funded by the State Legislature. A similar program for Tennessee Corrections Institute (T.C.I.) certified sworn employees is funded by the Sheriff's Office and is subject to the following guidelines:

1. To be qualified to receive the supplement, a corrections officer must be certified under the Tennessee Corrections Institute and must successfully complete a 40-hour in-service training course approved by T.C.I.
2. Corrections officers who attend the Jail Basic School are not eligible to receive supplemental pay during that calendar year, and are not required to attend in-service training during that year. These corrections officers will be eligible to receive payment during the following calendar year after the successful completion of 40 hours of in-service training.
3. Corrections officers who have not completed 8 months of full-time service during the calendar year are not eligible for payment except in the following circumstances:
 - a. Death of the corrections officer.
 - b. Retirement.
 - c. Medical disability.

E. Tuition Reimbursement (Revised 11/21/07)

Training and Development

The Blount County Sheriff's Office is committed to the philosophy of providing the highest quality of services to the people of the County in the most efficient and economical way. Converting this philosophy into practice is dependent upon the availability of competent personnel to carry out the many complex and changing functions performed by the Sheriff's Office.

The Blount County Sheriff's Office recognizes the necessity of developing its personnel by providing training programs and opportunities for employees so as to meet the skills and knowledge requirements needed to carry out their responsibilities. Such training is to be accomplished without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, age, or any other factor which cannot be lawfully used as a basis for such action.

Effective training should secure the following results:

- Increased efficiency
- Improved services
- Lower operating costs
- Maximum safety
- More satisfied employees
- Increased promotability of employees to higher-level positions

To accomplish these ends, cooperative arrangements with other public agencies, including educational institutions, may be made.

It shall be the responsibility of the Deputy Chiefs and supervisors to identify the training needs of their employees and to convey such information to the Training Function who shall be responsible for the coordination of in-service training. However, the technical training of the uniformed bodies to meet state and/or federal certification standards shall be the exclusive responsibility of the Sheriff's Office.

It shall be the responsibility of the Sheriff, Chief Deputy, Deputy Chiefs, and supervisory personnel to promote programs for training of Sheriff's Office Employees for the purposes of improving the quality of services rendered to the citizens of Blount County and of improving employees' capabilities for advancement.

Tuition Reimbursement

Tuition reimbursement for employees is a plan, which offers financial assistance to an employee who takes college-level courses directly related to his/her work or to a position the employee might conceivably be considered for in the future and which is likely to increase his/her value to the County. This program is not specifically intended to support a full-time course of study, but is designed to enhance the quality of work that the individual brings to the job. It is provided to those employees classified as regular full-time who have satisfactorily completed one year of continuous service.

For receiving reimbursement under this policy, an employee must agree to continue in employment with the Sheriff's Office for at least one year from the date of completion of the course(s) being reimbursed and to return the reimbursement if the employee does not continue employment for at least one year. Tuition Reimbursement is available when the following requirements have been met:

1. Courses are job-relevant, college-level courses taken at an institution that is accredited (as recognized by the US Department of Education, Office of Postsecondary Education), found at <http://www.ope.ed.gov/accreditation/Search.aspx> and must be on a for-grade basis and printed out and attached to the approval form. Courses taken on a pass/fail or audit basis that are job-relevant, or are required for a degree program that is job relevant, may be eligible for tuition reimbursement; however, such courses must be presented to his/her immediate supervisor and then to the Deputy Chief over the appropriate function for consideration and approval. It is the responsibility of the employee making the request to make it clear on his/her pre-approval form that the course is pass/fail or is on an audit basis.
2. Employee is regular full-time. Employees serving their initial probationary period are ineligible.
3. Employee has submitted a Tuition Reimbursement Form (Appendix 27) for pre-approval to his/her immediate supervisor. The Deputy Chief will review the pre-approved form to determine whether or not the course is eligible for reimbursement. Tuition Reimbursement Forms are available in the Human Resources Manual Appendices section or in the SOMS Info Center section. Failure to obtain pre-approval from his/her immediate supervisor may result in denial of the tuition reimbursement request.
4. Upon completion of the course, the employee must submit proof that he/she has received a grade of C or better if a course was taken on a for-grade basis, or the employee must submit written proof from the instructor and/or sponsor that the employee satisfactorily completed a course on a pass/fail and/or audit basis. The employee must also submit the itemized tuition receipt verifying cost and payment of tuition. This receipt must show a listing of all costs by item (e.g., maintenance/tuition, activity fee, athletics fee, etc.), must show the dates the fees were assessed and paid, must show payment amount(s) and method of payment (e.g., check, credit card, financial aid, etc.), and must indicate a zero balance on the account. Submission for completed course will be returned to the Deputy Chief over the appropriate function for review and forwarded to the Deputy Chief of Administration for reimbursement. Copies of completed course work will be submitted to the Training Unit for career development tracking.
5. The employee affirms that he/she has not been totally reimbursed for this approved educational training by some other funding source. Persons being supplemented under any other program(s) (e.g., state supplements, G.I. Bill, scholarships including the Tennessee Education Lottery Scholarship program, government funding, etc.) are only eligible for benefits under the Sheriff's Office reimbursement program for the difference between the cost of the approved training and any other funding source(s) up to the Sheriff's Office maximum reimbursement cap of $1800 per fiscal year, $600 per semester or $450 per quarter..

6. Employees will be reimbursed only for maintenance/tuition fees, but not for late fees, cost of books, service fees, technology fees, athletic fees, and materials upon submission of a transcript as follows:

For Grade Basis	% Reimbursement
A	100%
B	90%
C	80%
Below C	No Reimbursement
Pass/Fail or Audit Basis	% Reimbursement
Pass	100%
Fail	No Reimbursement

By January, before each fiscal year, an employee who intends to take courses must have forms in before the start of the next fiscal year. Approval forms must be completed prior to the start of each semester/quarter. Each approval must have the authorization of the Deputy Chief of Administration to ensure funds are available for reimbursement. The Deputy Chief of Administration may suspend tuition reimbursement and any point due to lack of funding. Any violation of this policy or procedure will result in the employee refunding all tuition back to the Sheriff's Office and will be considered a serious violation.

Professional Development Courses

Professional development courses paid by the Sheriff's Office will follow the same procedure from pre approval of the immediate supervisor to the review and approval by the appropriate Deputy Chief. Completed course documentation (certifications, transcripts, etc.) will also be submitted to the Training Unit for career development tracking.

To encourage all employees to become more computer literate, the Sheriff's Office will reimburse employees under this policy for the successful completion of up to one non-accredited computer course per year taken during non-work hours. The course must be approved in advance on the Tuition Reimbursement Form (Appendix 27) by the Deputy Chief over the appropriate function as cost effective and appropriate for education in standard computer software skills. This provision does not apply to or have any effect on computer training that a department may approve and fund during work hours.

F. Liability Protection

All Deputies are covered by the Sheriff's Office bond and liability protection. In all incidents where the Blount County Sheriff's Office is found liable regarding activities of all sworn personnel, any costs associated with the liability would be funded from the Blount County General Liability fund.

2.05 Worker's Compensation

All employees are covered under the provisions of the Tennessee Worker's Compensation Law (TCA 50-6-101, et.seq.) for accidental injuries or occupational diseases that arise out of, and in the course of, employment. The law requires that specific procedures be followed before payment of benefits to injured employees can be made. These procedures are:

- A. Any employee involved in a work related accident or illness must immediately report the incident to his or her supervisor. Injuries or illnesses must be reported even though the employee may feel they are not serious or require medical treatment. Obviously, if medical treatment is required, it will be obtained immediately. In the event an employee's supervisor is not available to receive the report of injury, the employee is to contact the Risk Management Department at 273-5770, or page the County Risk Manager at 223-4729, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.
- B. Once a supervisor has been notified, he or she will determine whether an injured or ill employee needs immediate medical attention, and may direct that initial treatment be provided at an emergency room if the injury or illness appears life threatening. If the injury or illness is not life threatening, the immediate supervisor should contact the Risk Management Department, and with the concurrence of the injured or ill employee, select a physician from the county's approved panel of physicians to provide initial treatment. A Worker's Compensation Panel of Physician Request form (Appendix 10) must be completed indicating the employee's selection from this list, or a decision not to use any physician on the list. Not selecting one of the physicians on the list may bar compensation benefits for any cost incurred in obtaining medical care.
- C. In the event a chosen physician determines that the injured or ill employee needs specialized treatment, such as an orthopedic physician or a neurosurgeon, or other specialized care, then the employee must contact the Risk Management Department. Failure to do so may jeopardize reimbursement for future medical expenses.

- D. Once an employee reports an occupational (on-the-job) injury or illness, his or her supervisor must prepare a Tennessee Employer's First Report of Work Injury or Illness (Appendix 11), and submit it to the Risk Management Department within 24 hours and a copy is to be forwarded to the Office Manager.
- E. Pursuant to the Workers' Compensation Law, if an injured or ill employee refuses to comply with any reasonable request for examination, or to accept the medical or specialized medical services the county is required to furnish, then the injured or ill employee's rights to compensation will be suspended, and no compensation will be payable to the employee while such injured or ill employee continues in his or her refusal to comply with any reasonable request for examination, or to accept the medical or specialized services furnished by the county.
- F. In addition to receiving appropriate medical care from an approved physician, an employee may be entitled to receive temporary total and/or temporary partial disability benefits during such periods if a treating physician concludes that an employee is totally unable to work, or only able to work a reduced schedule. Pursuant to the Workers' Compensation Law, no such benefits are payable for the first 7 days of any disability that results from a work related injury or illness. However, if the disability extends beyond 7 days, then disability payments are due from the 8th day following the injury or illness forward. In the event an employee's temporary total disability extends beyond 14 days, then disability benefits will be payable from the first day following the injury or illness. Depending on the individual facts and circumstances of any employee's injury or illness, upon approval by the Chief Deputy or Sheriff, 20 days of Sheriff's Office workers' compensation pay will be given to the employee to use before County Government's workers' compensation pay begins. Blount County Government and Sheriff's Office leave cannot be used at the same time. Additional benefits may be paid to an injured or ill employee pursuant to provisions of the Tennessee Workers' Compensation Law. Anytime an employee is out of work on Worker's Compensation, they will notify the office manager who will explain their options concerning salary and benefits.
- G. In the event an employee's absence from work following a work related injury or illness also qualifies as a serious health condition defined by the Family and Medical Leave Act, an employee's worker's compensation leave may also be designated as FMLA leave and run concurrently with worker's compensation leave.

Employees who have any questions regarding their rights and obligations pursuant to the Tennessee Workers' Compensation Law should direct them to the Deputy Chief of Administration, or designee, through their immediate supervisor, or call the Blount County Risk Management Department at 273-5770 or 273-5772.

Written Directive Subject: Grants of Leaves of Absence	Type/Action: <input type="checkbox"/> New <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Amends <input type="checkbox"/> Rescinds
CALEA Reference:	Issued: 11/01/2002 Last Revision: 01/30/2020 Last Review: 03/01/2022
Subject Index: Human Resources Rules and Regulations Manual, Chapter 3, Leave of Absence	Distribution: All Personnel
By order of: Sheriff James L. Berrong

3.01 Grants of Leaves of Absence

- A. Function heads may grant leaves of absence unless otherwise specified in this section. Annual, sick, or compensatory leaves of absence with pay may be granted only up to the amount accumulated to the date of leave. Leave to be subsequently earned may not be anticipated and used (see the section on Sick Leave Bank below for possible exception).
- B. Requests for leaves of absence must be made to the supervisor. The Office Manager and the Deputy Chief of the employee's function must also be notified of the leave dates requested.
- C. Leaves of absence are granted at the times desired by the employee subject to the needs of the Sheriff's Office. In any function where it is deemed impractical to grant leave according to normal leave request procedures, a Captain or Deputy Chief will arrange the leave schedules in such a manner to ensure that each employee will be afforded the same effective leave. Employees may request an amendment to approved annual leave before or during that leave, changing it to sick leave or bereavement leave if appropriate. Proper verification and approval by the employee's supervisor is required.
- D. The following applies to a leave of absence:
 - 1. Has been full time employee of the Blount County Sheriff's Office three (3) years or longer.
 - 2. Leave retirement in TCRS
 - 3. Is not paid for all accrued time (compensatory, holiday worked, and vacation hours). Time accrued is frozen and no time will be earned while on LOA.

4. Seniority date will be adjusted by time gone from active duty.
5. Employees will not be covered by County for any health, dental or any other type of insurance.
6. Employees must make arrangements with County Human Resources (273-5780) to pay for voluntary deductions that come out of the employee's regular payroll check.
7. When an employee requests LOA, time accrued can only be used to cover to the end of the next payroll period. It cannot be used to cover time that employee will not be working at the BCSO. Example: last day to work is 22nd; you may use accrued time until the 30th of that month. The rest of the time is frozen until you return or resign.
8. All equipment is turned into the Quartermaster. It will be issued back to you upon your return.
9. If a Training Reimbursement Agreement is in effect the employee must honor the agreement before taking a leave of absence or understand that it must be honored if the employee does not return to the Sheriff's Office on or before the expiration of the leave of absence request.

E. Employees may be able to use flextime under the following conditions:

1. The requested flextime must be in the same time period as their time card (i.e., within 14 days for all certified patrol and corrections employees actually working in a law enforcement or corrections position).
2. Employees requesting flextime must get approval from their supervisor, and make sure that their time card reflects the work time that is creating the need for flextime.
3. Flextime should be used for special situations such as training requirements for special units, or for other special or unusual situations such as instructing for in-service or orientation training, the citizen's academy, or other community related activities.

3.02 Leaves of Absence

A. Sick Leave

1. Leave in this section must be coordinated with the Family and Medical Leave Act (3.04).
2. In order to receive proper compensation, the Office Manager must be notified when an employee will be out of work longer than 3 days.
3. Sick leave allowances are provided at the rate of 8 or 10 hours for each 28-day pay period, depending on the number of hours worked in a day without a limit on accumulation. For employees suffering from serious medical conditions, refer to 3.03 that relates to the Sick Leave Bank. Sick leave allowances may be used for:
 - a. Personal Sick Leave: Sick leave may be granted for an illness or injury that incapacitates an employee, preventing him or her from performing assigned duties, for doctor or dental appointments during working hours which a doctor's note may be required, and for exposure to contagious disease to such an extent that the employee's presence on the job would jeopardize the health of co-workers. Personal sick leave is not an entitlement. Abuse of sick leave is grounds for disciplinary action.
 - b. Family Sick Leave: Sick leave may be granted for an illness or injury in an employee's immediate family, including routine doctor and dental appointments that require the attendance of an employee. The "immediate family" of an employee is defined in 1.01 under "Close Family Member." Exceptions to this policy may be considered on a case-by-case basis as recommended by a supervisor, reviewed and recommended by the appropriate Deputy Chief, and approved by the Chief Deputy. Family sick leave is not an entitlement. Abuse of sick leave is grounds for disciplinary action.

- c. An employee away from work for a medical condition(s) requiring an absence of 3 consecutive days is required to submit to their supervisor a written statement from an attending physician on a Sick Leave Request Form (Appendix 13) outlining the general nature of the medical condition, the earliest approximate date of return to duty, and advising on the ability of the employee to perform his or her regular duties. A supervisor has the prerogative of requiring a physician's letter with the above content prior to any approval of a request for sick leave if in the supervisor's judgment this information is necessary.
- d. Any employee treated in an emergency room, or is hospitalized for any period of time for a non-work related injury or illness, MUST have a written release from their attending physician on a Sick Leave Request Form, which is turned in to the Office Manager noting any work limitations/restrictions (along with the approximate duration of such limitations/restrictions) before a sick leave request can be approved.
- e. Medical information and the personnel needs of the function are considered in determining the holding of an employee's position open, or placement of him or her in another position for which the employee qualifies. If neither is appropriate, termination may be considered. Before returning to work, an employee must obtain a written statement from an attending physician advising on the form prescribed by the Sheriff's Office whether the employee might return to regular duties.
- f. Medical information is considered to be confidential to the extent permitted by law, and is immediately made a part of an employee's medical records included in his or her personnel file. An employee may view this file by appointment.
- g. If a disability causes an employee to lose more regularly scheduled workdays during any year than accumulated sick leave credits, the employee may use such accumulated annual and/or compensatory leave as he or she may have, or may be placed on leave without pay by the Chief Deputy upon recommendation of the appropriate Deputy Chief or Captain. An employee with a serious medical condition may also apply for medical leave under Family and Medical Leave (see 3.03), or may request additional sick leave from the county's Sick Leave Bank.
- h. Sick leave is granted at the discretion of a Deputy Chief or Captain, and may be refused if in their judgment, it is not justified.
- i. Employees are not paid for accumulated sick leave upon termination. Upon retirement an employee may be credited with 1 month of creditable service for each 20 days of accumulated sick leave based on our current TCRS policy.

- j. Light Duty: An employee may be assigned to light duty when circumstances warrant, provided light duty work is, available and the assignment is authorized or requested by an attending physician, a light duty assignment is recommended and approved by a Deputy Chief or Captain, and is approved by the Chief Deputy. Light duty assignments should not exceed 90 calendar days in duration unless an extension is approved by a Deputy Chief or Captain, and approved by the Chief Deputy. When on a light duty assignment, an employee MAY NOT (1) work extra duty assignments, (2) work overtime unless approved by the Deputy Chief of their function, (3) be assigned to a post/position/duty that would involved contact with inmates or would involve normal patrol functions, (4) actively serve on a specialty unit (e.g. CERT, SWAT, etc.) or (5) carry a weapon. Further, depending upon the type of training being conducted during In-Service, those employees working a light duty assignment may not be able to complete the entire 40 hours, which would impact their In-Service supplement.
- k. An employee that requests sick leave on a day preceding or following off days or scheduled time off such as vacation, holiday or comp, may be required to turn in a written doctor's excuse upon their return to duty.
- l. An employee in a non-paid status will not accrue annual, sick or holiday time.
- m. Any accrued time earned prior to being in a non-paid status will be applied to compensate for the non-paid status on the time card when the non-paid status occurs.

B. Vacation Leave

- 1. Vacation leave (as defined in 1.01) is earned monthly at the leave accrual rates and maximum amounts established in the chart below. Holiday leave may be combined with vacation leave, creating total annual leave. However, holiday leave may not be accumulated and must be used as soon as possible within 12 months of the holiday.

Years of Service	Hours Accrued Per 28-day Work Period	Annual/Vacation Hours of Leave Permitted to carry over (if not at max)
Less than 10 years	6.67	40
10 years but less than 15 years	10.00	60
15 years but less than 20 years	13.33	80
20 years but less than 25 years	16.67	100
25 years and up	20.00	120

* For employees working in Administration, or otherwise exempt from overtime.

2. Employees may carry up to one-half of their authorized vacation leave into the next year. For example, if an employee is authorized 80 hours of annual leave, but for substantiated and approved reasons is not able to use but 40 hours, those other 40 hours can be carried over to the next year. If he or she had used 60 hours, they would be able to carry over 20 hours to the next year. Employees wishing to carry over more than the allowed, or employees already at the maximum allowed, amount must submit their request to their respective Deputy Chief at least 30 days prior to the end of the calendar year.

(update effective 7/1/2025)

The MAXIMUM vacation anyone should have at any point in time should be equivalent to their annual allotment based on YOS, plus UP TO half of that same allotment from prior year(s).

Years of Service	Maximum Vacation hours at any point in time	Vacation Hours Accrued	Annual Hours of Vacation Permitted to carry over annually *(not to be stacked year over year and MUST be supervisor approved)
Less than 10 years	120	80	40
10 years but less than 15 years	180	120	60
15 years but less than 20 years	240	160	80
20 years but less than 25 years	300	200	100
25 years and up	360	240	120

Employees with vacation hours over these maximums as of the start date of this update will not lose their current accruals, but will not be allowed to carry over any accrued/unused time going forward unless it is warranted due to lack of staffing or other substantiated/valid reason and MUST be approved by a supervisor, as well as Deputy Chief over their respective function. Otherwise, it will be a “use it or lose it” situation. If there is a “buydown” in a budget year, those who had hours over the maximum prior to the update will be required to “cash in” an amount to be determined by available funds.

3. Annual leave may be used to attend to any personal needs, and may be approved in advance by the appropriate Deputy Chief or Captain responsible for determining a leave schedule. The first concern in developing a leave schedule is the minimum staffing levels, with the desires of employees being secondary. Each year employees are required to take at least one complete workweek (40 hours) of their accumulated annual leave (which may be taken with holiday leave for patrol and corrections personnel) as a single period of annual leave in order to provide an opportunity to refresh the mind and body from the daily rigors of the workplace.

4. Although annual leave is earned from the date of employment, an entry-level probationary employee is not eligible for annual leave until successful completion of 6 months of service.

C. Holiday Leave (Revised July1, 2014)

1. Holiday is defined as a single day of paid time off work.
2. Employees who work in a position having only one regular shift (e.g., those in Records, Court Services, staff groups, etc, but not those in Patrol or Corrections) receive several holidays each year as designated by the Blount County Mayor and County Officials. These employees are expected to take off on the designated holiday (e.g., when the Justice Center is closed). Information regarding authorized holidays is distributed to all county agencies prior to the beginning of a calendar year.
3. Employees who work in a position having multiple shifts (e.g., Patrol and Corrections) will receive one holiday per month for a total of twelve (12) holidays per calendar year. These employees will be credited with three (3) holidays per calendar quarter, which will be reflected on the earning sheet posted after each time card. Employees may combine holiday leave with annual leave, when authorized by their supervisor.

An employee who takes more than one holiday off work in a quarter but leaves the employment of BCSO before the end of that quarter is required to reimburse BCSO for the holiday(s) taken but not “earned” through (1) reduction in their final paycheck, or (2) forfeiture of an accrued (but unused) holiday, vacation day, sick day, etc.

4. Holidays must be taken in the same calendar year in which they are granted. Unused holidays may not be carried over from one calendar year to the next calendar year. Failure or inability to take holiday time off within permitted time frames will result in the holiday being forfeited.
5. Employees in a non-paid status (e.g., those on military leave, unpaid leave of absence, disability, etc.) do not receive holidays during their non-paid leave.

D. Civil Leave

An employee may be granted civil leave with pay for any absence necessary for serving on a jury, as a subpoenaed witness in court, or taking required tests for fitness, including required physical exams, recruitment interviews, tests for required certification, and tests associated with promotions, demotions, or transfers in the Sheriff's Office. If, however, a case is one in which the employee is a party and the court decision affects the employee (positively or negatively) only, the time off is of a personal nature and annual leave, compensatory time, or leave without pay should be taken. Employees are entitled to keep any jury or witness fees in addition to their regular salary.

E. Leave without Pay

The Office Manager will be notified whenever an employee is in a non-paid status. The following guidelines should be followed:

1. For some absences from duty, Deputy Chiefs or Captains may recommend leave without pay to the Chief Deputy, although such leave is not guaranteed. If a request is for medical reasons, provisions for returning to work noted above relating to sick leave or worker's compensation leave are to be followed.
2. The Chief Deputy will determine the maximum duration of any leave without pay after consultation with the Sheriff.
3. No time is accrued in a leave without pay status.
4. Leave without pay is used to reflect the hours an employee does not work in a workweek and does not have sufficient leave balances to cover the time away from their job.

F. Military Leave (Revised 02/28/08) (Revised 10/15/2015, 08/12/2020)

1. Members of the organized reserve forces of any of the Armed Services of the United States, National Guard, or Reserves, are entitled to a leave of absence, not to exceed the following amount per calendar year; 160 hours for those employees working an 8 hour shift or 200 hours for those employees working a 10 hour shift, with pay and without loss of seniority or any accrued leave. The 160 or 200 hours, depending on the particular shift, and during a calendar year, are normally meant to be consecutive, but may be fragmented or non-consecutive if supported by military orders. This paid military leave may be taken for annual active duty training, drill (not for periods of inactive duty training, i.e., drill) and additional active duty training (i.e., additional duty) as long as the total of paid military leaves does not exceed the 160 or 200 hours per calendar year. If more time is needed beyond what is allowed under these rules, an employee must use any accumulated annual, compensatory, or holiday leave, or leave without pay. Employees must be in a paid status to be authorized military leave. Temporary employees are not eligible for military leave with or without pay.
2. Any person employed in an authorized position (as defined in 1.01), who receives orders to report for active duty in any of the Armed Forces of the United States, will be placed on military leave without pay assuming the following actions have taken place:
 - a. The employee requests military leave without pay.
 - b. The employee submits to their Deputy Chief a copy of his/her orders indicating his/her active duty status and the duration of such active duty.
 - c. The initial active duty is in excess of 3 months as shown on his/her orders. The individual's active duty for training is his or her initial active duty for training as shown on his or her orders.

- d. A copy of active duty orders will be attached to the leave without pay request memo when submitted to the Office Manager.
3. During military leave without pay status, the same provisions governing sick and annual leave accrual set forth in Leave Without Pay presented below will apply. An employee may make arrangements with the Blount County Human Resources to continue applicable benefits by paying, at the commencement of the leave, the premium required under COBRA provisions and subject to the health and benefits contracts currently in force.
4. Within 90 days after release from active duty (provided the employee can provide proof of satisfactory completion of initial active duty training by certificate, discharge, or release to inactive reserve status), the employee will be entitled to reinstatement in his/her former position, provided the employee is capable of performing the duties of that position. If the former position has been abolished, the employee will be given first consideration for other openings for which the employee is qualified. Employees selected to fill openings created by persons on military leave will be employed on a provisional basis. For all other purposes, the same provision as outlined under Leave without Pay will govern. Return to employment will be treated as a reinstatement (see 1.06).
5. No employee will be considered for promotion or a higher-level appointment while on military leave status.
6. No part of these Rules and Regulations will supersede applicable state and/or federal law.
7. If the conflict an employee is deployed for is recognized by TCRS, the employee will receive retirement credit by TCRS. If the conflict is not recognized by TCRS the employee will not receive credit.
8. An employee will be permitted to use 30 days of accrued time, other than sick once military orders are in effect.
9. If an employee is on active full duty status and their military pay is less than what their base Sheriff's Office pay is, then the Sheriff's Office will pay the difference.

Pre-Deployment

Prior to a member of the Blount County Sheriff's Office (BCSO) deploying for military service the appropriate Deputy Chief or designee, will provide a copy of the member's deployment orders to the Chief Records Clerk. The Chief Records Clerk will ensure that all policy and procedure steps that should be accomplished prior to the deployment are completed. The Chief Records Clerk will serve as a point of contact for all members of the BCSO that are deploying for military Service to allow for coordination of all benefits and entitlements.

The member will consult the Sheriff or designee prior to their last duty day before the deployment. At that time the Sheriff or designee will conduct an exit interview with the member. During this interview the Sheriff or designee will ensure the member provides valid contact information for any family members to allow for any of their needs to be met during the member's absence as well as provide for a process for communication with the member during their deployment. He will also ensure the employee has relinquished all assigned equipment to the Equipment Custodian for storage during their absence.

Post-Deployment

Upon a member of the BCSO returning from deployment and upon completion of their reconstitution time they will report to the appropriate Deputy Chief or designee on the morning of their first duty day prior to reporting for duty. At that time, the appropriate Deputy Chief or designee will coordinate an interview for the member with the Sheriff or designee. Upon completion of the interview the member will report to the Chief Records Clerk for final in-processing. The member will contact the Equipment Custodian for the re-issue of assigned equipment and the appropriate Deputy Chief or designee will contact the training function to coordinate any new initial, refresher or requalification training that may be required for the member. Upon successful completion of the designated training the member may return to duty.

G. Bereavement Leave

An employee may be granted up to 3 workdays of bereavement leave for the death of a close family member (see definition in 1.01). This leave must be taken immediately prior or subsequent to the day of a burial service (or equivalent), including the day of burial services (or equivalent). The Chief Deputy may grant exceptions to this by granting additional time under unusual circumstances.

H. Maternity Leave

1. Pregnancy, childbirth, and related conditions will be treated the same as any other temporary medical disability with regard to leave policies. Leave is available under the same terms and conditions as for other similar purposes, for a period not to exceed 4 months that is counted as part of the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA), entitling employees for up to 12 weeks leave for maternity. In addition to any other accrued paid leave, Blount County will allow up to 6 weeks of paid maternity leave, depending on the amount of FMLA available to full-time regular employees on the following terms and conditions:
 - a. The employee must have been employed by the county for at least 12 consecutive months as a full time employee.
 - b. In cases of adoption or foster care, the child must be under the age of 1 year at the time of placement.
 - c. The employee must give at least 3 months advance notice of the anticipated date the leave is to begin, except in cases of emergency.
 - d. The entitlement to leave begins on the date of birth or placement, and ends 6 weeks thereafter.

- e. Unused maternity leave cannot be carried over or used for any other purpose, and an employee will not be compensated for any unused maternity leave.
 - f. Paid leave taken by an employee in connection with birth or placement of a child for adoption or foster care will be counted as part of the employee's 12-week entitlement under the Family and Medical Leave Act.
2. Tennessee law requires that the following provisions be included in this manual. The provisions may or may not apply, depending upon the circumstances, as stipulated in TCA 4-21-408. Maternity Leave:
- a. A female employee who has been employed by the same employer for at least 12 consecutive months as a full-time employee as determined by the employer at the job site or location, may be absent from such employment for a period not to exceed 4 months for pregnancy, childbirth, and nursing the infant where applicable (such period to be hereinafter referred to as "maternity leave").
 - b. A female employee who gives at least 3 months advance notice of her anticipated date of departure for maternity leave, her length of maternity leave, and her intention to return to full-time employment after maternity leave, shall be restored to her previous or a similar position with the same status, pay, length of service credit, and seniority, wherever applicable, as of the date of her leave.
 - c. A female employee who is prevented from giving 3 months advance notice because of a medical emergency that necessitates maternity leave beginning earlier than originally anticipated, will not forfeit her rights and benefits under this part solely because of her failure to give 3 months advance notice.
 - d. Maternity leave may be with or without pay at the discretion of the employer. Maternity leave will not affect the employee's right to receive vacation time, sick leave, bonuses, advancement, seniority, length of service credit, benefits, plans or programs for which she was eligible at the date of her leave, and any other benefits or rights of her employment incident to her employment position; provided, that the employer need not provide for the cost of any benefits, plans, or programs during the period of maternity leave unless such employer so provides for all employees on leave of absence.
 - e. If an employee's job position is so unique that the employer cannot, after reasonable efforts, fill that position temporarily, then the employer will not be liable under this part for failure to reinstate the employee at the end of her maternity leave period.
 - f. The purpose of this section is to provide leave time to female employees for pregnancy, childbirth, and nursing the infant, where applicable; therefore, if an employer finds that the female employee has used the period of maternity leave to actively pursue other employment opportunities, or if the employer finds that the employee has worked part-time or full-time for another employer during the period of maternity leave, then the employer will not be liable under this section for failure to reinstate the employee at the end of her maternity leave.

- g. Whenever the employer determines that the employee will not be reinstated at the end of her maternity leave because her position cannot be filled temporarily, or because she has used maternity leave to pursue employment opportunities or to work for another employer, the employer will so notify the employee.
- h. Nothing contained within the provisions of this section will be construed to:
 - 1) Require any employer to provide maternity leave to male employees.
 - 2) Apply to any employer who employs fewer than 100 full-time employees on a permanent basis at the job site or location.
- i. The Federal Pregnancy Discrimination Act (PDA) amendment to the Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibits employment discrimination against women on the basis of pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions. This means that pregnancy-related conditions must be treated the same as any other temporary medical incapacity. The PDA applies to employers who have 15 or more employees. The term "employees" includes local government employees, but does not include elected officials and their personal staff, or policy-making appointees.

I. Personal Hours

- 1. An employee who works in administration, or is exempt from overtime policies and procedures as determined by FLSA, is eligible for personal hours based on the chart below.
- 2. Personal hours may be used to attend to personal needs, and may be approved in advance by the appropriate supervisor.
- 3. Personal hours may not be carried over to the next year.

Years of Service	Personal Hours Permitted Annually*
Less than 10 years	24
10 years but less than 15 years	32
15 years but less than 20 years	40

3.03 Family and Medical Leave

- A. An employee who has been employed by the Sheriff's Office for 12 months or more, and has worked at least 1,250 hours in that 12-month period, may be eligible for up to 12 workweeks of unpaid family and medical leave in the following cases:
1. Employee's spouse, parent, or child has a serious medical condition that requires the employee's full-time care.
 2. The birth, placement for adoption, or placement of a foster child.
 3. The employee's own serious medical condition.
- B. In the case of illness, a certification from an attending physician will be required. The leave must be requested 30 days in advance, unless there is a medical emergency, and then must be approved by the Chief Deputy after consultation with the employee's Captain or Deputy Chief and the Deputy Chief of Administration. In a case where both spouses work for the Sheriff's Office, leave for family care or birth, or adoption of a child, is limited to up to 12 weeks combined. Intermittent leave may be granted if medically necessary. Employees will be required to use any accumulated sick and annual or leave first, when appropriate, before going into an unpaid status. Leave used will be counted toward the 12 weeks.
- C. When on unpaid family and medical leave, the employee's health care coverage will continue. The employee is to pay his or her share of the health care premium to the County Human Resources Office (273-5780). If an employee fails to return to work (unless it is for medical disability), the employee is to reimburse the Sheriff's Office for its portion of the premium paid. All other benefits will be treated the same as stated in leave without pay (see 3.02).

- D. Employees on approved family and medical leave of up to 12 weeks are entitled to their same or equivalent position upon their return to work.
- E. In most cases, leave cannot be counted as FMLA leave retroactively. One exception is if the supervisor was not aware of the reason for the leave. In this case, the leave is designated as FMLA leave while the employee is on leave, or within 2 business days once the employee has returned.
- F. For additional information and an application packet on family and medical leave, employees need to contact the Office Manager.
- G. Approved Medical Leave is as follows
 - 1. The Sheriff or Chief Deputy can approve up to 12 months Medical Leave of Absence. This type of leave is without pay.
 - 2. Leave must be requested before the FMLA time ends and leave will start at the conclusion of FMLA
 - 3. BCSO will continue to pay the employee's portion of insurance BUT the employee is responsible for paying all voluntary or dependent coverage premiums/deductions.
 - 4. The employee must, upon request, furnish a doctor's statement. Human Resources will monitor the doctor's statement on a minimum of a monthly basis and will give status back to the BCSO.
 - 5. All accrued leave, including vacation, sick, compensatory, and holiday hours must be used before the leave of absence will be approved.
 - 6. No time will be earned while on a leave of absence. This includes vacation, sick, compensatory, personal, and holiday.

4.01 Performance Management

It is the policy of the Sheriff's Office to design and maintain a performance evaluation system that is job related and uniformly administered, striving to use performance evaluations as tools to serve both the needs of management and of employees. The objectives of performance evaluation are:

- Foster fair and impartial personnel decisions such as promotions.
- Maintain and improve performance.
- Provide a mechanism for counseling and coaching.
- Facilitate proper decisions regarding probationary employees.
- Provide an objective and fair means for recognizing and measuring individual performance in accordance with prescribed guidelines.
- Identify training needs.

A. Types of Evaluation

The following types of evaluations are possible:

1. Semi-annual: The normal evaluation period covers 6 months, occurring every July and January, and involves all employees.
2. Conditional Probation: An evaluation period of 12 months following a promotion, disciplinary action, or transfer, conducted monthly over this period.
3. Probationary: Patrol deputies are initially rated weekly through academic reports from their basic training facility. Deputies (as they are assigned to duties out of the training academy) and adult and juvenile corrections officers (after their orientation training) are evaluated daily and weekly through reports relating to on-the-job training (see GO 6.01, Field Training Program in the Sheriff's Office Policies and Procedures Manual, and the training sections in the Adult and Juvenile Detention Center Policies and Procedures Manual). After completion of on-the-job training programs, probationary employees are rated monthly by their supervisor using the Probationary/Conditional Probation Performance Evaluation (See Appendix 16) until the probationary period is completed. Non-certified employees are rated every 30 days throughout their 12-month probationary period. The Sheriff may extend probation at his discretion.

B. Performance Evaluation Process Management

1. Performance evaluations are conducted based on guidelines prepared for each function, and are presented at Appendix 14a, b, c, d, e. Guidelines call for 6-month rating periods.
2. Performance standards/criteria used for performance evaluations must be specific to positions occupied by employees.
3. Evaluation forms are reviewed and signed by the rater's supervisor.
4. Employees sign the evaluation report only to indicate that they have read it, not that they agree with it, and are given a copy.
5. Employees are rated by their immediate supervisors, whose responsibility cannot be delegated.
6. Employees may appeal their performance evaluations to the next supervisor above the rater within 10 working days of receipt of an evaluation. The reviewing supervisor may amend and/or comment on any part of an evaluation, and respond to the appeal within 10 working days. If an employee is not satisfied with the decision of a rater's supervisor, the employee may appeal the decision to the Chief Deputy, who has 10 working days to respond. The decision of the Chief Deputy will be final. The process of contesting evaluations does not constitute a grievance.
7. Semi-annual performance evaluations are to be filed and remain in an employee's personnel file for a minimum of 5 years, at which time they may be destroyed.

C. Introduction to Performance Management

1. These guidelines to performance management are intended for anyone who manages the performance of others. Whether you are a new or experienced supervisor, these guidelines will provide you with useful information and step-by-step guidelines about the performance management process.

2. Performance management will help you, and those you supervise, to plan for results that will meet or exceed your expectations and the expectations of your function, the Deputy Chiefs, the Chief Deputy, the Sheriff, and the community. You will learn how to work cooperatively with your employees to:
 - a. Identify and describe each employee's essential job functions and dimensions in support of the mission of your function and the Sheriff's Office.
 - b. Identify and define initiatives appropriate to your employees' essential functions that support the goals of your function and the Sheriff's Office.
 - c. Develop realistic and appropriate performance standards.
 - d. Give and receive helpful behavioral feedback about performance.
 - e. Write and deliver constructive performance evaluations.
 - f. Plan education and development opportunities to sustain, improve, or build on current performance.
3. These guidelines are the basis for training supervisors and employees as to what to expect from performance management, and how to successfully prepare and use the evaluation process, including the preparation of forms and the follow up to the evaluation process. Questions that cannot be answered by using these guidelines should be directed to a Captain or Deputy Chief, the Deputy Chief of Administration (or his designee), a Deputy Chief, or the Chief Deputy.

D. Definitions:

1. Dimensions: A broad grouping of similar tasks assigned to a function, unit within a function, or a particular job classification, not an individual employee(s), and are developed and agreed upon by supervisors and their employees assigned to accomplish their job responsibilities.
2. Employee: The person whose performance is managed.
3. Performance Evaluation: Performance evaluation is a process of assessing, summarizing, and developing the work performance of an employee.
4. Performance Management: An ongoing communication process that involves both the supervisor and the employee in:
 - a. Identifying and describing essential job functions and relating them to the mission and goals of the function and the Sheriff's Office.
 - b. Developing realistic and appropriate performance criteria directly related to dimensions.
 - c. Giving and receiving feedback about performance.
 - d. Writing and communicating constructive performance evaluations that relate comments versus scores versus the least and most satisfactory performance in each dimension.
 - e. Planning education and development opportunities to sustain, improve, or build on employee work performance that is developmental as well as remedial.

5. Performance Standards: Written statements based on basic dimensions describing how well a job should be performed. They provide benchmarks against which to evaluate work performance. While dimensions describe the essential functions, performance criteria define what is to be done and how well each dimension must be performed to meet or exceed expectations. Each function of the Sheriff's Office will choose the dimensions and performance standards related to their operations and that are appropriate for the specific duties and responsibilities of the positions they have assigned to them.
6. Rating Supervisor: The supervisor who is directly responsible for seeing that an employee's performance dimensions and criteria are met.

E. Dimensions and Performance Standards

1. When dimensions and performance standards are in place, both the employee and his or her supervisor will know what the expectations are for the performance of essential functions of the job. This understanding will provide the basis for ongoing observation and feedback that becomes the basis for performance counseling between evaluations, for the formal semi-annual performance evaluation process.
2. Performance standards are developed within each function, and sometimes units within functions, since the work performed is obviously different in each, requiring the establishment of relevant dimensions and performance standards. Examples of performance dimensions that may be used are:
 - a. Adaptability/Attitude: Willingness and ability to adjust to changes in tasks, assignments, and function goals and objectives as well as expressions of personal feelings that effect job performance and interactions with other employees.
 - b. Decision-making/Problem solving: Ability to manage complex and stressful situations while giving proper consideration to all alternative courses of action along with the ability to identify and analyze problems, identify and evaluate possible solutions, selecting and implementing appropriate means of resolution.
 - c. Dependability: Consistently performing duties in a reliable and knowledgeable manner with minimum supervision.
 - d. Appearance/Professional Image: Presenting and maintaining a professional appearance through grooming, dress, and personal actions, including proper maintenance and usage of all assigned equipment.
 - e. Communication/Relationships: Ability to interact with citizens and other employees in an appropriate and effective manner, and effectively express and communicate ideas in writing, orally, and through non-verbal behavior.
 - f. Job knowledge: Application and use of training and on-the-job experience to effectively perform job tasks in line with guidelines established in policies and standard operating procedures.
 - g. Physical Fitness: Maintaining a level of physical preparedness that enables one to successfully perform required tasks.

- h. Rating Skills (for rating raters only): Ratings by the rater's supervisor based on the rater's objective observation and meaningful feedback to the employee(s) being rated.
- 3. When developing dimensions and performance standards, make sure that all participants in the process have access to the following documents:
 - a. An up-to-date copy of job descriptions.
 - b. A copy of the function and Sheriff's Office Multi-Year Plan.
 - c. The Semi-Annual Performance Evaluation Forms.
 - d. A copy of the Standardized Evaluation Guidelines (Appendix 14a, b, c, d, e).
- 4. It is essential to define dimensions and performance standards that apply to an entire unit. It is not necessary to write performance standards for every task in a job classification description. Instead, focus on those that are most important.
- 5. Supervisors should discuss among themselves, and with their employees, those behaviors and results that would constitute the minimum acceptable performance for a task or function, and for each position in their unit. Performance that satisfies those performance standards will receive the rating of meets expectations. Performance standards that become a part of the Standardized Evaluation Guidelines should be written in clear language that describes the specific behaviors and actions required for work performance to meet, exceed, or fail to meet expectations, using specific terms that describe measurable, or verifiable, features of each performance standard, such as:
 - a. Performance expectations in terms of timeliness, cost (if appropriate), quality (subjective and objective measures of satisfaction), quantity (how many or how much, but do not set quotas), customer satisfaction, independent initiative demonstrated, and any other relevant verifiable measure.
 - b. Specify an acceptable margin for error. It is very rare for perfection to be an appropriate standard, even for outstanding performance.
 - c. Refer to any specific conditions where performance is expected or can be assessed. Statements like the following refer to the conditions under which a task or function is done:
 - 1) Proper completion of Incident Reports.
 - 2) No chargeable accidents.
 - 3) Average miles driven per shift during the rating period.
 - 4) Among many others.
 - d. Supervisors need to collaborate with each of their employees to develop performance standards that expand on the performance dimension and standards set for the unit. A supervisor's skill in effectively rating his or her employees is a significant dimension in a supervisor's evaluation.

F. Standardized Evaluation Guidelines

1. Each function will have a Standardized Evaluation Guide (Appendix 14a, b, c, d, e). For those functions with on-the-job training programs, the guidelines will be a continuation of those programs. Standards guidelines are developed for the other functions around applicable performance dimensions and standards. Consider the following when considering performance dimensions and preparing performance standards:
 - a. Performance standards are related to an employee's, or class of employees', assigned work and job requirements.
 - b. Quantifiable measures may not apply to all functions. Describe in clear and specific terms the characteristics of performance quality that are verifiable and that would meet or exceed expectations.
 - c. Accomplishment of Sheriff's Office and/or function goals and objectives should be included where appropriate, as well as information related to improved efficiency and productivity, project completion, process and/or program redesign, or public service.
2. When reviewing Standardized Evaluation Guidelines, check them against the following questions:
 - a. Are they realistic? Performance standards should be attainable and consistent with what is necessary to get the job done. Standards that meet expectations represent the minimum acceptable level of performance for all employees in that position.
 - b. Are they specific? Standards should tell an employee specific actions and results he or she is expected to accomplish.
 - c. Are they based on measurable data, observation, or verifiable information? Can they be measured in terms of timeliness, quality, and quantity?
 - d. Are they consistent with Sheriff's Office and function goals and objectives? Standards link individual performance to goals and objectives and should be consistent with them. The success of Sheriff's Office and/or function mission and value statements depends on this strategic connection.
 - e. Are they challenging? Guidelines will describe performance that exceeds expectations. Recognizing performance that is above expectations or outstanding is motivating to many employees.
 - f. Are they clear and understandable? An employee whose work is to be evaluated on the basis of the performance standards and the subsequent guidelines, must understand them and should always be in the language of the job.
 - g. Are they dynamic? As Sheriff's Office and/or function goals and objectives, technologies, operations, or experiences change, performance standards should evolve.

G. Conducting Semi-Annual Performance Evaluation

Semi-annual performance evaluation is a process of assessing, summarizing, and developing the work performance of an employee. Every employee will receive a written performance evaluation on the appropriate forms. The following are recommended steps for the performance evaluation process:

1. Preparation

The semi-annual evaluation occurs every July and January. The following steps are suggested:

- a. Before meeting with an employee, review his or her job description, review your observations, notes, and previous semi-annual performance evaluations. It is important that the rater prepare the evaluation based on the current 6-month rating period only. Although previous performance evaluations may be reviewed to determine progress in personal goals and objectives previously developed, the intent is to review an employee's performance for the actual rating period. Obtain performance feedback from people with whom the employee has worked (including those he or she may have supervised), all of which is important information when evaluating contact with the public (or customer service) and teamwork aspects of the employee's job. Where customer service is a key part of the job, feedback from customers may also be solicited. Locate and have ready any supporting information.
- b. If during the review period the employee reported to more than one supervisor, it is appropriate to consult with the other supervisor(s) for input into the evaluation. Before including any information in an evaluation that may indicate there was a performance problem with another supervisor, ask the other supervisor(s) if the information about the problem has been shared with the employee.
- c. Give the employee advanced notice of the performance evaluation so that he or she has the chance to review and prepare. Plan to meet with the employee in private to explain or review what will happen during the evaluation process, and review the Semi-Annual Performance Evaluation Form (see Appendix 17). Do this even if you have evaluated the employee's performance several times in the past. Review his or her job description and the Sheriff's Office and function goals and objectives. Discuss and review the performance dimensions and standards that are the basis of the evaluation. Some performance dimensions or standards may not have figured prominently in the employee's job for the evaluation period, and evaluation in those areas may not be necessary or significant.
- d. Conclude the meeting by scheduling a second meeting

2. Writing the Performance Evaluation

The writing phase of the performance evaluation involves completing the Semi-Annual Performance Evaluation Form (Appendix 17). In preparing the form, consider these three questions:

- a. How does the level of performance compare with the performance dimensions and standards for this position during the rating period?
- b. How was the level of performance confirmed? What did you see the employee doing? What do reports or other work products show?
- c. What were the consequences, results, and impact of the performance?

3. The Semi-Annual Performance Evaluation Form (Appendix 17)

Consult a Captain or Deputy Chief, the Chief Deputy, or the Deputy Chief of Administration (or designee) for information about the form, or for a particular policy or procedure. Enter general information about the employee in the area at the top of the form.

- a. PART I: PERFORMANCE REVIEW - Evaluate employee performance based on the selected dimensions for the employee being evaluated. Remember that an employee may not be rated on all of the dimensions listed, and that performance is to be rated only for the current 6-month rating period. Under each dimension there are performance standards that are to be met in relation to these dimensions as presented in Standard Evaluation Guidelines. Performance should be rated against these standards.
- b. PART II: SUPERVISORY PERFORMANCE REVIEW - This section should only be used for rating supervisory employees, and left blank for all other employees. The purpose of this section is rate the dimensions important to supervision, and to ensure the fairness and impartiality of ratings given by supervisors, and that they are applying ratings uniformly.
- c. PART III: OVERALL APPRAISAL OF PERFORMANCE - The 3 evaluation rating standards are found at the top of the Semi-Annual Performance Evaluation Form. These ratings describe the level of performance of the individual employee when compared to job descriptions, dimensions, and performance standards delineated in the Standardized Evaluation Guidelines.
 - 1) Score of 1 – 3: Unsatisfactory
 - 2) Score of 4: Meets expectations
 - 3) Score of 5 – 7: Exceeds expectations
- d. PART IV: COMMENTS SUPPORTING THE OVERALL EVALUATION - Although a rater is encouraged to make comments about a rating of Meets Expectations, whenever a rater feels an employee's performance is either outstanding, below expectations, or unsatisfactory, it is mandatory that he or she use this section to describe the behaviors and actions that led to the ratings given. This document becomes part of the employee's permanent record. Also include information relating to goals, education, training, and professional development activities the employee may complete during the next rating period such as on-the-job training, self-study, courses, workshops, special projects, participation in professional organizations, etc. When appropriate, describe the employee's responsibility for self-directed learning, and include activities that you and the Sheriff's Office can commit to support. Never promise an employee a promotion, special training, or any other benefit for future performance.

- e. PART V: FUTURE PLANS/ACTIONS - This section is dedicated to accomplishing a career development plan with the employee. It will discuss any future plans of education, experience, and training that will assist in the developmental goals of the employee and the needs of the Sheriff's Office. This section will also be used to document education, experience, and training which has been completed during this evaluation period to accomplish the overall career development plan.
- f. PART VI: EMPLOYEE COMMENTS - A space is provided for the employee to comment if he or she chooses to do so. Allow time outside of the performance evaluation meeting for the employee to review the written performance evaluation and prepare comments. Comments may be written on the form or attached on a separate sheet.

4. Delivering

- a. Planning the performance evaluation meeting contributes to the success of the process. Below are a few guidelines that may help you with the goals of a formal performance evaluation meeting:
 - 1) Prior to a meeting, review your evaluation and observation notes covering the last rating period and the evidence in support of the rating you plan to give.
 - 2) Plan your discussion. Objectives for the discussion include:
 - a) Reviewing, discussing, and confirming an understanding of the performance dimensions and standards, and annual goals and objectives of the employee being rated.
 - b) Recognizing strengths and achievements.
 - c) Confirming previously identified functional areas needing improvement, whether they have been achieved and establishing agreement about how improvement is to be accomplished in the future.
 - d) Identifying areas where education, training, or other development opportunities are needed, and agreeing on a strategy for developing skills, knowledge, or abilities. Discuss and confirm understanding and agreement about the steps the employee will take to accomplish self-development goals as well as how you or the Sheriff's Office will help. Also, any disciplinary action in the form of counseling, remedial training, or whatever other means are available to improve performance.

- e) Plan to meet with an employee in private.
- 3) At the meeting, review your draft of the Semi-Annual Performance Evaluation Form and evaluation narrative with an employee. Discuss an employee's strengths covering each point in detail, setting a positive tone to start the discussion.
- 4) Discuss previously identified areas needing improvement and how they were corrected. Ask an employee for suggestions about how he or she will improve performance, and introduce your ideas for improvement as well.
- 5) Show interest in your employee's progress and your willingness to take up the discussion again at any time. Close the evaluation after all points have been covered and the employee has had an opportunity to provide input.
- 6) If changes will be made to the evaluation, discuss those changes and agree upon a date when the final draft will be prepared and the evaluation is to be signed.
- 7) After necessary changes have been made, ask the employee to sign the Semi-Annual Performance Evaluation Form. An employee's signature indicates that he or she has read the evaluation and that a discussion has taken place. It does not signify that an employee necessarily agrees with the evaluation.
- b. What if an employee refuses to sign? An employee may take a few days before signing the evaluation form. However, if after a reasonable period of time an employee refuses to sign the form, supervisors may note on the form that an employee has refused to sign, indicate the date, and initial the signature block.
- c. You may attach work standards, supplemental performance information, work samples, and additional comments to the evaluation form. Inform an employee that he or she can add or attach comments to the Semi-Annual Performance Evaluation Form as well. If an employee wants to add comments, allow time for him or her to write them and attach the comments to the original, signed copy of the evaluation form.

5. Producing

The original of the final signed performance evaluation will be forwarded to a rater's supervisor for review, comment, and signature, and then forwarded to each supervisor in an employee's chain of command until it reaches the Chief Deputy, who will review and sign off on them. The Chief Deputy will then forward the completed performance evaluation to the Deputy Chief of Administration who will have it filed in an employee's permanent personnel record. A copy will be returned to the rating supervisor and the employee to be used as a guide for the next evaluation, and to serve as a base for improving performance and gauging professional development.

H. Conducting Probationary and Conditional Probation (for promotion, transfer, or as a result of disciplinary action) Performance Evaluations

The probationary or conditional probation performance evaluation is a process of assessing, summarizing, and developing the work performance of a new employee who has just completed the Field Training Program for patrol deputies, the Corrections Officer Training Program for corrections officers in the Detention Centers, or a basic orientation required of all other employees, or for employees promoted, transferred into a new position, or for an employee who has been placed on probation as a result of disciplinary action. The Sheriff may extend probation at his discretion. The following are recommended steps for a probation performance evaluation process:

1. Preparation

This evaluation occurs each month for 12 months for civilian employees. For patrol deputies and corrections officers, monthly probationary evaluations start the month following completion of their special on-the-job training programs, and continues for the remaining months up to their first year of employment. For employees who have been promoted, received disciplinary action, or transferred into new positions, monthly conditional evaluations will follow the effective date and will continue for a period of 12 months. The following steps are suggested:

- a. Before an initial meeting with a probationary employee, the supervisor will need to obtain the training files for patrol deputies or adult and juvenile corrections officers, using the same dimensions and performance criteria used during those programs as a basis for the probationary evaluations. For a new civilian employee, a supervisor will review with the new employee the performance dimensions and standards that have been developed for the position, and establish goals for meeting the essential tasks required of the position.
- b. If a new employee works with more than one supervisor during the probationary period, it is important to consult with the other supervisor(s) for input into the evaluation.
- c. Meet with the new employee frequently to discuss the Standardized Evaluation Guidelines, using observation and feedback as discussed below. Try to always use previous evaluations during these meetings.
- d. Always conclude a meeting by scheduling another meeting indicating what is to be achieved.

2. Writing the Probationary or Conditional Probation Performance Evaluation

The writing phase of the probationary or conditional probation evaluation involves completing the Probationary/Conditional Probation Evaluation Form (Appendix 16). In writing the probationary performance evaluation, consider 3 questions:

- a. How does the level of performance compare with the performance dimensions and standards for this position?
- b. How was the level of performance confirmed? What did you see the employee doing? What do analytical reports or work products show?
- c. What were the consequences, results, and impact of the performance?

3. The Probationary/Conditional Probation Performance Evaluation Form (Appendix 16)

- a. This section refers to completion of the Probationary/Conditional Probation Performance Evaluation Form (Appendix 16). Consult your Captain, Deputy Chief Deputy, Chief Deputy, or Deputy Chief of Administration (or designee), for information about the form, or for a particular policy or procedure. Follow the following steps in completing the form:
- b. PART I: PERFORMANCE REVIEW - Evaluate employee performance based on the dimensions for the employee being evaluated. Remember that an employee may not be rated on all of the dimensions listed. Under each dimension there are performance standards delineated in a Standardized Evaluation Guideline that are to be met in relation to these dimensions. Performance should be rated against these standards.
- c. PART II: SUPERVISORY PERFORMANCE REVIEW - This section should only be used for rating supervisory employees, and left blank for all other employees. The purpose of this section is rate the dimensions important to supervision, and to ensure the fairness and impartiality of ratings given by supervisors, and that they are applying ratings uniformly.
- d. PART III: OVERALL APPRAISAL OF PERFORMANCE - Each dimension is to be rated on a scale of 1 to 7, with 1 being the lowest rating and 7 being the highest. To the right of each dimension is a space available for marking the level of performance for that dimension. The numerical ratings should reflect the following levels of performance:
 - 1) Score of 1 – 3: Unsatisfactory
 - 2) Score of 4: Meets expectations
 - 3) Score of 5 – 7: Exceeds expectations
- e. To determine an average score, add the score for each dimension and divide by the number of dimensions rated, placing the score in the blank provided.
- f. PART IV: CONSTRUCTIVE CRITIQUE - Although a rater is encouraged to make comments about a 4 rating, whenever a rater feels an employee's performance is either in the 1 to 3 range or in the 5 to 7 range, it is mandatory that he or she use this section to describe the behaviors and actions that led to the ratings given.

- g. PART V: EMPLOYEE COMMENTS - A space is provided for an employee to comment if he or she chooses to do so. Allow time outside of the performance evaluation meeting for an employee to review the written evaluation and prepare comments. Comments may be written on the form or attached on a separate sheet.

4. Delivering

Planning the probationary performance evaluation meeting contributes to the success of the process. Below are some guidelines that may help you with the goals of the probationary performance evaluation meeting.

- a. Prior to the meeting, review your evaluation and your notes covering the last rating period and the evidence in support of the rating you gave.
- b. Plan your discussion. Objectives for the discussion include:
 - 1) Reviewing, discussing, and confirming understanding of the dimensions and performance standards.
 - 2) Recognizing strengths and achievements.
 - 3) Confirming previously identified functional areas needing improvement and establishing agreement about how improvement is to be accomplished.
 - 4) Identifying areas in which education, training, or other development opportunities are needed and a strategy for developing skills, knowledge, or abilities. Discuss and confirm understanding and agreement about the steps an employee will take to accomplish self-development goals as well as how you or the Sheriff's Office will help.
- c. Plan to meet with an employee in private.
- d. Review your draft of the Probationary/Conditional Probation Performance Evaluation Form with an employee, discussing his or her strengths, covering each point in detail. This sets a positive tone to start the discussion.
- e. Discuss previously identified areas needing improvement. Ask an employee for suggestions about how he or she will improve performance. Introduce your ideas for improvement as well.
- f. Show interest in your employee's progress and your willingness to take up the discussion again at any time. Close the evaluation after all points have been covered and an employee has had the opportunity to provide input.
- g. If changes will be made to the evaluation, discuss those changes and agree upon a date when the final draft of the evaluation will be prepared and signed.

- h. After necessary changes have been made, have an employee sign the Probationary/Conditional Probation Performance Evaluation Form. An employee's signature indicates that he or she has read the evaluation and that a discussion has taken place. It does not signify that an employee agrees with the evaluation.
- i. You may attach work standards, supplemental performance information, work samples, and additional comments to the evaluation form. Inform an employee that he or she can add or attach comments to the Probationary/Conditional Probation Performance Evaluation Form as well. If an employee wants to add comments, allow time for him or her to write them and attach the comments to the original, signed file copy. Comments should be filed with the performance evaluation.

5. Producing

- a. The original of the signed probationary performance evaluation will be forwarded to a rater's supervisor for review, comment, and signature, and forwarded to each supervisor in an employee's chain of command until it reaches the Chief Deputy, who will review and sign off on it. The Chief Deputy will then forward the completed performance evaluation to the Deputy Chief of Administration who will have it filed in an employee's permanent personnel record, and a copy will be returned to the rating supervisor and the employee to be used it as a guide for the next evaluation, and to serve as a base for improving performance and professional development.
- b. During the 12 month probationary period, a probationary employee must be reminded by their rating supervisor, especially if performance is below expectations or unsatisfactory, that continued performance below expectations could lead to dismissal without appeal, or for those promoted or transferred, to a reversal to their previous position. Obviously efforts will be made for remedial or other special training before taking such a drastic step, but the probationary period is designed to ensure that an employee can meet the expectations of a position

I. Observation and Feedback

Observing employee performance and offering feedback must become a routine part of managing employee performance. Feedback is most effective in reinforcing or improving work performance when an employee has confidence in the basis of that feedback. As a supervisor you will be more confident when giving feedback based on information you can support.

1. Observing Employee Performance

- a. Observation involves noticing specific facts, events, or behaviors related to work performance and the results of work performance that when combined becomes the raw data upon which effective performance feedback is based. When you observe the output employees generate and the impact of their work, you are gathering information needed to make both praise and constructive feedback. Observation is the basis for feedback and suggests actions that might be taken to support, develop, or improve performance.

- b. Feedback based on observed or verifiable data is more likely to influence employee behavior than feedback that cannot be supported by firsthand information. It is not always possible, however, to observe employees at work all the time, but you must build into your schedule occasions to observe their performance. By doing so you provide opportunities to understand what they do, to talk with and get feedback from them, to see employees as they perform at their best, and to recognize areas where their performance could be improved.

2. Feedback

- a. Feedback may be defined as “information about past behavior, delivered in the present, which may influence future behavior.” (What Did You Say?: The Art of Giving and Receiving Feedback by Charles and Edith Seashore, Douglas Charles Press, North Attleborough, MA 1992.)
- b. Feedback is influential. When employees receive feedback that is timely, frequent, and specific they are more likely to understand what is expected of them and repeat successful performance.
- c. Feedback that describes observed or verifiable behavior and facts is different from feedback that evaluates the person based on assumptions, interpretations, generalizations, and judgments about what the behavior or facts mean. Compare the following statements:
 - 1. That was a very poor report. I wish you were more committed to doing a good job.
 - 2. Your report was not formatted according to standard practice and the content was based on data that is out of date.

Note that in statement #1, the speaker has judged the employee as lacking commitment, and the statement about the report being “poor” is evaluative without being helpful. Statement #2, however, tells the employee exactly what needs to be improved without judging the employee’s character or motives. An employee’s performance is more likely to improve when you ask them to do something differently rather than asking them to be different. Most people become defensive when they feel judged, and are more likely to accept feedback that is behavioral.

- d. Behavioral feedback consists of statements about observed or verified behavior related to performance standards. If an employee does not understand what you expect or what the standards are, or you do not give clear messages about expectations or confirm an employee’s understanding of expectations, an employee will not have a chance to improve performance or to meet performance expectations.

3. Guidelines for Giving Behavioral Feedback

- a. Behavioral feedback should be based on specific, observable, or verifiable data and information, and should be delivered as close to the event or behavior as possible.

I have observed that you arrived at 8:30 on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday rather than at 8:00.

After describing your observations to the employee, ask for his or her input before you decide what the behavior means. For example, you may observe that an employee has been arriving late over a period of days. Before you decide that the employee is being irresponsible, get more information. You may find that there is a valid reason for the behavior, or there are other factors that would contribute to your understanding.

I'd like to talk with you about the reasons for your late arrival.

Discuss the impact of the performance or its consequences, but never make threats or promises. When an employee understands the impact of performance, he or she will know why it is important.

As a result of your late arrival, staff from the previous shift had to stay over to cover your work.

- b. Communicate by your words, body language, and tone of voice that your intention is to be helpful when giving feedback. The goal of feedback is to reinforce or redirect performance so that the employee can be successful.

Examples:

The behavioral approach to feedback is valuable when describing performance that needs to be improved, because the employee learns which specific behaviors to change rather than receiving general comments that don't give much information. Compare the following statements.

1. This report was not your best work.
2. This report was completed three days after the incident when you know that we must have reports by the end of a shift. If there had been a further incident involving the same person, the next shift would not have known and officers could have been injured. What will it take to prepare the report on time in the future?

Statement #1 is vague and does not clearly indicate a specific performance problem, while statement #2 gives the employee a more complete picture of what needs to be improved, and the importance of improving. It also enlists his or her support in improving future performance.

- c. Behavioral feedback is also valuable when giving feedback about successful performance. Compare the following statements:
 - 1. Terrific job!
 - 2. Everyone in the unit appreciates the way you handled that situation. You identified the areas where we were confused, you summarized to help us stay on track, and you maintained calm. As a result, we were able to resolve the situation rather than having it become much worse.

When feedback about successful performance is given in specific behavioral terms, an employee knows which behaviors to continue or repeat.

- d. Feedback about performance in need of improvement is best delivered in private to avoid embarrassment to an employee. In some situations, employees are embarrassed when feedback about successful performance is given in front of others. Feedback is more effective if you know and respect the preferences of your employees. Notes that you keep about performance should also be phrased in behavioral terms. Avoid statements that would imply subjective judgment or prejudice about an employee's personality, character, or motives. Encourage your employees to keep records of their own accomplishments.
- e. The supervisor and his or her employee should exchange performance-related information throughout rating periods. At these discussions, take time to discuss accomplishments, possible needs for further training, and any other problems or concerns. If there are performance problems, schedule meetings at regular intervals for the purpose of providing feedback on performance. This practice will address issues promptly and foster a problem-solving approach rather than confrontation.
- f. Occasionally, performance problems may arise that will warrant documentation and performance counseling. Before initiating any formal corrective or disciplinary action, contact your supervisor, Captain or Deputy Chief, a Deputy Chief, or the Chief Deputy for guidance and assistance.

4. Conclusion

- a. Performance management is intended to break down barriers and maintain open communication between employees and their supervisors, creating an atmosphere that allows candid approaches to discussions relating to performance. During rating periods, supervisors and employees will want to review completed performance evaluations and use them as a basis for observation and feedback.
- b. After you have written your first performance evaluation, you will have the resources you need to do an effective job as a supervisor. You will have a current job description and information on dimensions and performance standards in place, and will have a supportable basis for making future evaluations. You will have documented your employees' performance, and given them clear expectations about their performance for the next rating period. You will have provided your employees with opportunities to improve performance where indicated. There should be no surprises about what is expected of every employee. If you follow these guidelines, you will find the process of performance management to be constructive and satisfying.

J. Unsatisfactory Performance Notification (Revised July 6, 2011)

1. To ensure that employees receive timely and relevant feedback regarding unsatisfactory performances, Supervisors will provide written notice of unsatisfactory performance to non-probationary employees in a timely manner prior to the end of the semi-annual rating period.
 - a. The written notice will consist of documentation of the unsatisfactory performance(s) on an Employee Counseling Form (See Appendix 18) or in memo form as is appropriate for the circumstances.
 - b. The written notice must take place if the unsatisfactory performance would be evaluated and scored as "Unsatisfactory" according to the performance categories as specified in Part I of the Semi-Annual Evaluation Report.
 - c. If the unsatisfactory performance continues after the counseling, the specific information must be included in the semi-annual performance evaluation.
 - d. In the event unsatisfactory performance is observed prior to the semi-annual rating period, Supervisors will provide written notice of unsatisfactory performance to the non-probationary employee in a timely manner. The employee will be given reasonable opportunity to correct the deficiency prior to the semi-annual annual performance evaluation. If the deficiency is not corrected, it will be included on the next following semi-annual performance evaluation.
2. This practice ensures that employees receive timely and relevant feedback regarding unsatisfactory performances while providing employees adequate time to demonstrate consistent improvement prior to the semi-annual performance evaluations.
3. The written notification enables the Supervisor to document the unsatisfactory performance(s) on the semi-annual performance evaluation in the event the employee does not demonstrate improvement.
4. Monthly probationary or conditional probation performance evaluations are exempt from this requirement.

K. Rater Training

When a deputy is promoted into a position where he or she will be responsible for conducting performance evaluations, a training program will be provided that explains the processes involved and the expected outcomes of a performance management system as developed for the Sheriff's Office. In addition, supervisors will be provided periodic refresher sessions relating to the performance management system to not only readdress the basic procedures relating to performance management, but to provide a forum for discussion relating to any problems associated with the system, and the development of solutions.

By order of: Sheriff James L. Berrong

4.02 Personnel Early Warning System

The Personnel Early Warning System (PEWS) is established to provide systematic reviews of specific, significant events involving Sheriff's Office employees. This system is necessary for the Sheriff's Office to exercise its responsibility to evaluate, identify, and assist employees who exhibit signs of performance and/or stress related problems. PEWS is only one of the methods by which employees are identified as possibly needing assistance with performance and/or stress related problems, and is intended to serve as a systematic approach to highlight tendencies that may otherwise be overlooked.

A. Definitions

1. Confidentiality – This directive will not be released outside the Sheriff's Office without authorization of the Sheriff. Under no circumstances will information gained on individual employees through PEWS be disseminated to unauthorized persons. Review files will be maintained in the Internal Affairs (IA) Investigator's office. Reviews of files are subject, as are all records, to release by court order. When a review has been conducted and there is no need for intervention, the review will not be released. Only completed PEWS reviews will be considered for release to authorized persons, and a review is not considered complete until the follow-up monitoring period expires.
2. Personnel Early Warning System (PEWS) - A time-sensitive system designed to effectively organize critical performance and evaluation data in a format conducive to promptly identify early indicators of certain performance and/or stress related problems, and to facilitate any necessary or appropriate follow-up activities. This directive is applicable to all certified and non-certified sworn Sheriff's Office personnel. There will be no retroactive application of this directive. Monitoring for criteria discussed below that would create a PEWS review will begin with the effective date of this manual.

3. Review – A consideration of past events, circumstances, and/or facts to determine whether or not a pattern exists that merits further attention and/or intervention by supervision. It is not a disciplinary measure. The fact that a review is being conducted does not mean that a problem exists, just that there is a need for closer examination of existing documentation and any other relevant performance measures. The objective of a review is improved performance in the area being reviewed, if needed, and not discipline, although a review may begin laying the groundwork for progressive disciplinary action if a problem is found and an employee fails to correct it. It is important to note that any disciplinary action that may occur will occur as a result of subsequent action after a review, not from a revisiting of any specific events that initiated the review.

B. Reporting Requirements

Supervisors are responsible for reporting all aspects of their subordinates' performance. Additionally, employees will be identified as candidates for a PEWS review based on the following actions or behaviors:

1. Occurrences such as, but not limited to:
 - a. Formal complaints.
 - b. Use of Force Reports.
 - c. Disciplinary actions.
 - d. Civil or Criminal litigation.
 - e. Pursuit reports.
 - f. Unsatisfactory Semi-Annual Evaluation.
 - g. Work related accidents
 - h. Positive results on a Sheriff's Office ordered drug or alcohol test.
2. These occurrences will be compiled by the IA Investigator into a specially designed database that will determine when a request for review will be initiated based on a threshold of any 3 employee occurrences in a 365 day period.

C. PEWS Review

1. The IA Investigator may initiate a PEWS review after review of reports relating to one, or any number of the targeted incidents presented above, and will work closely with line supervisors who are crucial to the success of PEWS since they have day-to-day contact with their employees, are in the best situation to observe their activities and actions, and are best able to take action to intervene if there is any indication of behavior that could be detrimental to them or the Sheriff's Office. Each line supervisor should know the backgrounds of their employees, especially in relation to any of the targeted incidents listed above, and will report their concerns to a function Captain or Deputy Chief.

2. A PEWS review will consist of a review of appropriate records as well as any other relevant performance criteria of identified employees and will be approved by the Sheriff or designee, and prepare a report that will include findings of fact and recommendations as to actions needed, or a statement that follow-up action is not necessary. If intervention appears to be warranted, the IA Investigator will inform the Chief Deputy who will call a review board consisting of the IA Investigator, a supervisor from the same function who does not supervise the employee involved, the function Captain or Deputy Chief, and the Deputy Chief over the function involved. The review board will:
 - a. Review all reports relating to activities that created the need to initiate a PEWS review.
 - b. If warranted by the review, any or all of the following actions may be taken by the review board:
 - 1) Counseling by the employee's supervisor.
 - 2) Counseling by someone higher in the chain of command.
 - 3) Develop remedial action that may include specific training efforts that would be developed in conjunction with the Training Function.
 - 4) Conduct a special performance evaluation process designed to initiate peer review and counseling with the employee's supervisor and other members of the function.
 - 5) Coordination with the Employee Assistance Program and/or a Sheriff's Office Chaplain.
 - 6) Other alternatives, as appropriate, that may include psychological services, stress abatement programs, or specialized training programs.
3. Original review documentation will be maintained in the IA Investigator's office. Function Captains are not to maintain files relating to a PEWS review to preserve the confidentiality of the files. Follow up monitoring of recommendations developed from a PEWS review will be documented on the Semi-Annual Performance Evaluation Form, and a copy of the evaluation will be forwarded to the IA Investigator for inclusion in the PEWS review file.
4. Follow up monitoring will be conducted for a period of time established in the PEWS review report to ensure that identified problems are being resolved. Ordinarily, the time period for review will range from 6 months to a year, but may be shorter or longer as needs dictate. Intervention and subsequent performance will be a part of the employee's scheduled performance evaluations. Other progress reports may be required by the PEWS review report.
5. Additional Instances During the Monitoring Period – Additional incidents involving matters under review by PEWS will be added to the review process being conducted.
6. Additional Instances After Review Monitoring is Completed – After a review-monitoring period has been completed, the criteria for another PEWS review must be met before another review can be initiated. The Chief Deputy must approve any variation from this rule.

D. Annual Evaluation

The IA Investigator will evaluate PEWS reviews annually to determine its effectiveness in intervention efforts, and will include quantitative and qualitative information useful in determining needs for training and/or for changes in policies and procedures. A report will be made and forwarded to the Sheriff and Chief Deputy on the results of the review, and may include information such as the following:

1. Number of employees identified for a PEWS review.
2. Number of subsequent required monitoring on identified employees.
3. Feedback on the PEWS system from functions.
4. Information on actions taken with identified employees requiring monitoring.

5.00 Disciplinary Procedures

The Sheriff's Office depends on the personal integrity of all employees, and discipline is a process of imposing sanctions that will train or develop employees that involves positive reward, training, counseling, and punitive action, with a commitment to the Codes of Ethics and Conduct. The disciplinary system includes procedures for:

- Remedial training designed to overcome difficulties and improve performance.
- Counseling designed to assist an employee in growth and development.
- Punitive actions in the interest of discipline.

5.01 Remedial Training

Remedial training can be a positive, constructive method of handling an employee's ability to perform properly or to correct problems that effect performance. Supervisors cannot assume that their employees know everything, so when an employee performs in an unacceptable manner, or displays a lack of understanding of a process or procedure, they should immediately determine the employee's level of training and knowledge. If a gap exists between what appears to be known and what should be known, remedial training may be a solution. Supervisors should be aware of the remedial training resources available and make every effort to coordinate the necessary training (also see GO 6.01, Training).

- A. Supervisors may request remedial training from Training with approval from the appropriate Deputy Chief based on:
 - 1. A request for training to resolve an identified performance deficiency
 - 2. The result of an employee's performance evaluation
- B. The Training Function will be a support role and may assist in the following:
 - 1. Assisting a supervisor in identifying the specific training needed to correct a deficiency.
 - a. Depending on the need for immediate or delayed action, remedial training should be conducted within 30 days and all documentation will be placed in the employee's training file.
 - b. If remediation is urgent, Training will work with the employee's supervisor to determine appropriate training programs available, and may arrange for in-house training based on developed training objectives.

- C. After development of a remedial training program, Training will coordinate the date, place, and time for instruction. Employees scheduled for remedial training sessions are required to attend. Willful non-attendance will result in disciplinary action.
- D. After successful completion of remedial training, an employee's training record will be updated by including a copy of the remedial training outline in the employee's training file.
- E. Failure to successfully complete remedial training may result in punitive disciplinary action.
- F. A written report prepared by Training, and/or the designated instructor, containing an assessment of the extent to which training objectives were accomplished, will be forwarded to the appropriate supervisor.

5.02 Counseling

- A. Supervisors, within their capabilities, will counsel employees concerning job-related matters, recognizing that many things may impact on an employee's job and performance such as family and other personal matters. Counseling may include recognizing unacceptable behaviors or actions, determining reasons for a particular behavior, or creating ways to correct or improve performance or to solve a problem.
- B. Any time a supervisor counsels an employee for any reason, he or she will complete a Employee Counseling Form or a memorandum (see Appendix 18.)
- C. The chain of command may be used effectively in the counseling process. Often the use of someone outside the employee's direct line of supervision may add a different perspective to a situation causing the need for counseling.

5.03 Punitive Disciplinary Actions

A. The following actions may be taken against an employee for disciplinary purposes:

1. Oral or Written Counseling: Violation of any order, policy, or procedure may result in an oral or written counseling. Supervisors may issue these without the prior approval of their Captain, Deputy Chief, or the Chief Deputy. A supervisor who issues an oral or written counseling will maintain a written record of the counseling, and the basic reason for it, for a period of 1 year. Supervisors must inform the employee being counseled that the action is a formal oral or written counseling.
2. Written Reprimand: A written reprimand may be issued by a supervisor and those are maintained in the employee's personnel file for a period of up to 3 years. Supervisors may issue a written reprimand in situations where an oral reprimand has not resulted in the expected improvement, or where more severe action is warranted. Supervisors may issue a written reprimand without prior approval of their Captain, Deputy Chief, or the Chief Deputy, but must forward a copy of the reprimand through the chain of command to the Chief Deputy.
3. Suspension from Duty: Supervisors may immediately suspend from duty any employee, with pay, who reports to work unfit for service as defined in the Code of Conduct. Such suspension will be immediately reported to their Captain and/or the appropriate Deputy Chief and to the Chief Deputy. The Chief Deputy will confirm and authorize such suspensions in writing and will exercise the disciplinary procedures deemed appropriate. According to federal law, employees who are exempt from overtime will not be suspended without pay for periods of less than one full workday. An employee may also be suspended without pay by the Sheriff or Chief Deputy based upon a sustained violation of the code of conduct. Non-exempt employees may be suspended without pay on an hourly basis.

4. Placed on Probation: Employees may be placed back on probation for a period not to exceed 12 months initially.
 5. Demotion in Rank: Done on the recommendation of the Chief Deputy, with concurrence by the Sheriff.
 6. Dismissal: The most severe form of internal discipline that can only be accomplished after review and concurrence by the Sheriff.
- B. Appropriate disciplinary action may be initiated against employees for any violation of the Code of Conduct, or any violation of the Policies and Procedures manuals of the Blount County Sheriff's Office.
- C. Nothing in this section is limiting in the sense of charges against employees because the alleged act or omission does not specifically appear in the Code of Conduct, or the policies and procedures established in other manuals that guide the operation of the Sheriff's Office, or in local, state, or federal laws.

D. Code of Conduct

The rules and regulations found in the Code of Conduct, in addition to the adopted policies and procedures guiding the various operations of the Sheriff's Office, specify the conduct, behavior, and appearance for employees, who will have access to the Code of Conduct as well as the manuals appropriate to their duties and responsibilities. The PowerDMS System which hosts the "Electronic Directives Manual" is internet based and will be accessible to all employees on a 24-hour basis. The "Electronic Directives Manual" serves as a repository for agency written directives and provides a system for agency employees to acknowledge receipt and understanding of agency directives. In addition, the entire, updated manual is maintained by the Accreditation Manager and copies will be stored on thumb drives within each function of the Sheriff's Office.

Upon initial appointment, new employees will be provided with a unique user name, password, and receive instruction on how to access the "Electronic Directives Manual." Newly hired employees will be trained during orientation.

During orientation (see GO 6.01, Training), the Code of Conduct and the appropriate operating manuals are explained. Subsequently during orientation and the on-the-job training programs, training officers and supervisors will help each new employee to thoroughly understand the Code of Conduct as well as the policies and procedures manual directly related to their jobs. Supervisors are encouraged to periodically review these rules and regulations, as well as operations manuals, with all employees, suggesting changes as appropriate.

E. Supervisory Responsibility and Disciplinary Authority

1. Supervisors are crucial in the disciplinary process, having the best opportunity to observe the conduct and appearance of their employees, and to detect those instances when disciplinary action may be warranted (remedial training, counseling, or punishment). They also have the opportunity to better understand the personality traits of their personnel and to determine the most effective methods of discipline.
2. Line Supervisors have the authority to resolve some minor violations without prior approval of their Captain or Deputy Chief, and may issue either an oral or written counseling in response to such a violation. Subsequent minor violations, especially of the same or similar rule or regulation, may move the violation to a more serious level, requiring a report of the findings to be filed with their Captain or Deputy Chief. The function Captain or appropriate supervisor will then submit the initial findings to the appropriate Deputy Chief who will in turn report the matter to the Chief Deputy.
3. Supervisors should attempt to begin employee discipline with the least punitive measures that are appropriate. If these do not work, then increasingly more severe measures may be required. While this process may take time, it is important that each employee be dealt with justly, as an individual, and in a manner clearly indicating positive, constructive measures designed to change behavior or performance before the imposition of more negative sanctions.

5.04 Levels of Violations

- A. The Sheriff's Office has established a system that identifies differing levels of violation of its Code of Conduct and policies and procedures: minor and serious. A violation of any part of the contents of this manual, and any part of an operational manual, will carry, at a minimum, a minor designation. Numerous areas, either entire rules, regulations, policies, or procedures, or parts thereof, may carry a serious violation designation, and will be so noted. The overall purpose of classifying violations is to identify those areas in which management has a greater interest, to promote compliance, and to attempt to assure continuity in meting out punitive action.
- B. Each level of violation is assigned a specific range of sanctions that will be administered with consistency, and based as much as possible on what has been administered previously to other employees for similar violations. Sanctions will also be administered based on both the aggravating and mitigating circumstances surrounding an incident. The range of sanctions that will apply to any serious violation will include any one, or combination of, the following:
1. Dismissal.
 2. Demotion in rank.
 3. Suspension from duty without pay.
 4. Placed on Probation.
 5. Written reprimand.
 6. Oral or written counseling.
 7. Remedial training.
- C. The range of sanctions that will apply to a minor violation will be limited to any one, or a combination of, the following:

1. Suspension from duty without pay.
2. Placed on Probation.
3. Written reprimand.
4. Oral or written counseling.
5. Remedial training.

D. Documentation Relating to Disciplinary Action

1. Supervisors will use a memorandum to inform employees being charged with violations, and the same will be used to summarize the conclusion of fact relating to disciplinary actions, including those relating to administrative review discipline hearings. When a supervisor has decided on a recommended disciplinary action resulting from a minor violation, or at the conclusion of hearings related to discipline, a supervisor or a hearing officer will forward all documentation relating to the complaint to the Chief Deputy, who will take any of the following actions:
 - a. Unfounded: There was sufficient evidence to prove the complaint or incident is false or not factual and did not occur.
 - b. Exonerated: There is sufficient evidence to indicate that the act or incident did occur, but the actions were justified, lawful, and proper.
 - c. Not Sustained: There is insufficient evidence to clearly prove or disprove the complaint or incident.
 - d. Sustained - No Discipline: There is sufficient evidence to establish that the incident did occur, but the facts and circumstances are of such a nature that formal discipline is not warranted.
 - e. Sustained: There is evidence to establish that the incident did occur, and the facts and circumstances support the determination that these actions constitute misconduct.
2. The Chief Deputy will issue a notice of the disciplinary action taken in relation to a complaint to the employee's supervisor in memorandum form.

E. Appeals

1. Appeals of disciplinary actions will be processed through the administrative review process presented below.
2. Employees who wish to appeal a disciplinary action must request to do so in memorandum form and submit it to the Chief Deputy within 5 working days after the effective date of the disciplinary action for the review to be conducted. Requests for review that are submitted after this time will not be considered.
3. Employees may contest either the conclusion of fact on which a disciplinary action is based, or the specific penalty prescribed.

5.05 Administrative Review Process

The Administrative Review Process provides employees an appeal process for disciplinary actions. Guidelines are set for the regulation of internal affairs investigations (Chapter 7) and the rights of employees during investigations (Chapter 6, Employee Relations).

At Level 1, the administrative review process affords a forum where the Chief Deputy, or someone designated by the Chief Deputy to act as a Hearing Officer, addresses the facts of each disciplinary action or grievance. Level 2 moves an issue to the Merit Service Board that reviews decisions from a Level 1 hearing relating to disciplinary actions. Level 3 is a judicial review of the Merit Service Board's actions in a manner prescribed by law. This process is sanctioned by Tennessee statute that affords administrative agencies the authority and responsibility to resolve administrative matters.

A. Level 1 Hearing:

Issues relating to disciplinary action appeals formally enter the administrative review process at this level, and the following procedures will apply:

1. The Chief Deputy, or designee, will be the Hearing Officer.
2. A Hearing Officer will set the date and time for a hearing. Any party to a hearing may request a postponement for the purpose of preparing evidence or to allow a witness to attend. Continuous postponements will not be allowed.
3. The purpose of a hearing is to identify facts relating to a matter involving discipline or a grievance. A Hearing Officer will not be expected to know or follow rules of evidence, but the hearing will not work to abrogate constitutionally guaranteed rights or those privileges generally recognized by law.

Blount County Sheriff's Office Human Resources Rules and Regulations Manual Chapter 5
(Reviewed 01/30/2020, 03/01/2022, Approved by County Commission 05/21/2020)

4. A Hearing Officer will schedule a hearing to be conducted not later than 10 working days following a request for review of a disciplinary action or a grievance decision.
5. Assertions related to an appeal of a disciplinary action or grievance decision must be reduced to writing, dated, and signed by an employee requesting a hearing. Assertions not signed will not be considered.
6. If an assertion relates to a complaint, both the complainant and responding employee must be present for the hearing.
7. A complainant and/or a responding employee will not be represented at a Level 1 hearing by an attorney, another employee of the Sheriff's Office, or by any other person. Respondent employees may, at their own expense, secure the assistance of an attorney in preparing for a hearing.
8. A Hearing Officer may administratively compel employees to be present and testify in a Level 1 hearing.
9. Each party will have the right to examine and cross-examine witnesses and to present a summation at the close of the hearing.
10. Written statements from witnesses may be presented when a witness is unable, for an acceptable reason, to attend to provide verbal testimony. Written statements must be dated and signed by a witness.
11. A Hearing Officer will render a written decision within 10 working days after the conclusion of the hearing, and will provide parties to an appeal with a written summary of the outcome of a hearing that will include the following:
 - a. A statement of the original allegation.
 - b. The classification applied to the allegation by the Hearing Officer.
 - c. Penalties applied, if any.
 - d. A Hearing Officer's signature.
12. A copy of both the original assertion and decision of the hearing will be forwarded to the Chief Deputy (if he is not the Hearing Officer) and to the Deputy Chief of Administration, who will place them in a secure file.
13. The Chief Deputy will retain evidence gathered during the course of a hearing for a period of 10 years.
14. Verbal testimony received during a hearing may be recorded and subsequently reduced to writing and included in the file, but neither recording nor preparing a written summary of the proceedings is required.
15. An original complainant may withdraw complaints against an employee before a hearing is conducted.

B. Level 2 Hearing

1. Employees have the right to appeal the decision of a Level 1 hearing if filed with the Merit Service Board within 10 working days after the Chief Deputy, or the designated Hearing Officer, has filed the Level 1 decision. The appellant must file the following information in making the appeal:
 - a. A statement of the basis for the appeal.
 - b. The appellant's signature.
2. The Merit Service Board will conduct a hearing within 30 calendar days of receipt of an appeal of a Level 1 Hearing decision relating to discipline, and will act in accordance with rules and regulations set by the Board for such hearings. Counsel may represent appellants at any hearings set by the Board.
3. The Board, when conducting hearings, has the power to administer oaths, take depositions, issue subpoenas, compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, accounts, papers, records, documents, and testimony in accordance with Chapter 332, Private Acts of 1972.
4. Failure to comply with orders of the Board, or a witness refuses to testify on any matter legally before the Board, will be subject to contempt proceedings in any court of record in the county.
5. The Board may affirm, modify, or reverse the decision of a Level 1 Hearing, and may provide whatever recourse desired. A copy of the decision, and material introduced at each level, will be placed in the employee's personnel file, and the Chief Deputy will maintain a confidential file for a period of 10 years.

C. Level 3 Judicial Review

1. Employees have the right to judicial review by the courts of a decision of a Level 2 Hearing relating to disciplinary action in a manner provided by law. Employees will not appeal a decision at Level 1 without first participating in a Level 2 Hearing before the Merit Service Board. Failure to comply with this procedure may result in disciplinary action against the employee, regardless of the outcome of a Level 1 or Level 2 hearing.
2. If an employee so desires, the decision of the Merit Service Board at Level 2 will be the subject of an appeal to Level 3, and such appeal will be in the manner provided for by the law for the review of administrative decisions.

By order of: Sheriff James L. Berrong

6.01 Line-of-Duty Death or Serious Injury

The line-of-duty death or serious injury of an employee is the most traumatic, difficult incident that a public safety agency will ever encounter. The manner in which it is dealt with may have life-long ramifications for survivors, employees, and the community. The purpose of this section is to be prepared for an incident that everyone hopes will never happen. By preparing a plan of action, the Sheriff's Office can be better prepared to deal effectively with the stress associated with the incident on survivors, including family and employees; provide comfort and assistance to the family of the deceased or injured employee; organize and assist in the conduct of funeral services; coordinate the recovery of benefits; provide assurance to the community; and, establish a support system to address the long-term needs of survivors and co-workers. The following procedures are to be used in incidents following a serious injury or death of an employee while in the performance of work-related duties:

A. Line-of-Duty Death Information Form

All personnel will complete a Line-of-Duty Death Information Form (Appendix 22) that will be maintained in the office of the Administrative Captain. This form will provide invaluable assistance to the Sheriff's Office in making survivor notifications, in assisting in making funeral arrangements, and be a great assistance to the family in getting survivor benefits. Completion of Part I is mandatory while Part II is optional, but you are strongly encouraged to complete it as well.

B. Death Notification Procedure

1. The Chief Deputy will, as soon as possible after notification of a death or serious injury, go to the Justice Center and obtain a LODDI form, using the information entered on it to brief the Sheriff. The death notification procedure requires a specific, immediate, delegated response bringing together the

(Reviewed 01/30/2020, 03/01/2022, Approved by County Commission 05/21/2020)

- following people:
- a. Sheriff
 - b. Deputy Chiefs
 - c. A Chaplain
 - d. Supervisor and/or close friends of the employee
2. Due to the obvious emotional reactions that usually follow the delivery of such news, it is suggested that a Chaplain, in the presence of a Sheriff's Office representative(s), make the notification. The Sheriff's Office representative(s) should be the Sheriff, the Chief Deputy, or one of the Deputy Chiefs. It will be important to limit the number of people in this initial notification team. Many in the Sheriff's Office will want to be available for the survivors, but the news needs to come from a very small group. There are specific death notification procedures that include not only the delivery of the news, but also the support of the deceased officer's family both initially and long term. A Chaplain would start this process and remain in this capacity as long as the family needs and desires his or her presence.

C. Public Notification

1. After notifying a family in the line-of-duty death of an employee, it is extremely important to provide frequent media briefings that serve to ensure that accurate information is released, and to reassure the community that the Sheriff's Office is functioning.
2. After the initial family notification is made, the Sheriff will ask that all Blount County flags be lowered to half-staff.
3. Media briefings will be conducted by the Sheriff, or in his absence, the Chief Deputy, and may be coordinated through the Public Information Officer. As soon as practical, the Chief Deputy will initiate a nationwide teletype containing the following information:
 - a. Identification of the employee, and the circumstances surrounding the line-of-duty death.
 - b. Funeral arrangements.
 - c. Point of contact within the Sheriff's Office for officers and agencies wishing to attend the funeral.

D. Protocol for a Sheriff's Office Funeral

1. Upon the death (in the line of duty) of a Sheriff's Office employee, the following positions should be appointed:
 - a. Funeral Operations Coordinator (FOC) - Responsible for the entire funeral operation. The FOC should be at least at a Lieutenant's level due to the nature of the people to be managed in this event. He or she will also act as command officer at the funeral service, and all other members of the funeral operations command staff will assist the coordinator in the planning, directing, and carrying out of the funeral service.
 - b. Chaplain - The Chaplain, and/or family minister, will be responsible for conducting the funeral services (wake, rosary, memorial service, committal service, etc.), and meeting the spiritual and emotional needs of the family. The Chaplain should work in close concert with the FOC to ensure that all phases of planning are complete and will in fact work to meet family and Sheriff's Office desires.

- c. Family Liaison - This person (or persons) will remain in contact with the family, shielding the family from unwanted media attention, providing transportation, and serving as a conduit between the FOC and the family. This person(s) will also assist the family with all benefit matters after the funeral.
 - d. Traffic Supervisor - Responsible for coordinating and conducting any and all movements of vehicles involved in the funeral. (Movement of the remains from the funeral home to the church, family processions, divisional processions, funeral processions, etc.) This supervisor will need to make arrangements with other agencies, such as the Tennessee Highway Patrol and local municipal police departments, in order to allow as many BCSO employees to attend the funeral as possible.
 - e. Ceremonial Unit Supervisor - Responsible for all ceremonial rites such as taps, 21-gun salute, bagpipes, and flag folding at the funeral home, church, and/or cemetery.
2. The FOC will arrange a meeting with the family, including the Chaplain, to accomplish the following:
- a. Explain what a law enforcement funeral entails.
 - b. Determine if the family desires a law enforcement funeral service and/or the Blount County Sheriff's Office assistance.
 - c. Offer assistance to the family contact person(s) who will arrange transportation and/or lodging needs for family members arriving from other locations.
 - d. Let the family choose the funeral home and clergy desired.
 - e. Once selected, contact the funeral home and schedule a meeting for the family.
 - f. Ensure that the family has signed the necessary forms (hospital, coroner, and/or medical release forms).
 - g. If the family wishes the deceased employee to be buried in uniform, ensure that a clean uniform in good repair is available.
 - h. Ask the family's preference on pallbearers, if this is not to be provided by the ceremonial unit.
 - i. Get all the information on the deceased employee and their dependents for the necessary county, state, and federal benefit forms.
3. After the family meeting, the FOC should accomplish the following:
- a. Contact the pallbearers and compile a list for the funeral home personnel to be used in obituary and newspaper notices. The pallbearers will need as much time as possible to rehearse and practice their maneuvers.
 - b. Make arrangements for an honor watch at the funeral home or church. Included during this 7-day period of mourning would be the normal observances already subscribed to by law enforcement agencies, such as: black bands on badges and appropriate flags flown at half mast during the period of mourning.

- c. Secure an American Flag for the casket.
 - d. Secure a photograph of the deceased from the family or the BCSO's records for use by the funeral director (styling of hair, restoration work, etc.) and for the news media.
4. Meeting of family and with funeral home (including Chaplain):
- a. Give the funeral director the list of the pallbearers, and inform them that a law enforcement funeral service will be held with details to be worked out later with him and a Chaplain.
 - b. Take note of all service and interment times and places.
 - c. Get minister's name and phone number if the service is not to be done by a Chaplain. (The Chaplain will then become the liaison between the clergy and the FOC.)
 - d. Obtain the name of the funeral director that will be in charge of the funeral and burial services (especially important if more than one funeral home is involved in cases where burial may be in another location).
 - e. Determine if it will be open or closed casket service and if open, at what point in the service will the casket be opened, and when the casket will be closed for the final time (for removal of the badge, awards, weapons, etc.).
 - f. Determine when the deceased will be ready for viewing or to lie in state.
 - g. Immediately after the family and funeral home meeting, give all the information of funeral and burial service times and location to:
 - 1) Sheriff
 - 2) Chief Deputy
 - 3) Deputy Chiefs
 - 4) Deceased employee's supervisor
 - 5) Public Information Officer
 - 6) Communications Center
 - 7) Post notice in the Patrol and Corrections Briefing Rooms, and all other bulletin boards in the Justice Center and Courthouse
 - 8) Blount County Human Resources
5. Meeting between Chaplain and the minister selected by the family:
- a. If the funeral service is to be conducted by clergy other than a Chaplain, he or she should meet with them to explain what a law enforcement funeral service consists of.
 - b. Obtain the order of the service for the funeral and committal services.
6. The FOC will ensure that the following arrangements are made as a part of operational planning:
- a. Make arrangements for 24-hour honor watch and viewing of the deceased at the funeral home.
 - b. Arrange to have a door at the funeral home left unlocked if they normally close at a certain time.

- c. Make a diagram of the sanctuary/auditorium and other necessary areas, because it is not unusual for attendance at a funeral resulting from a line-of-duty death to reach as high as several thousand people. Even if the viewing is scheduled for a local funeral home, it may be necessary to schedule the actual service for a facility that can safely accommodate a large crowd.
- d. Determine the maximum occupancy of facilities and work out arrangements for an overflow crowd. Secure a public address system if necessary.
- e. Determine where the family will enter for the funeral service so that a guard can be properly posted.
- f. Determine seating arrangements and determine reserve seating.
- g. Make a diagram of the cemetery and surrounding areas.
- h. Determine where entrances to the cemetery are located, processional routes to the graveside, and parking locations.
- i. Determine where the funeral coach and family limousine will stop.
- j. Determine where the family will be during the committal service and locations for the ceremonial unit, media, honor guards, pallbearers, family friends and citizens, and uniformed officers.
- k. Determine if all the arrangements have been made for:
 - 1) The funeral service (responsibility of the FOC).
 - 2) Procession times, routes, and parking logistics: responsibility of the Traffic Supervisor.
 - 3) Escorts for top level dignitaries.
 - 4) Committal service (firing team, color guard, bugler, piper, flag folders, etc): responsibility of the FOC, Chaplain, and Ceremonial Unit Supervisor.
- l. The funeral operations command staff will coordinate and manage the following pre-service events:
 - 1) Parking lot detail - Responsible for providing parking assistance and traffic control around the funeral location site. Parking must be reserved for immediate family and VIP's.
 - 2) Honor guard - Responsible for providing the appropriate honors to the family upon their arrival at the place of service.
 - 3) Ushers - Responsible for coordinating and providing assistance to individuals arriving for the service, and in securing seating for family members, pallbearers, dignitaries, visiting law enforcement personnel, family friends, and citizens.
 - 4) The Sheriff or designee will escort the family to the funeral home. Possible alternative processions may include funeral home to church.
- m. The funeral procession:
 - 1) The following individuals should be part of a small procession that precedes the main funeral procession to the cemetery:
 - a) FOC.

- b) The Ceremonial Unit Supervisor and staff.
- c) Funeral home flower vehicles.
- d) Funeral service ushers.

2) The funeral procession should be arranged as follows:

- a) Motorcycle escorts (if available).
- b) Lead Sheriff vehicle.
- c) Funeral director
- d) Chaplain and clergy.
- e) Pallbearers.
- f) Funeral coach.
- g) Family limousine.
- h) Family cars.
- i) Sheriff's Office vehicles.
- j) Other law enforcement vehicles.
- k) Rear escort.

3) The following will be accomplished prior to the funeral procession reaching the cemetery:

a) Placement of the following personnel or guards:

- 1. Color Guard
- 2. Bugler and or Bag Pipes
- 3. Firing Team
- 4. Honor Detail
- 5. Media representatives

b) Placement of ushers to provide direction in block formation.

n. Committal Service

1) Post-committal service events:

- a) Family procession departure.
- b) Control of news media.
- c) Burial of deceased employee.

2) The Sheriff's Office will host a reception for out-of-town officers and others wishing to attend.

E. Follow-up and Conclusion

- 1. Appoint a Benefactor's Coordinator to assist the family in obtaining the benefits provided by the county as well as state and federal sources.
- 2. The Sheriff or designee will maintain contact in the future on important anniversaries, birthdays, etc., as well as during Law Enforcement Memorial Day Services.
- 3. Conclusion: All of the above activities are planned for a maximum effort in the event an employee is killed in the line of duty. However, a modified or scaled down funeral/memorial service may be implemented if a current or retired employee should die from causes other than duty related. This downscaling would be determined by a combination of family, FOC, and Chaplain deliberation and decisions.

6.02 Secondary Employment

Secondary employment provides an opportunity for Sheriff's Office employees to earn extra compensation on a strictly voluntary basis. The following definitions relate to secondary employment:

Off-Duty Employment (no law enforcement duties expected) - Outside employment where the use of law enforcement powers are not anticipated, Blount County is not the employer, and the county's worker's compensation insurance will not cover any injuries or illnesses that may occur as a result of such employment.

Off-Duty Employment (law enforcement duties are expected) - Outside employment for an entity other than the Sheriff's Office where an employee is expected, or required, to use police powers. Employees must understand that in circumstances where a Sheriff's Office employee is working in a job that may require the use of police powers, that, unless the employer has a letter of understanding with the Sheriff, the employee WILL NOT BE COVERED BY BLOUNT COUNTY'S WORKER'S COMPENSATION INSURANCE. Only those POST Certified or equivalent (such as Reserve Deputies who have completed the Reserve Deputy training) will be permitted to work Off-Duty Employment. TCI or DCS certification does not meet POST qualifications or equivalency.

Extra-Duty Employment - The Sheriff's Office is the employer, even though the employment may involve a third party who will be using law enforcement services under a contract with the Sheriff's Office. This also covers activities associated with sporting events, special community activities, or any events where additional deputies may be needed as an extension of normal Sheriff's Office activities. Only those POST Certified or equivalent will be permitted to work Extra-Duty Employment. TCI or DCS certification does not meet POST qualifications or equivalency.

PowerDETAILS - Software utilized for the management of the majority of secondary employment details. Employees interested in secondary employment jobs that are posted within this system, shall have a login id and password to view and select the jobs posted in the system. Of note, any job posted within the PowerDETAILS system MAY NOT BE COVERED BY BLOUNT COUNTY'S WORKER'S COMPENSATION INSURANCE. All BCSO associated events will fall under normal duties in regards to workers compensation.

Special Events Coordinator - Chosen by the Chief Deputy and is responsible for coordinating, scheduling and approving secondary employment.

A. Criteria for Secondary Employment

Secondary employment is based on the following criteria:

1. Secondary employment will not constitute, or give the appearance of, a conflict of interest with the Sheriff's Office mission and values statements, or its goals and objectives.
2. Employees shall not exceed 18 total hours of work (secondary and normal duty) within a 24 hour period (excluding on-call emergency re-call), without supervisor approval.
3. Supervisors will ensure that employees limit the hours of secondary employment so as not to interfere with their duties and not become fatigued to the point of decreasing their job performance.
4. Secondary employment will not bring discredit to the Sheriff's Office as determined by the Sheriff and Chief Deputy.
5. Employees may not work in secondary employment if they have not completed their initial probationary period, and if promoted, may be required to limit secondary employment activities as a result of increased duties and responsibilities.
6. Employees will not engage in secondary employment where they are employed by a business or establishment where alcoholic beverages are the primary source of income.

B. Through the Chief Deputy, the Special Events Coordinator may use the following considerations in determining approval or disapproval of secondary employment:

1. Hours to be worked.
2. Date, time, and place of employment.
3. Type of work.
4. Potential use of law enforcement powers.
5. Current public safety issues.
6. Potential injury to employees and others.
7. Conflicts of interest.
8. Complaints or potential for complaints, on employees.
9. Court appearances resulting from secondary employment actions.
10. Liability and indemnification concerns stemming from secondary employment.
11. Incidents that would potentially be detrimental to the mission or values statements of the Sheriff's Office, or would be deemed by the Chief Deputy to be detrimental to the Sheriff's Office.

C. Coordination of secondary employment status will be as follows:

1. The Special Events Coordinator will have responsibility for coordinating secondary employment within the PowerDETAILS system.
2. In order to participate in secondary employment that is not listed within the PowerDETAILS system, employees must complete and submit through the chain of command a Secondary Employment Request Form (Appendix 23).
3. Deputy Chiefs will review each request to determine compliance with policies and procedures, and submit the request with a recommendation for approval or disapproval to the Chief Deputy for final approval or disapproval. A Deputy Chief will notify the employee of the Chief Deputy's decision, and in cases of denial, reasons for the denial.
4. Deputy Chiefs will maintain a roster of employees who have been approved for secondary employment, and will ensure that every employee on the list has equal access to extra duty as it becomes available.
5. Employees are responsible for notifying a Deputy Chief of any change in secondary employment status.
6. Secondary employment, and the number of hours being worked outside of normal duties and responsibilities, are subject to review at any time, and a Deputy Chief may request that the Chief Deputy revoke privileges when it is determined that secondary employment is adversely affecting Sheriff's Office operations.
7. Employees working in secondary employment activities will at all times adhere to the behavior, policies, and general orders required by the Sheriff's Office.

D. Prior to approving a request for extra duty employment, where an employee is expected to exercise law enforcement duties, the Chief Deputy may require that a written agreement be established between the Sheriff's Office and an extra duty employer. This agreement may specify that payment by the extra duty employer for the services of employees and their equipment be remitted through the Sheriff's Office, who will then pay the employees at their rate of pay, taking in consideration over time compensation as appropriate. Under this arrangement, the county would provide worker's compensation insurance coverage.

HOWEVER, IF THERE IS NO SUCH AGREEMENT, THE EMPLOYEE MUST UNDERSTAND THAT IF THEY ARE INJURED DURING SUCH EMPLOYMENT, EVEN WORKING UNDER THE COLOR OF LAW, THEY MAY NOT BE COVERED BY THE COUNTY'S WORKER'S COMPENSATION INSURANCE.

E. Employees may exercise full police authority when acting properly under the color of law and adhering to Sheriff's Office rules, regulations, policies, and procedures in the performance of extra duty secondary employment.

F. It is the responsibility of employees to respond to recall by a Shift Supervisor, or someone of higher authority in the Sheriff's Office, and employees will notify their secondary employment employers (whether off-duty or extra-duty) of this requirement prior to beginning work.

- G. Employees should not perform secondary employment work immediately prior to reporting to duty if such work could cause fatigue or interfere with duty responsibilities.
- H. Authorization for use of Sheriff's Office equipment or vehicles in connection with extra duty secondary employment must be approved by the Chief Deputy, and may be made part of an agreement where the use of equipment and/or vehicles may be charged to the extra duty employer at a rate set by the Chief Deputy. IF COUNTY-OWNED EQUIPMENT IS USED IN EXTRA-DUTY EMPLOYMENT WITHOUT SUCH AUTHORIZATION OR AGREEMENT WITH THE SECONDARY EMPLOYER, THE EMPLOYEE MAY BE LIABLE FOR ANY DAMAGE TO THAT EQUIPMENT THAT MAY RESULT FROM THE EMPLOYMENT.
- I. Performance of Sheriff's Office-sponsored extra-duty employment does not require an individual request for secondary employment, but must be approved by the Chief Deputy, and coordinated by a Deputy Chief as to maintenance of an extra-duty roster. Sheriff's Office-sponsored extra-duty employment is not counted as a secondary employment authorization effecting the requirement for only one authorization.
- J. Deputy Chiefs will maintain records documenting secondary employment activities to include the following:
1. Date, time, and place of secondary employment.
 2. Record of incidents that involved the use of law enforcement powers, injury to the deputy or others, any complaints received against a deputy, and court appearances (scheduled and actually attended) resulting from extra-duty employment.
 3. Liability and indemnification concerns stemming from actions during extra-duty employment.
 4. At least annually, Deputy Chiefs will review the files of those employees who are working extra-duty to determine if they are experiencing a higher rate of absences, and review their performance evaluations to determine if their extra-duty employment may be affecting their job performance.
- K. If at any time a Captain or a Deputy Chief feels that, after review of an employee's record, or a review of events resulting from actions of a negative nature caused by the employee working secondary employment, it is determined that secondary employment is adversely affecting the employee's job performance, the Chief Deputy may revoke the privilege of secondary employment. Failure of an employee to discontinue secondary employment after the Chief Deputy has revoked the privilege will constitute a major violation of General Orders.

6.03 Employee Assistance Program

- A. The Sheriff's Office offers an Employee Assistance Program (EAP) to all employees, and their families, through contracts with an outside counseling agency. That agency will provide assessment and referral services to employees and their families in areas such as marital problems, difficulty in parent/child relationships, drug and/or alcohol dependency, financial problems, and other areas that can affect the work productivity of employees.
- B. All contact with EAP agencies, and information received, will remain strictly confidential, and that agency is responsible for diagnosis, treatment, and follow-up. Employees may make arrangements directly with an agency thereby further preserving confidentiality and privacy. An employee may elect to use annual leave rather than sick leave to obtain services.
- C. There may be situations whereby a supervisor may use EAP services as another management tool where it concerns an employee's work performance. The supervisor may request that the employee participate in an EAP if it is determined this could improve work performance. If referred by a supervisor, the first visit will not be charged to the employee's sick or annual leave.
- D. The Training Function will provide training for supervisors relating to program services relating to Employee Assistance Programs, the supervisors' role and responsibility in relation to this program, and identification of employee behaviors that could indicate the existence of employee concerns, problems, and/or issues that could impact an employee's job performance (also see Chapter 4, Performance Evaluation, Section 4.02, Personnel Early Warning System).

6.04 Drug-Free Workplace

A. GENERAL STATEMENT

The Blount County Sheriff's Office (the "Sheriff's Office") is committed to providing a safe and secure workplace free of drugs and alcohol, and to take reasonable steps to insure the safety of all employees against dangers presented by the use of drugs or alcohol. It is the Sheriff's Office's intent to establish a comprehensive policy to address the issues of employee alcohol and drug abuse which includes an interaction of education, counseling, assistance, deterrents, and discipline. Accordingly, the Sheriff's Office has established the following policy pursuant to Tenn. Code Ann. Section 50-9-100 et seq. and in accordance with the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution:

- 1) It is a violation of Sheriff's Office policy for any employee to manufacture, distribute, dispense, use, possess, sell, trade, offer for sale, or offer to buy illegal drugs (controlled substances) or otherwise engage in the illegal use of drugs on or off the job.
- 2) It is a violation of Sheriff's Office policy for any employee to report to work under the influence of or while possessing in his or her body, blood or urine, illegal drugs in any detectable amount.
- 3) It is a violation of Sheriff's Office policy for any employee to report to work under the influence of or impaired by alcohol or to consume or possess alcoholic beverages on Sheriff's Office property.
- 4) It is a violation of the Sheriff's Office policy for any employee to use prescription drugs illegally, i.e., to use prescription drugs that have not been legally obtained or in a manner or for a purpose other than as prescribed. However, nothing in this policy precludes the appropriate use of legally prescribed medications.

Should you be required to take any kind of prescription or non-prescription medication that may affect your job performance, you are required to report this to your supervisor. Your supervisor will determine if it is necessary to temporarily place you on another assignment, or take other action as appropriate.

- 5) Violations of this policy are subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Sheriff's Office property includes all property owned or leased by the Sheriff's Office, or any of its functions or subsidiaries and all Sheriff's Office vehicles. Work day includes all paid or unpaid meal periods during the business day and all paid or unpaid overtime.

The Sheriff's Office's general policy statement of maintaining a drug-free workplace and the Sheriff's Office complete Drug-Free Workplace Policy will be posted in prominent locations throughout the Sheriff's Office. All employees are to become familiar with the Sheriff's Office's Drug-Free Workplace Policy and must agree to abide by its provisions as a condition of their continued employment. In addition, employees must notify the Sheriff's Office in writing of any conviction of a violation of a criminal drug statute occurring in the workplace no later than five calendar days after such conviction.

Any employee reporting to work visibly impaired will be deemed unable to perform required duties and will not be allowed to work. If possible, the employee's supervisor will first seek another supervisor's opinion to confirm the employee's status. Next, the supervisor will consult privately with the employee to determine the cause of the observation, including whether substance abuse has occurred. If, in the opinion of the supervisor, the employee is considered impaired, the employee will be sent home or to a medical facility by taxi or other safe transportation alternative – depending on the determination of the observed impairment –and accompanied by the supervisor or another employee if necessary. A drug or alcohol test may be in order. An impaired employee will not be allowed to drive.

It is the responsibility of the Sheriff's Office's supervisors to counsel employees whenever they see changes in performance or behavior that suggest an employee has a drug problem. Although it is not the supervisor's job to diagnose personal problems, the supervisor should encourage such employees to seek help and advise them about available resources for getting help. Everyone shares responsibility for maintaining a safe work environment, and co-workers should encourage anyone who has a drug problem to seek help.

The goal of this policy is to balance our respect for individuals and their constitutional right to privacy with the need to maintain a safe, productive and drug-free environment. The intent of this policy is to offer a helping hand to those who need it, while sending a clear message that the illegal use of drugs and the abuse of alcohol are incompatible with employment at the Blount County Sheriff's Office.

Employees with questions regarding this policy or issues related to drug or alcohol use in the workplace should raise their concerns with their supervisor or the Blount County Human Resources Department without fear of reprisal.

B. EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The Sheriff's Office recognizes that substance abuse is a treatable problem, and we are willing to provide referral assistance to those who want to understand and correct their problem before it impairs their performance and jeopardizes their employment. The Sheriff's Office offers an Employee Assistance Program (EAP) to all employees, and their families, through an outside counseling agency. That agency will provide confidential assessment, referral and short-term counseling services to employees and their families.

All contact with an EAP agency, and information received, will remain strictly confidential. No information regarding the nature of the personal problems will be made available to supervisors, nor will it be included in the permanent personnel file.

Employees may make arrangements directly with an EAP agency or such arrangements made be made through referral by a supervisor. An employee may elect to use Annual Leave or Sick Leave to participate in the EAP, and if an employee's first visit to an EAP agency is the result of a referral by a supervisor, such visit will not be charged against the employee's Annual Leave or Sick Leave.

Participation in the EAP will not affect an employee's career advancement or employment, nor will it protect an employee from disciplinary action if substandard job performance continues. The EAP is a process used in conjunction with discipline, not a substitute for discipline.

Employees with drug or alcohol problems that have not resulted in, and are not the immediate subject of, disciplinary action may also request approval to take unpaid time off to participate in a rehabilitation or treatment program. Leave may be granted if the employee agrees to abstain from use of the problem substance; abides by all Sheriff's Office policies, rules, and prohibitions relating to conduct in the workplace; and if granting the leave will not cause the Sheriff's Office any undue hardship.

C. JOB APPLICANT TESTING

All job applicants for positions which are considered to be "safety-sensitive positions" will undergo testing for substance abuse as a condition of employment. Any applicant with a confirmed positive test result will be denied employment.

As defined by Tennessee Code Annotated section 50-9-103(16) and Chapter 0800-2-12-.03(19) of the Rules of Department of Labor, Division of Workers' Compensation, Drug-Free Workplace Programs, a "safety-sensitive position" means a position in which a drug impairment constitutes an immediate and direct threat to public health or safety, such as a position that requires the employee to carry a firearm, perform life-threatening procedures, work with confidential information or documents pertaining to criminal investigations or work with controlled substances, or a position in which a momentary lapse in attention could result in injury or death to another person.

Applicants will be required to submit voluntarily to a urinalysis test at a laboratory chosen by the Sheriff's Office, and by signing consent agreement will release the Sheriff's Office from liability.

If the physician, official or lab personnel have reasonable suspicion to believe that the job applicant has tampered with the specimen, the applicant will not be considered for employment.

The Sheriff's Office will not tolerate the current illegal use of drugs and/or abuse of alcohol that prevents employees from performing their jobs properly.

D. EMPLOYEE TESTING

The Sheriff's Office has adopted testing practices to identify employees who illegally use drugs on the job or who abuse alcohol on the job and to also identify employees whose off the job illegal drug use or alcohol use results in on the job impairment. It shall be a condition of employment for all employees to submit to substance abuse testing under the following circumstances:

1. When there is reasonable suspicion to believe that an employee is illegally using drugs or abusing alcohol. 'Reasonable suspicion' is based on a belief that an employee is using or has used drugs or alcohol in violation of the employer's policy drawn from specific objective and articulable facts and reasonable inferences drawn from those facts in light of experience. Among other things, such facts and inferences may be based upon, but not limited to, the following:
 - A. Observable phenomena while at work such as direct observation of substance abuse or of the physical symptoms or manifestations of being impaired due to substance abuse;
 - B. Abnormal conduct or erratic behavior while at work or a significant deterioration in work performance;
 - C. A report of substance abuse provided by a reliable and credible source;
 - D. Evidence that an individual has tampered with any substance abuse test during his or her employment with the current employer;
 - E. Information that an employee has caused or contributed to an accident while at work; or
 - F. Evidence that an employee has used, possessed, sold, solicited, or transferred drugs while working or while on the employer's premises or while operating the employer's vehicle, machinery, or equipment.
2. When employees have caused or contributed to an on-the-job injury that resulted in a loss of work-time, which means any period of time during which an employee stops performing the normal duties of employment and leaves the place of employment to seek care from a licensed medical provider. After an accident which results in an injury and or property damage, the Sheriff's Office may require those employees who actually caused or contributed to the accident to submit to a drug or alcohol test.
3. Employees involved in an incident where lethal force was utilized, will also be required to submit to a drug test.
4. As part of a follow-up program to treatment for drug or alcohol abuse.

5. Random testing of all employees in “safety-sensitive positions” as defined by Tennessee Code Annotated section 50-9-103(16) and Chapter 0800-2-12-.03(19) of the Rules of Department of Labor, Division of Workers’ Compensation, Drug-Free Workplace Programs. All employees of the Sheriff’s Office in “safety-sensitive positions” will be subject to random drug testing.
 - A. An employee selected for random testing shall be notified the same day the test is scheduled, preferably within two hours of the scheduled testing. Upon receiving notification of selection, the employee will be advised that he/she is under no suspicion of taking drugs and that he/she was selected randomly.
 - B. Employees to be tested will be selected through the use of a confidential, neutral selection mechanism, such as a random number table or a computer-based random number generated that is matched with employees’ Social Security numbers, payroll identification numbers, or other comparable identifying numbers. A person appointed by the Sheriff or Chief Deputy will administer the selection of employees for random drug testing. Under the selection process used, each employee will have an equal chance of being tested each time selections are made. The program will select for each monthly set of random tests approximately 5% of Sheriff’s Office employees.
 - C. An employee selected for random drug testing may obtain a deferral of testing if the employee’s supervisor and the Chief Deputy or Sheriff concur that a compelling need necessitates a deferral on the ground that the employee is: (1) in a leave status (sick, annual administrative, or leave without pay); or (2) in official travel status away for the Sheriff’s Office or is about to embark on official travel scheduled prior to testing notification. An employee whose random drug test is deferred will be subject to an unannounced test within the following 60 days.

E. COLLECTION PROCEDURES FOR URINALYSIS TESTS

1. Collection of urine samples will be conducted by a certified health care facility. All procedures and guidelines of that unit will be adhered to strictly at all times during specimen collection.
2. Medical personnel assigned to this unit will forward specimens to a certified lab for testing. Results obtained will be provided to the Medical Review Officer. The MRO will forward these results as deemed appropriate to the Blount County Sheriff’s Office. The primary contact for the MRO at the Blount County Sheriff’s Office is the Deputy Chief of Administration.
3. Employees involved in an incident after hours that require a drug test will report to the Blount Memorial Hospital Emergency Room or the Care Today Clinic where the same collection procedures will be followed.

F. ALCOHOL TESTING

The consumption or possession of alcohol beverages on this Sheriff's Office's premises is prohibited. An employee whose normal faculties are impaired due to alcohol beverages while on duty/Sheriff's Office business may be guilty of misconduct, and subject to discipline up to and including termination. See also Code of Conduct 1.13

G. OPPORTUNITY TO CONTEST OR EXPLAIN RESULTS (Revised 1/19/2011)

When an employee or job applicant submits to a drug and/or alcohol test, they will be given an opportunity to provide any information that he/she considers relevant to the test, including the identification of currently or recently used prescription or non-prescription medication or other relevant information. The information form should be kept by the job applicant or employee for their personal use. If the job applicant or employee has a positive confirmed test result, a medical review officer will attempt to contact the individual in order to privately discuss the findings with that person. The job applicant or employee should keep the form as a "reminder" to discuss the information at that time. The medical review officer will take this information into account when interpreting any positive confirmed test results. The information provided shall be treated as confidential and will not be given to the employer. Employees and job applicants have the right to consult with a medical review officer for technical information regarding prescription and non-prescription medicine.

Employees and job applicants who have a positive confirmed drug or alcohol test result may explain or contest the result to the medical review officer within five (5) working days after receiving written notification of the test result from the medical review officer; if an employee's or job applicant's explanation or challenge is unsatisfactory to the medical review officer, the medical review officer shall report a positive test result back to the Sheriff's Office. A person may contest the drug test result pursuant to rules adopted by the Tennessee Department of Labor.

It is the responsibility of every employee or job applicant to notify the testing laboratory of any administrative or civil action brought pursuant to Tennessee Code Annotated section 50-9-100 et seq., Drug-Free Workplace Programs.

H. CONFIDENTIALITY

The confidentiality of any information received by the Sheriff's Office through this testing program will be maintained, except as otherwise provided or required by law. It is the intent of the Sheriff's Office to limit the identity of employees who have tested positive on Sheriff's Office directed testing to those persons having a need-to-know.

I. REFUSAL TO SUBMIT

Failure to submit to a required substance abuse test is misconduct and also shall be subject to discipline up to and including termination.

J. CONSTITUTIONAL COMPLIANCE

As a public employer, the Sheriff's Office acknowledges that it is subject to the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution, and the Sheriff's Office has developed this testing program to be in compliance with the requirements of the Fourth Amendment. In conducting drug and alcohol testing under this program, the Sheriff's Office will comply with the constitutional guidelines and parameters of the Fourth Amendment, and to the extent that any requirements of the Tennessee Drug Free Workplace Program are found to be in conflict with the Fourth Amendment, the Sheriff's Office will always comply with its constitutional obligations.

K. DRUGS SCREENED

Substance abuse testing for job applicants and employees will include a urinalysis screen for the following drugs:

1) Alcohol:

Any "Alcohol Beverage," all liquid medications containing ethyl alcohol (ethanol). Please read the label for content. For example: Vicks Nyquil™ is 25% (50 proof) ethyl alcohol, Comtrex™ is 20% (40 proof), Contac Severe Cold Formula Night Strength™ is 25% (50 proof) and Listerine™ is 26.9% (54 proof).

2) Amphetamines: "speed," "uppers," etc.

3) Cannabinoids: THC, marijuana, hashish, "pot," "grass," "hash," etc.

4) Cocaine: "coke," "crack," etc.

5) Phencyclidine: PCP, "angel dust."

6) Opiates: Narcotics, heroin, codeine, morphine, "smack, dope, etc."

7) Barbiturates

8) Benzodiazepines

9) Methadone

10) Methaqualone

11) Propoxyphene

12) Synthetics

Employees should be cautious in the use of Cannabidiol (CBD) in any form such as Vapors, Oil, Beauty Products, Lattes, Chocolates, Gummies, etc. Employees that use CBD in any form are taking the risk of testing positive on a drug screen. Cannabidiol oil is legal in the state of Tennessee, as long as it is made from Industrial Hemp and not from Marijuana. The problem however, is that medical professionals who analyze the drug screens cannot differentiate between Industrial Hemp and Marijuana because both can contain a trace of (THC) and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has not approved CBD products at this time. Employees that choose to use CBD Oil for the treatment of ailments are urged to research the product thoroughly and obtain a laboratory report to ensure they are not violating federal or state law. Employees who test positive on a drug screen for THC will be reported to the Chief Deputy and a determination will be made on whether or not to pursue an internal investigation.

6.08 Critical Incident Stress Debriefing (CISD)

A critical incident shall be defined as any event that has emotional power to overwhelm an individual's usual ability to cope and which may interfere with the function of a person's coping mechanism immediately or in the future. A critical incident debriefing is a closed confidential discussion of a critical incident relating to the feelings and perceptions of those directly involved prior to, during, and after a stressful event; intended to provide support, education, and an outlet for views and feelings associated with the event. Debriefings are neither counseling nor an operational critique of the incident. A person or group of persons who are professionally trained to provide crisis intervention and incident debriefing services will conduct debriefings.

It shall be mandatory that those participating in any Critical Incident Stress Debriefing maintain strict confidentiality. The only exceptions to the confidentiality rule are:

1. There is reason to believe that a person presents a danger to himself/herself or others.
2. There is a strong belief that a person has committed a felonious act.
Those participating in Critical Incident Stress Debriefings are not an investigative unit of the Sheriff's Office, therefore it will not be the policy of the Sheriff's Office to interfere with, nor question those participating in a Critical Incident Stress Debriefing.

All employees have the availability to the services of the employees' assistance program provided by the county.

The Sheriff or Chief Deputy may make it mandatory for any members of the Sheriff's Office to attend a Critical Incident Stress Debriefing.

7.01 Complaints

The Sheriff's Office depends on the integrity and discipline of all employees, individually and collectively. Public image is determined by professional response to allegations of misconduct against it or its employees. The Sheriff's Office must have the capability to competently and professionally investigate allegations of wrong doing by employees, and to address complaints impacting its response to community needs.

- A. Citizens, offenders, and inmates with legitimate grievances regarding perceived or actual misconduct, will be received courteously and handled efficiently. Employees will assist and cooperate in the processing of complaints consistent with procedures.
- B. Sheriff's Office personnel are often subject to intense pressures in the discharge of their duties, and must remain neutral under circumstances that are likely to generate tension, excitement, and emotion. Words, actions, and events frequently result in misunderstandings and confusion. It is to the advantage of all employees to have a procedure for the investigation of the more serious allegations and underlying circumstances so that complaints can be resolved, and the complicated pressures of criminal justice work can be carefully considered.
- C. Information may be provided to any citizen requesting how to make a complaint against any function or section of the Sheriff's Office, or any employee (see Information Sheet on How to File a Complaint, Appendix 24). Copies of the Information Sheet will be located in each reception area of the Justice Center and the Courthouse, and will be provided to each Patrol Deputy and Investigator for distribution to citizens who request information on how to file a complaint against an employee and/or the Sheriff's Office. Those who file a complaint will be assured that all complaints will be addressed in a timely fashion once they have been properly completed.

D. Responsibility for Handling Complaints

1. There are 2 classes of complaints: minor and serious. These classes relate to the levels of violations presented in this manual in Chapter 5, Disciplinary Procedures, Section 5.04, Levels of Violation, and the following definitions of the 2 classes of complaints are:
 - a. Minor – Relates to a violation(s) of policies and procedures and/or sections of the Code of Conduct that indicate a violation is minor in nature. A minor classification also relates to the level of sanctions against an employee that may result if he or she is found to be in violation resulting from a citizen's complaint.
 - b. Serious – Relates to a violation(s) of policies and procedures and/or sections of the Code of Conduct that indicate a violation is major in nature. A major classification also relates to the level of sanctions against an employee that may result if he or she is found to be in violation resulting from the citizen's complaint.
2. Captains and line supervisors will be primarily responsible for the investigation of minor complaints received on employees assigned to their function. If a line supervisor is responsible for the investigation of the complaint, information such as the nature of the complaint, the facts developed, and the action taken or recommended will be forwarded to the appropriate Captain or Deputy Chief.
3. Complaints relating, or potentially relating to a serious violation of the Code of Conduct and/or other policies and procedures will be forwarded immediately to the Sheriff or Chief Deputy regardless if the complainant is anonymous or not. The Sheriff or Chief Deputy will then notify the Internal Affairs Investigator. The Internal Affairs Investigator may request the Captain or Deputy Chief of the function where the complaint originated to investigate a complaint. The Internal Affairs Investigator will be kept informed of the process of the investigation. The Sheriff or Chief Deputy may request a Deputy Chief or another law enforcement agency to investigate a complaint. The Internal Affairs Investigator will be notified if this occurs. If the Internal Affairs Investigator suspects a violation of criminal law has occurred, he will immediately notify the Sheriff and the Chief Deputy who will either advise Criminal Investigations or another law enforcement agency to continue the investigation. Throughout an investigation conducted or coordinated by the Internal Affairs Investigator or the appropriate Captain or Deputy Chief, he or she will have direct access to the Sheriff and/or the Chief Deputy to keep them informed of the progress of the investigation and the eventual recommendation as to a conclusion of fact.

E. Receipt of Complaints

1. Written complaints, regardless of their eventual classification, must be lodged on a Citizen Complaint Form (see Appendix 25). Complaints are accepted by mail or email, but every effort should be made to have the complaint lodged in person. Upon receipt of the complaint, it will be forwarded to the appropriate Captain or Deputy Chief. Every effort will be made to facilitate the convenient, courteous, and prompt receipt and processing of complaints. Any employee who interferes with, discourages, or delays the taking of such complaints, will be subject to disciplinary action.

2. A citizen, offender, or inmate with a complaint will be referred to a supervisor in the function where the subject employee is assigned. The supervisor will assist the complainant in recording pertinent information. The supervisor taking the complaint will then forward the complaint to the appropriate Captain or Deputy Chief. Regardless of the responsibility for complaint follow-up, one copy of a completed, signed complaint report will be provided through the chain of command to the Chief Deputy within 24 hours of receipt. If the complaint is classified as serious, the Chief Deputy will then assign the complaint investigation to the Internal Affairs Investigator or the employee's Captain or Deputy Chief. The complainant will then be notified verbally or by mail that the complaint has been received and documentation will be made concerning the notification.
3. When it appears to anyone taking a complaint that a complainant is apparently under the influence of an intoxicant or drug, or is apparently suffering from a mental disorder, or evidences any other trait or condition bearing on his or her credibility, the supervisor will note these conditions, and any other pertinent remarks. Comments will also be made as to the physical condition of the complainant, specifically noting any visible marks or injuries relative to an alleged complaint. The supervisor taking the complaint, and the complainant, will sign the Citizen Complaint Form.
4. Complaints will not normally be accepted more than 30 days after an alleged incident, with the following exceptions:
 - a. When a complaint is an alleged criminal violation in which case the statute of limitations will prevail.
 - b. When the complainant can show good cause for not making the complaint earlier.
5. The above procedure may also be used when Sheriff's Office employees desire to enter a complaint against any other employee governed by this order.

F. Disposition of Complaints

1. Disposition of Minor Complaints

In response to minor complaints, a supervisor will develop information and record any action taken, along with a Citizen Complaint Form that will be filed with their Captain and/or Deputy Chief by 0800 the next working day, who will then do one or more of the following:

- a. Notify complainants verbally or by mail of the disposition of the complaint. If such notification to a complainant will be delayed for more than 7 calendar days, a Deputy Chief, or designee, will send or give an interim reply advising of the delay.
- b. Take appropriate disciplinary/corrective action, or indicate that the complaint is not substantiated or unfounded, citing the reasons for making such a decision.

2. Disposition of Serious Complaints - Internal Affairs Procedures

Serious complaints alleging improper conduct, brutality, or a complaint involving several employees, are to be handled as internal affairs matters by the Internal Affairs Investigator or the appropriate Captain or Deputy Chief where the complaint originated, and are responsible for ensuring the following:

- a. Recording, registering, and controlling the investigation of serious complaints against employees.
- b. Supervising and controlling the investigation of alleged or suspected serious misconduct within the Sheriff's Office.
- c. Maintaining the confidentiality of internal affairs investigations and reports.
- d. Notifying complainants verbally or in writing concerning receipt of a serious complaint and notifying a complainant(s) of the disposition of the complaint. If disposition of the complaint will be delayed more than 45 calendar days, the Internal Affairs Investigator will provide an interim reply advising of the delay, and will reply each 45 days thereafter until the investigation is completed and there is a disposition.

- 3. The Internal Affairs Investigator may request any deputy to assist in a complaint investigation against an employee of the Sheriff's Office with the approval of the Chief Deputy. Employees are to cooperate completely when called upon by an investigator conducting an internal affairs investigation. Information obtained during an investigation will be kept in the strictest confidence, and employees participating in an internal affairs investigation, either as an investigator, principal, or witness, are prohibited from discussing the investigation with other employees or the general public. The Internal Affairs Investigator will report all findings directly to the Sheriff and Chief Deputy. Any employee senior in rank to the Internal Affairs Investigator will not attempt to exercise their rank to influence the outcome of an investigation.
- 4. At the discretion of the Chief Deputy, any employee who becomes the subject of an internal affairs investigation, an administrative hearing resulting from an internal affairs investigation, or a criminal charge, may be assigned to one of the following:

- a. Remain on active duty status.
 - b. If a certified deputy or corrections officer, placed in a non-enforcement or non-contact with inmates duty status.
 - c. Placed on emergency relief from duty not to exceed 24 hours.
 - d. Placed on administrative leave with or without pay (depending on the severity of the accusations and known facts) pending the outcome of an internal affairs investigation.
- G. The Internal Affairs Investigator should make every effort to complete an internal affairs investigation within 45 days, and will submit a verbal status report to the Sheriff and Chief Deputy at least every 7 days until submission of a final report. If additional time may be required to complete an investigation, the Internal Affairs Investigator will verbally request an extension, and will continue to report to the Sheriff and Chief Deputy every 7 days until the investigation is completed.
- H. The Internal Affairs Investigator will maintain close liaison with the District Attorney General in investigations involving alleged criminal conduct. Where liability may be an issue, close liaison will also be maintained with the Sheriff, the county's Risk Manager, and County Attorney.
- I. Upon the completion of an investigation, the Internal Affairs Investigator will file a report recommending a conclusion(s) based on the following classifications:
- a. Unfounded: There was sufficient evidence to prove the complaint or incident is false or not factual and did not occur.
 - b. Exonerated: There is sufficient evidence to indicate that the act or incident did occur, but the actions were justified, lawful, and proper.
 - c. Not Sustained: There is insufficient evidence to clearly prove or disprove the complaint or incident.
 - d. Sustained - No Discipline: There is sufficient evidence to establish that the incident did occur, but the facts and circumstances are of such a nature that formal discipline is not warranted.
 - e. Sustained: There is evidence to establish that the incident did occur, and the facts and circumstances support the determination that these actions constitute misconduct.
- J. Completed, written complaints, whether serious or minor, will be securely filed in the office of the Administrative Lieutenant, thus creating the basis for an annual report of all complaints. All completed internal affairs investigations will be filed and secured in the office of the Administrative Lieutenant. The Chief Deputy or designee will review this file annually and publish a statistical summary based upon records of internal affairs investigations, which are made available to the public and agency employees. A copy will also be forwarded to the Sheriff.

8.01 Data Processing Security

The Computers and data processing systems owned and operated by the Sheriff's Office are covered by these policies and procedures. Violations of these policies, intentional or unintentional, will be subject to corrective action whether it be required training, removal of privileges to use the data systems (if critical to job duties may be grounds for disciplinary action), or disciplinary action. In some cases, a violation of these policies may be grounds for legal action and subsequent penalties.

The primary purpose of this section is to safeguard the Sheriff's Office's computer hardware, software, and data by providing guidelines, policies, and procedures as to their use and security. The intent is also to educate users on the importance of security and the problems associated with violations of security.

- A. The job of protecting the hardware, software, and data from abuse is shared by all users of the Sheriff's Office's data processing systems. The potential for someone (citizen or employee) suffering a loss or inconvenience due to improper or inappropriate use of the Sheriff's Office data processing systems is real, whether malicious or accidental.
- B. These policies and procedures are distributed to every workstation in the Sheriff's Office, and all users are required to read and become familiar with them as part of their training in the use of their systems.
- C. The use of Sheriff's Office-owned data processing systems and equipment is solely for purposes authorized by the Sheriff's Office. Unauthorized use is a violation of these policies and procedures, and violators may be subject to disciplinary action.
- D. Software and data bases used in the Sheriff's Office's data processing systems are property of the Sheriff's Office, and will not be loaned, traded, sold, given away, or otherwise divulged without permission from the Chief Deputy based on a recommendation from the Director of Technology.

- E. Only software that has been approved by the Sheriff's Office, in accordance with operational needs, is allowed on the Sheriff's Office's data processing systems. Any unauthorized software, such as games and other personal amusement software, will be deleted.
- F. Employees are not to download personal software and/or data into the Sheriff's Office's data processing systems without review and authorization of the data and/or software by the Director of Technology.
- G. Permission to access the Sheriff's Office's data processing systems will be limited to those with a legitimate need to use the system to access or input information. Each authorized user of the system will be issued a login and password by the Director of Technology. Users are responsible for maintaining the security of their passwords, and should never share them with anyone, including other employees.
- H. Security of Data Processing Systems and Equipment
 - 1. Security must be a concern of all users of Sheriff's Office data processing systems and equipment, and users are responsible to use them only for legitimate purposes. These policies and procedures are intended as a guide to ensure that employees are informed of the proper use of these systems, and of the consequences of improper use.
 - 2. Prior to installation of any data processing equipment, whether bought or donated, the Director of Technology will ensure the location is secure, which may include anchoring the system or assuring that the room where the system is to be located has adequate locks and is secure, and that all equipment is properly tagged as required by the county's fixed asset accounting procedures. The Director of Technology is responsible for maintaining a current inventory of the data system's hardware and software, and to check it at least annually.
 - 3. Threats to data and software stored in the data processing systems can be in the form of accidental or intentional disclosure, modification, or destruction. Unauthorized access by an illegal user is also a threat.
 - 4. The Sheriff's Office provides various layers of technical protection to safeguard data and software, including programs that allow the Director of Technology to monitor uses of the Sheriff's Office's data processing systems to provide an acceptable degree of security to accomplish the following:
 - a. Detect illegal penetration and prevent unauthorized access to the data processing systems.
 - b. Prevent unauthorized access to stored data.
 - c. Determine unauthorized use of internet and intranet network capabilities of the data processing systems.

5. Users with the proper login and password are the only persons permitted to access the data processing systems. Access by others, such as vendors and maintenance technicians, must be on a need-to-know basis and only with permission of the Director of Technology.
6. Data in the Sheriff's Office's data processing systems is owned by the Sheriff's Office and is kept on disks, tapes, hard drives, etc. No data is released unless authorized by the Director of Technology, and is in compliance with records management, retention, and release policies and procedures found in the policies and procedures manuals for the Sheriff's Office and its functions.
7. Confidential data and related software listings and copies that are not to be retained, must be properly secured until they can be shredded. Each user is responsible for properly securing and disposal of any confidential material. Data disks (hard drives) that are not to be retained must be properly secured until they can be destroyed. Drives will be destroyed by drilling a hole through the disk. The hole will be a minimum of 1/4" and will be drilled all the way through the hard drive casing, disk platters and out the other side.
8. Users are required to use the password issued to them by the Director of Technology when they are first authorized to use the data processing systems. Passwords will be changed whenever a security infraction has been discovered, and periodically to ensure security. The appearance of passwords on terminal screens and printouts are suppressed.
9. After a certain number of invalid access attempts, the system will automatically log off the user. Information about invalid attempts is recorded by the system and investigated by the Director of Technology as appropriate.
10. Prudent duplication and off-site storage of otherwise irreplaceable data and programs is the responsibility of each user. The Director of Technology, or designee, will conduct or coordinate an in-house back-up daily, and a weekly backup that is stored off-site. Data files (third party software, word processing, and spread sheets) are the responsibility of each user to back up their data. The Sheriff's Office cannot be held responsible for lost data due to system failure caused by power outages or other problems with the system that may cause unexpected shut down. If data is important to a user, he or she must back it up.

8.02 Individual Privacy

To protect the privacy of individuals, the maintenance and dissemination of personal information must be subject to strict limits. The protection of individual privacy places special responsibilities on those who determine when and how systems are used.

- A. Definition of Personal Information B Confidential data maintained by the Sheriff's Office about an individual including, but not limited to, employment history, financial transactions, medical information, and information pertaining to an individual involved in a criminal investigation, inmate records, or other data that would include an individual's name.
- B. Legitimate Data Collection B Personal information on individuals should not be collected and maintained unless needed to operate and manage Sheriff's Office functions for which the collecting office or employee is legally responsible.
- C. Responsibility for Protecting Data B Sheriff's Office employees who generate, use, or have access to automated personal information, will ensure its confidentiality and accuracy, properly disposing of the data when no longer needed.
- D. Disposition of Confidential Reports B All printouts that include confidential or personal information which are not to be retained will be shredded prior to disposal.
- E. Security by Users B Every user shares with the Sheriff's Office the many responsibilities outlined in these policies and procedures. In addition, the following are suggested:

- 1. Protection of Removed Data B Users will assume responsibility for the

- confidentiality of removed data from the Sheriff's Office's systems.
2. Accuracy and Use of Data B Users creating, maintaining, using, or disseminating data in any form should ensure the reliability of the data for its intended use, and take precautions to prevent its misuse.
 3. Authorized Release of Data B Users are required to ensure that systems information is used only for lawful purposes and not released to outside agencies, groups, or individuals, except as provided in Sheriff's Office policies and procedures, and to the extent permitted by law. Insofar as possible, released data should be in an anonymous form where personal identity is removed.
 4. Purge of Unneeded Data B Files containing personal information should be audited periodically to determine their continued need. If no longer needed, the data should be shredded.
 5. Security Reviews B Users should frequently audit their operations where personal data are used and stored to ensure adequate safeguards against theft, penetration by unauthorized persons, destruction of data, or alteration of files, reports, input data, etc.
 6. Individual Right to Queries and Corrections B These policies and procedures in no way prohibit individuals the ability to request information about their personal information or to correct personal data within guidelines established by state law and the Sheriff's Office's policies and procedures.

8.03 Role of the Director of Technology

The Director of Technology, or his designee, is responsible for working with employees to design, develop, implement, train, and maintain the Sheriff's Office's data processing systems. To accomplish these responsibilities, the following must be accomplished:

A. Develop Policies and Procedures

Policies and procedures are designed to protect data and systems' hardware and software, and provide guidance to the proper use of the Sheriff's Office's data processing systems. These policies and procedures need to be reviewed periodically as the Sheriff's Office's systems grow, and as applications change with new hardware and software capabilities.

B. Training

Data systems policies and procedures are only effective if supported by users' understanding that they are essential to their systems' effective and efficient operation. Such understanding can only be gained through training programs designed not only to assure proper operation, but also to raise the awareness of users to the potential damage and loss of resources that can result from improper operation and inadequate controls. Training will extend to a new user, to existing users needing refresher training or training in new applications, as follow-up to the implementation of new hardware or software, and to assure the proper coordination of the Sheriff's Office's data processing network that includes the proper use of e-mail and the internet.

C. Monitoring

Data processing policies and procedures can only be effective if they are consistently followed. Users must constantly be reminded of their personal responsibility for the proper use and security of their data processing systems. The Director of Technology is responsible for conducting an ongoing program that monitors compliance by all users with these policies and procedures, and assuring that the awareness of user responsibilities to comply with them remains high. To accomplish this task, the Director of Technology will conduct periodic assessments to assure that systems are properly operated and secured by:

1. Conducting periodic inventories of equipment and operating systems.
 2. Continuously reviewing file protection procedures and assuring that proper back-up procedures are being followed.
 3. Randomly monitoring computer logs to assure that systems and data are being properly used.
- a. Follow-up On Findings - When the improper or inappropriate use of the Sheriff's Office's systems is determined as a result of monitoring efforts, the Director of Technology, or his designee, will notify the appropriate supervisor who will immediately correct the problem and determine any remedial or punitive action to be taken as a result of misuse or abuse of the Sheriff's Office's data processing systems.
- b. Purchase and Receipt of Data Processing Equipment and Software - The Director of Technology, or designee, is responsible for working with users to develop specifications used in the purchasing process, including development of a request for bids for hardware or other equipment, or requests for proposals on software or systems design assistance, and to coordinate with vendors in the purchasing process. The Director of Technology, or designee, is also responsible for:
- 1) Receiving - The Director of Technology will review in detail material received for compliance with specifications, rejecting anything not in strict compliance. All material received will be properly inventoried.
 - 2) Installation - The Director of Technology will coordinate with vendors on the installation of hardware and software, testing to ensure that systems are operational.
 - 3) Training - Ensuring that users are familiar with the new hardware and/or software and that new systems are properly incorporated into existing operating systems, policies, and procedures.

D. Control of Computer Viruses and Related Threats

1. Computer viruses and related threats represent an increasingly serious threat to computing systems and networks. The Director of Technology is responsible for identifying, preventing, deterring, containing, and recovering from attacks of viruses and related threats.
2. What Are Computer Viruses and Related Threats? B These are a class of programs written to cause some form of intentional damage to computer systems or networks.

- a. A computer virus performs two basic functions: it copies itself to other programs, thereby infecting them; and, it executes instructions the author has included in it. Depending on the author's motives, an infected program may immediately cause damage upon its execution, or it may wait to a specified time. Damage can vary widely, often requiring a complete rebuilding of a system. Since viruses can spread rapidly to other programs and systems, the damage can multiply geometrically.
- b. Related threats are also destructive programs (often called Trojan horses and network worms) that are often called malicious software. These programs are often written to masquerade as useful programs so that users are induced into using them and sharing them with others. Malicious software is a people, not a technical problem. It is imperative that users understand the threat caused by malicious software, thus emphasizing the need to control access to their systems by unauthorized users, and to not use unauthorized software in any way without the prior approval of the Director of Technology.
- c. How Can Computer Viruses and Related Threats Be Controlled? B
There are steps that can be taken by users and the Director of Technology to minimize this threat:
 - 1) Train all users in the proper use of their workstation and systems, ensuring that each user understands and follows the Sheriff's Office's data processing policies and procedures.
 - 2) Use (and keep current) the software tools available that are designed to identify and control viruses and related threats.
 - 3) Follow back-up procedures to ensure that, if a virus does bring a system down, that it can be reinstalled with minimum downtime and interruption of service.

8.04 Internet and E-Mail Policies

Statement of Purpose

To ensure that use of the Internet among employees of the Blount County Sheriff's Office is consistent with Blount County Sheriff's Office policies, all applicable laws, and the individual user's job responsibilities.

A. Electronic Mail (e-mail)

This policy applies to all Blount County Sheriff's Office employees who use e-mail either on the local area network or through the Blount County Sheriff's Office Internet capabilities. In addition, this policy applies to all persons who use e-mail as a representative or agent of the Blount County Sheriff's Office.

1. Repelling Unwanted E-Mail

There may be occasions when e-mails are received which the recipient did not solicit and which do not comply with this policy. Examples could be: sexually offensive material, crude or inappropriate jokes, photographs or videos, etc. No employee shall be subject to discipline for receiving such e-mail provided the employee promptly replies by e-mail to discourage the sender with the following or similar message to the sender:

"You have sent me e-mail at the Blount County Sheriff's Office which is not in compliance with Blount County Sheriff's Office policies. E-mail sent to a Blount County Sheriff's Office e-mail address must be for Blount County Sheriff's Office business purposes only. I do not wish to receive e-mail of the nature you sent at work. Please do not send me any additional material of this kind at a Blount County Sheriff's Office e-mail address."

Messages that are spam or junk should not be replied to as this will only increase the amount of junk mail that you will receive. Spam and/or junk email should be deleted.

2. Liability

The same consideration and care must be used in e-mail communications regarding official actions or statements on behalf of the Blount County Sheriff's Office that would be used in other forms of written correspondence. Any ongoing e-mail messages which express an opinion that has not been authorized as the official Blount County Sheriff's Office position on the subject must include a disclaimer that the opinion is not that of the Blount County Sheriff's Office but the employee's own personal opinion.

3. Discipline/Enforcement of Policy

Violators of this policy may be subject to discipline. It is the responsibility of the Director of Technology or his designee to monitor these policies, and to monitor and audit use of e-mail within each department. Employees who are found in violation of this policy may be subject to the following:

- a. Internet and e-mail access may be revoked.
- b. Access times may be restricted

Employees may be disciplined for violation of this policy. However, employees will not be disciplined for "deminimis" personal use of the electronic mail system or the Internet. The deminimis (too minor to warrant concern) standard would mean that some personal communications, while not sanctioned, are not prohibited by this policy. Generally this would include such uses as adding a personal comment to an official e-mail, sending a short personal note to a colleague or other personal interactions that are routinely a part of day to day business interaction. Reasonable judgement should be applied to individual circumstances. The Blount County Sheriff's Office retains sole discretion to determine what is deminimis and to discipline for all other use.

4. Types of E-Mail/Restrictions

Employees are accountable for their use of electronic communications just as they are for other conduct and communications in the workplace. Therefore, use of the electronic mail system is as follows:

- a. The e-mail system is not to be used to create, send or copy any offensive, harassing or disruptive messages. Messages will be considered offensive if they contain information or language that would violate the Human Resource harassment policy. The Blount County Sheriff's Office will view the appropriateness of any communication on the basis of how it would have been perceived and dealt with had it been conducted by telephone, in person or on paper.

- b. The e-mail system is not to be used to send, receive, or download copyrighted materials, trade secrets, proprietary financial information, or similar materials without prior authorization from the Director of Technology or his designee.
- c. Confidential and sensitive information such as performance reviews, disciplinary and/or corrective actions, attorney-client privileged information, personnel information, and health or medical information should not be communicated via e-mail, unless it is encrypted and requires a password for viewing. If you have items that need to be encrypted please contact the Director of Technology or his designee for assistance.
- d. Communications, which would be inappropriate under other Blount County Sheriff's Office policies, are equally unacceptable if delivered via electronic communication. These communications may include, but are not limited to, harassing or discriminatory comments, breached of confidentiality and insubordinate statements.
- e. The electronic mail system may not be used for sales or to solicit anything for commercial ventures, religious, or political causes, outside organizations or other non-job related solicitations.

5. Technical Support

Employees may contact the Director of Technology or his designee for answers to questions concerning implementation of e-mail or about how to properly configure and use e-mail capabilities. The Director of Technology shall have the authority, with the approval of the Sheriff, to establish procedures for the implementation of this policy. All users of the Blount County Sheriff's Office e-mail systems must abide by any procedures established by this policy.

B. Internet Use

This policy applies to all Blount County Sheriff's Office employees who use the Blount County Sheriff's Office Internet capabilities. In addition, this policy applies to all persons who use the Internet as a representative or agent of the Blount County Sheriff's Office.

1. Internet Use Limited to Blount County Sheriff's Office Business

The Blount County Sheriff's Office Internet capabilities may be used for Blount County Sheriff's Office business purposes only. The term "internet" means the electronic information system of that name which connects smaller groups of linked computer networks. The term "Blount County Sheriff's Office Internet capabilities" means any and all access to the Internet obtained through Blount County Sheriff's Office sponsorship, ownership, or financial contribution, or by any employee as a representative or agent of the Blount County Sheriff's Office, during work hours. The term "Blount County Sheriff's Office business purposes" means the official work of the Blount County Sheriff's Office undertaken for public benefit, as opposed to activities undertaken for personal, non-Sheriff's Office or private purposes. Unacceptable sites or uses include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Pornographic sites and access to pornographic materials.

- Use of the Blount County Sheriff's Office Internet to harass employees, vendors, customers, and others.
- Sports or games.
- Use of the Blount County Sheriff's Office Internet for partisan political purposes.
- Unauthorized transfer of copyrighted materials utilizing Blount County Sheriff's Office Internet capabilities.
- Any site that charges a fee (unless there has been prior written approval of justified Sheriff's Office expense by supervisor).
- Vendor sites to purchase personal items.
- Marketing of personal or private business.

While this policy does restrict Internet Use to official business, limited personal use (within acceptable use guidelines) during breaks or before/after work hours will be allowed. Authorized personal use is subject to adequate capacity in the system. Internet and e-mail may be used for minor personal matters to accommodate the demands of daily living so long as the use is occasional and does not cost the Blount County Sheriff's Office money or interfere with Blount County Sheriff's Office work. However, Blount County Sheriff's Office functions may enforce more restrictive policies on computer, Internet, and e-mail use.

2. Authorized Users

No Blount County Sheriff's Office employee shall be authorized to use the Blount County Sheriff's Office Internet capabilities until he or she has signed a document indicating that the employee has read and agrees to be bound by the terms of this policy.

3. No Privacy Rights

Electronic communications are not private or confidential. All Internet communications utilizing the Blount County Sheriff's Office Internet capabilities are the property of the Blount County Sheriff's Office and may be public records. There are no rights to individual privacy in any communications or information obtained through the Blount County Sheriff's Office Internet capabilities.

4. Professional and Courteous Communications

The Code of Conduct Standards for Blount County Sheriff's Office employees applies to use of the Blount County Sheriff's Office Internet capabilities. All communications across the Internet shall be professional and courteous.

5. Duty to abide by Procedures Established by the Director of Technology

The Director of Technology shall establish procedures for posting content on the Internet, accessing information (including downloading information or software), virus detection and control, access controls and related security mechanisms for use of the Blount County Sheriff's Office Internet capabilities.

Employees should keep personal log-ons and passwords confidential, and through the system administrator, will change passwords on a regular basis as required by the

6. Discipline/Enforcement of Policy

Violators of this policy may be subject to discipline. It is the responsibility of the Director of Technology or his designee to monitor these policies, and to monitor and audit use of the Blount County Sheriff's Office Internet within each function. Employees who are found in violation of this policy may be subject to the following:

- a. Internet and E-Mail access may be revoked.
- b. Access times may be restricted

Employees may be disciplined for violation of this policy. However, employees will not be disciplined for "deminimis" personal use of the electronic mail system or the Internet. The deminimis (too minor to warrant concern) standard would mean that some personal communications, while not sanctioned, are not prohibited by this policy. Generally this would include such uses as adding a personal comment to an official e-mail, sending a short personal note to a colleague or other personal interactions that are routinely a part of day to day business interaction. Reasonable judgement should be applied to individual circumstances. The Blount County Sheriff's Office retains sole discretion to determine what is deminimis and to discipline for all other use.

9.01 Commendations

A. Commendation of Valor

The Commendation of Valor is awarded to a deputy or corrections officer who demonstrates gallantry and extraordinary heroism that must be so exceptional that the employee, while fully aware of the imminent threat to their own personal safety, assumed a voluntary course of action above and beyond the call of duty at the risk of their own life. This commendation is the highest decoration conferred by the Sheriff's Office.

B. Commendation of Excellence

The Commendation of Excellence is awarded to a deputy or corrections officer who demonstrates bravery at the imminent risk of serious bodily injury in performing a voluntary course of action in an extremely dangerous situation by which the omission of the action would not have subjected the employee deputy to censure for failure in the performance of duty. The Commendation of Excellence is the second highest commendation conferred by the Sheriff's Office.

C. Commendation of Merit

The Commendation of Merit is awarded to any a sworn or civilian member of the Sheriff's Office who provides outstanding service to the Sheriff's Office and community. Meritorious service is an exceptional accomplishment with an easily determined beginning and end that was carried through to its completion. Above average performance of duty is not an adequate basis for this award. The Commendation of Merit is next in prominence to the Commendation of Excellence.

D. Sheriff's Commendation

The Sheriff's Commendation is awarded to any a sworn or civilian member of the Sheriff's Office who exhibits outstanding service through the performance of a single task. The Sheriff's Commendation is next in prominence to the Commendation of Merit.

E. Commander's Commendation

The Commander's Commendation is awarded to any a sworn or civilian member of the Sheriff's Office who exhibits exceptional performance in the accomplishment of a difficult task or assignment. The accomplishment must bring credit upon the employee and the Sheriff's Office. The Commander's Commendation is next in prominence to the Sheriff's Commendation.

F. Law Enforcement Commendation

The Law Enforcement Commendation is awarded to a law enforcement officer from another agency who brings credit to themselves, their agency, and the Blount County Sheriff's Office for an exceptional act clearly resulting in the saving of a life, or performing an act of valor that aids someone who is clearly in need, and who goes above and beyond for an individual, while the law enforcement officer is on or off duty and within the jurisdiction of Blount County Tennessee. The Law Enforcement Commendation is next in prominence to the Commander's Commendation.

G. Purple Heart

Awarded to any deputy who, in the course of performing his/her job function, was injured as a result of adversarial action, or was injured as a result of a criminal, reckless, dangerous, or otherwise grossly irresponsible act committed by another (often involving the use of a deadly weapon) and/or demonstrating heroism justifying the Commendation of Valor.

Equal Employment Opportunity Plan of Action

Policy Statement:

It is the continuing policy of the Blount County Sheriff's Office to afford equal employment opportunity to qualified individuals regardless of their sex, race, creed, disability, or national origin, and to conform to applicable laws and regulations. Equal opportunity encompasses all aspects of employment practices to include, but not limited to, recruiting, hiring, training, compensation, benefits, promotions, transfers, layoffs, recall from layoffs, discipline, and educational and social programs sponsored by the Sheriff's Office. Additionally it is the policy of the Sheriff's Office to provide its employees a viable means of communicating and resolving grievances and complaints regarding unlawful discriminatory employment practices. Any employee of the Blount County Sheriff's Office who fails to comply with this policy is subject to appropriate disciplinary action.

Utilization Narrative

A comparison of the Blount County Sheriff's Office workforce to the community labor statistics for Blount County indicated underutilization of women. Community labor statistics show that Blacks, Hispanics, Asian/Pacific Islanders, and American Indian/Alaskan Native populations are a small percentage of the total workforce. The majority of this plan will focus on addressing the larger problem of increasing the number of women in the work force. However, the Sheriff's Office will continue efforts towards correcting the underutilization of the other groups by continuing to explore ways of communicating job opportunities to all race and ethnic groups in the county. After a review of the results of the underutilization analysis, the Blount County Sheriff's Office has identified the following areas of concern:

- Officials and Administrator - Although the analysis shows significant underutilization primarily of females, there is only one (1) position in this group, currently held by a white male. No turnover is expected.
- Professionals - White females are underutilized by 37% and Blacks by 2%.
- Protective Services - White females are again underutilized by 41% while Blacks are underutilized by 3%.

Objectives

The Blount County Sheriff's Office is committed to making its workforce profiles more closely reflective of the labor force in the community. Based on the results of the underutilization analysis the Sheriff's Office has established the following objectives:

- Because females are underutilized in most job categories within the Sheriff's Office, it is our goal to increase representation by evaluating our promotional and recruiting practices to ensure that females receive equal opportunity to secure employment. The Sheriff's Office will continue to review job requirements and hiring procedures to ensure no unnecessary barriers exist that would deny females equal employment opportunities with the Sheriff's Office. Specifically, the Sheriff's Office will make an effort to attract qualified female applicants for professional and protective services positions.
- Although African-American males and females are a small part of the work force in Blount County, it is an objective of the Sheriff's Office to increase representation by targeting recruitment efforts in order to attract qualified African-American candidates to apply for these positions. The Sheriff's Office will evaluate its current promotional and recruitment practices to ensure African-Americans and other minorities are receiving equal opportunity to secure employment.

Steps to Achieve Objectives

- Use teams of female and minority deputies and corrections officers to assist in the recruitment process and increase attendance at job fairs that target women and minorities.
- Increase the recruitment period for deputies and corrections officers to at least three (3) months.
- Compile a list of organizations in the community having effective contact with minority groups and females, establishing continuous working relationships with these organizations.
- Continue to advertise job opportunities using all local media, and any media in the community that may target women and minorities.
- Provide EEO training to supervisors and the command staff on EEO policies and the objectives of the EEO Plan.
- Provide greater access to testing opportunities by offering nighttime, weekend, and off-site testing opportunities.
- Encourage females and minorities to take advantage of training opportunities, especially those that offer reimbursement for college course work related to their jobs with the Sheriff's Office.

Dissemination

External

- Continue to include the statement “The Blount County Sheriff’s Office is an Equal Opportunity Employee” on all job applications and postings.
- Post a memo on bulletin boards through the Sheriff’s Office explaining how applicants and employees may obtain a copy of the EEOP.
- Annually inform all recruiting resources in writing of the EEOP and the Sheriff’s Office commitment to it.

- Conspicuously post the EEO Policy on bulletin boards throughout the Sheriff’s Office.
- Meet with all supervisors to ensure they are familiar with the Sheriff’s Office EEO objectives.

Human Resources Manual

Appendix 3

Classification Plan (Reviewed 03/01/2022)

A classification plan provides for the systematic arrangement of positions into classes that describe the duties and responsibilities that serve as the basis for employment and such basic human resources functions as compensation, performance evaluation, selection and recruitment, and promotion. It is important to understand that preparation of a classification plan is not intended to evaluate or assess individual or unit performance. It is a series of events including completion of job analysis questionnaires by a majority of employees, use of those completed questionnaires to develop class descriptions, the preparation of an organization chart that serves as the basis of an allocation table indicating where each classification is allocated in the organization chart, review of this information by supervisors and command staff, and the development of that information into a classification plan. The components of a class description are presented below. In developing these descriptions an effort was made to develop general yet useful descriptions of work-related information and, insofar as possible, to include position-specific terminology so that employees could relate their positions to those being described. Presented below is a brief summary of each part of the class descriptions.

CLASS TITLE

A descriptive designation of the type of work performed. Existing class titles have been used or revised where necessary. Class titles should be used in payroll and budget work and for other administrative purposes such as records and position allocation. Since the classification plan groups similar jobs into logical classes, there may be other working titles that are appropriate when authorized. Examples of this would be a corrections officer being assigned as a Facility Inspection Officer or Classification Officer.

REPORTS TO

A person assigned to a class that directly supervises a person assigned to a class. In addition to the obvious information relating to whom a person in a class reports, it is also important for the implementation of the Performance Management Plan.

NATURE OF WORK

This section is a general description of the work to be performed with emphasis on those basic factors that distinguish one class from another. Usually included are such factors as responsibility, difficulty, the way in which the work is assigned and reviewed, and other similar factors. It is a brief summary of the position.

EQUIPMENT/JOB LOCATIONS

This provides a brief summary of the general types of equipment that an employee in the class may be required to use, such as firearms, specialized equipment such as computers, etc. There is also a brief statement relating to the level of stress, any specific hazards or dangerous conditions, and where the work is generally performed, i.e., outdoors or indoors in a climate-controlled environment.

WORKING RELATIONSHIPS

Most positions in the Sheriff's Office have two levels of working relationships: internal that relates to work associations within the organization; and external that relates to work associations with the general public and other public safety and criminal justice agencies. This section provides a brief summary of the level of these relationships.

EXAMPLES OF WORK

This section is intended to enable a reader to obtain a more specific picture of the actual work performed in positions assigned to a class. As the disclaimer on each class description indicates, "The examples may not include all of the duties which may be performed or required." The list is descriptive, not limiting, and is not intended to describe all the work that is to be performed by an employee assigned to a class, although the examples listed should cover the most significant duties and responsibilities required that makes this class distinct from other classes.

SUPERVISION EXERCISED

For those classes that may supervise others, this identifies the class or classes the person assigned to this class may supervise, identifies the class or classes of employee the employee in this position must evaluate.

DESIRABLE KNOWLEDGE AND ABILITIES

This section identifies the levels of knowledge, abilities, and skills that either needs to be present when an employee is selected to fill a position in the class, or the employee indicates through testing and evaluation that they are capable of obtaining or learning the necessary knowledge, skills, and abilities for that position with proper training and experience. Obviously a new employee, or an employee assigned to a new position, cannot have all the knowledge and capability to perform a position developed for each class, therefore testing and evaluation of new and existing employees is used to identify the capabilities of individuals to ensure the best "fit" possible for a position in a class. Education and experience also play a significant part of the equation that goes into the filling of positions. These factors are presented below.

NECESSARY AND SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

This section specifies basic education and experience requirements, where applicable, for classes as well as any certifications or licensing required for a person assigned to a class. Most positions in the Sheriff's Office have certain certification requirements such as P.O.S.T. and T.C.I. certifications required by state statute, and most positions require a valid driver's license. It must be emphasized that no single factor can either qualify or disqualify an individual for a position in a class, and there must be recognition of the combination of training and experience in order to allow admission of all qualified applicants to a selection process.

CONCLUSION

A classification plan is not static and is not intended to permanently fix employees in a single position in a class or that classes are fixed and cannot be amended, dissolved, or new classes created. It will always be open to change, especially as the Sheriff's Office and its mission changes in the future. The Blount County Sheriff's Office Human Resources Rules and Regulations Manual, Section 3, Classification of Positions, establishes the policies and procedures to be followed when creating, amending, or abolishing a class.

Recruitment Plan (Revised July 27, 2022)

The Sheriff's Office will identify and employ the best candidates available, not merely eliminate the least qualified. Emphasis on quality recruitment in full compliance with current law should yield benefits in terms of a lower rate of turnover, fewer disciplinary problems, higher morale, better community relations, and more efficient and effective services. The Chief Deputy, through the Deputy Chief of Administration (or designee), is responsible for recruiting activities through implementation of this Recruitment Plan.

Statement of Objectives

A. Equal Employment

The Sheriff's Office will strive to obtain the best-qualified applicants available for each opening as they occur without regard to sex, race, color, religion, national origin, age, disability, or other non-merit or non-job related factors.

1. Census data indicates that the population of Blount County is approximately 95% white, 4% black, and 1% Hispanic. The BCSO workforce reflects these statistics, although efforts need to be made to attract black and Hispanic employees in the future as their percentage of the county's population is expected to increase in the future.
2. A major problem facing the BCSO is the attraction of quality candidates to law enforcement and corrections positions. Our goal is to be 98% fully staffed.
3. To achieve this objective, the following will be accomplished:
 - a. Depicting women and minorities in criminal justice, corrections, and law enforcement employment roles in recruiting literature.
 - b. Conducting recruiting activities outside the Sheriff's Office jurisdiction when necessary to attract viable candidates.
 - c. Conducting periodic "career" or "informational" nights for a particular target group.
 - d. Contacting and encouraging community leaders of minority groups or other support groups of a targeted population, to assist in recruiting qualified applicants.
 - e. Placing employment adds on internet police recruiting sites and minority employment sites.
 - f. The goal of the Sheriff's Office over the next 2 years will be to increase the percentage of females in the workforce to 20%, with at least 10 females hired to work in law enforcement and corrections.

B. Preparation of Recruiting Material

1. A packet of information that includes a brochure that depicts women and minorities in employment roles, current information on pay and benefits, a clear understanding of the basic requirements for positions in law enforcement and corrections that include such information as applicants must:
 - a. Be at least 18 years of age (21 for a P.O.S.T., T.C.I., or D.C.S. certified position).
 - b. Be a citizen of the United States.
 - c. Not have been convicted of a felony or a misdemeanor involving “moral turpitude” (as the term is defined by law), and not have been released or discharged under any other than honorable conditions from any of the Armed Forces of the United States.
 - d. Have fingerprints on file with the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation.
 - e. Have passed a physical examination and drug test conducted by a licensed physician.
 - f. Have good moral character as determined by a thorough background investigation conducted by the Sheriff’s Office that includes a polygraph examination.
 - g. Hold a valid Tennessee motor vehicle operator’s license and be able to operate a motor vehicle with no mechanical adjustments to standard equipment.
 - h. Be free of all apparent mental disorders as described in the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, Third Edition (DSM-11) of the American Psychiatric Association (for certified deputies and corrections officers). A qualified professional in the psychiatric or psychological fields must certify meeting these criteria.
 - i. (Added 09/30/2016) Blount County Sheriff’s Office will not hire or promote anyone who may have contact with inmates, and shall not enlist the services of any contractor who may have contact with inmates, who meet the following criteria:
 1. Has engaged in sexual abuse in a prison, jail, lockup, community confinement facility, juvenile facility, or other institutions (as defined in 42 U.S.C. 1997).
 2. Has been convicted of engaging or attempting to engage in sexual activity in the community facilitated by force, overt or implied threats of force, or coercion, or if the victim did not consent or was unable to consent or refuse.
 3. Has been civilly or administratively adjudicated to have engaged in the activity described in paragraph (i) (2) of this section.
2. The recruiting material should be placed in an attractive packet that may be carried by patrol deputies to distribute to those they meet who may be interested in a career with the BCSO. Employees would also carry these packets to conferences, seminars, and training exercises in other jurisdictions where they may be distributed to those who indicate an interest in working with BCSO.

Plan of Action

- A. Digital advertisements will be run at least 30 days prior to a scheduled cut-off date for an entry-level testing program. This advertisement must, at a minimum, cover the following topics:
 - 1. A complete description of the duties, requisite skills, educational levels, and any other minimum requirements or qualifications.
 - 2. Include information that the BCSO is an equal opportunity employer. The Sheriff's Office will advertise diversity to target women and minorities.
 - 3. Make sure that the filing deadline is boldly presented, and that failure to file an application by the deadline will result in automatic disqualification for this round of testing, but would not disqualify an applicant from future testing.
- B. Announcements indicating that testing for entry level positions will include the information presented above, and will be posted at any or all of the following locations (this list may be amended at any time):
 - 1. On the BCSO web page and/or Social Media Page.
 - 2. Policeone.com web page.
 - 3. National Minority Report web page.
- C. Development of a Speakers Bureau made up of interested BCSO employees who would be willing to make presentations to community groups and organizations such as churches, community service clubs, neighborhood groups, etc.
- D. The Deputy Chief of Administration, or designee, should contact local colleges and universities to work with their placement offices in an effort to attract graduates in criminal justice programs to employment with BCSO. The Deputy Chief of Administration will designate Sheriff's Office employees to attend local job fairs, safety fairs, and career days at high schools, colleges, and universities.
- E. Those employees who volunteer or are assigned to work in conjunction with implementation of the Recruitment Plan must undergo a training program that provides knowledge and skills in the following areas:
 - 1. Clear understanding of the BCSO's recruitment needs and commitments to hiring.
 - 2. BCSO career opportunities, salaries, benefits, and training requirements.
 - 3. Federal and state employment guidelines.
 - 4. Demographics of Blount County including such information as population growth and projections, educational institutions and BCSO educational incentives, and cultural diversification of the county's population.
 - 5. Complete understanding of each step involved in the selection process from application through completion of the probationary period.
 - 6. Clear understanding of what would disqualify an applicant.

Evaluation of the Recruitment Plan

The Deputy Chief of Administration or designee will evaluate the progress made toward attainment of the goals and objectives developed for recruiting activities at least annually, and will use the results of this evaluation to revise and reissue the Recruitment Plan. This evaluation will include at least the following information:

- A. Measurement of recruitment activities against quantitative objectives.
- B. Analysis of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the Recruitment Plan.
- C. Recommendations for improvement, if any.

Review of job task analysis information to ensure that job announcements are in compliance with job duties and responsibilities as advertised.

The purpose of the Employee Sick Leave Bank is to provide sick leave to full-time employees of Blount County Government who have suffered a qualifying personal illness, injury or disability.

All full-time employees of Blount County Government who are entitled to sick leave under the Sick Leave Policy will be eligible to participate in the Sick Leave Bank provided they meet the requirements:

1. Worked for one (1) continuous year.
2. Have a minimum of six (6) accumulated sick leave days.

If at any time the number of hours in the Sick Leave Bank is less than one (1) day per member, the Trustees will assess each member one (1) or more (up to a maximum of 3) days of accumulated sick leave. If a member has no accumulated sick leave at the time of assessment, the first earned day(s) will be donated as they are accrued by the employee.

By written notice to the Trustees, a member may withdraw from the Sick Leave Bank participation on December 31st. Membership withdrawal, however, will result in the forfeiture of all days contributed.

Members of the Sick Leave Bank will be eligible to apply to the Bank for sick leave, only after having been a member of the Bank for thirty (30) calendar days.

Use of the Sick Leave Bank is restricted to illness, surgery or accident resulting in an absence of ten or more consecutive working days. A member must first utilize accumulated vacation or sick leave per the following schedule, before receiving leave from the Sick Leave Bank:

Vacation- Member's available time must be reduced to forty hours

Sick leave- Member's available leave must be reduced to three days

After utilizing the Member's available vacation and sick leave as indicated above, and any available comp time and personal days, receipt of leave from the Sick Leave Bank may begin.

Granted leave from the Bank, approved by the Trustees, will be awarded as needed not exceeding twenty (20) working days for which the individual applicant would have otherwise lost pay. Applicants may submit requests for an extension of such leave grants before or after prior grants expire. The maximum number of days any participant may receive in any fiscal year, which presently begins on July 1 and ends on June 30, is sixty (60). In the event a member is physically or mentally unable to make a request to the Sick Leave Bank for use of sick leave days, any member of the immediate family or agent may file the request.

A physician's statement stating that the illness or accident will require more than a ten (10) day absence is required as a part of the application to receive sick leave days from the Sick Leave Bank. Also, a physician's statement of condition is required from any member requesting additional leave beyond the first twenty (20) days. Refusal to comply will result in denial of the pending request for use of sick leave days from the Bank.

Sick leave granted to a member from the Sick Leave Bank need not be repaid by the individual except at such time as it is deemed necessary to uniformly assess all members.

Grants of sick leave from the Sick Leave Bank will not be made to any members on account of elective and or cosmetic surgery, or illness of any member of the participant's family, or during any period the member is receiving workers' compensation.

A member will lose the right to obtain the benefits of the Sick Leave Bank by:

- (a) Resignation or termination of employment with Blount County Government;
- (b) Cancellation of participation which is effective on January 1st next;
- (c) Refusal to honor such assessment as may be required by the Trustees;
- (d) Retirement;
- (e) Any documented proof of fraud or misrepresentation of facts in making application for use of sick leave from the Sick Leave Bank; or
- (f) Changing to part-time employment status. (29 hours or less per week)

Sick leave used from the Sick Leave Bank shall not constitute creditable service for sick and annual leave accrual or for longevity purposes.

The Board of Trustees may vote to expel any member if the member is found to have violated any of the provisions set forth herein.

Any member who receives Sick Leave Bank benefits through the use of fraud or any misrepresentation of facts shall be liable for the reimbursement of all salary and benefits expended by the bank.

In the event the Sick Leave Bank is dissolved, the total number of days on deposit shall be returned to the participating members and credited to their personal sick leave accumulated in proportion to the number of days each has contributed individually. Days returned under this section and credited to the individual participants accumulation shall be rounded to the nearest one-half (1/2) days.

CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF TENNESSEE

Preamble and Declaration of Rights

Whereas, The people of the territory of the United States south of the river Ohio, having the right of admission into the general government as a member state thereof, consistent with the Constitution of the United States, and the act of cession of the state of North Carolina, recognizing the ordinance for the government of the territory of the United States north west of the Ohio River, by their delegates and representatives in convention assembled, did on the sixth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety-six, ordain and establish a Constitution, or form of government, and mutually agreed with each other to form themselves into a free and independent state by the name of the state of Tennessee, and,

Whereas, The General Assembly of the said state of Tennessee, (pursuant to the third section of the tenth article of the Constitution,) by an act passed on the Twenty-seventh day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-three, entitled, "An Act" to provide for the calling of a convention, passed in obedience to the declared will of the voters of the state, as expressed at the general election of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-three, did authorize and provide for the election by the people of delegates and representatives, to meet at Nashville, in Davidson County, on the third Monday in May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, for the purpose of revising and amending, or changing, the Constitution, and said convention did accordingly meet and form a Constitution which was submitted to the people, and was ratified by them, on the first Friday in March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, and,

Whereas, The General Assembly of said state of Tennessee, under and in virtue of the first section of the first article of the Declaration of Rights, contained in and forming a part of the existing Constitution of the state, by an act passed on the fifteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, did provide for the calling of a convention by the people of the state, to meet at Nashville, on the second Monday in January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy, and for the election of delegates for the purpose of amending or revising the present Constitution, or forming and making a new Constitution; and,

Whereas, The people of the state, in the mode provided by said Act, have called said convention, and elected delegates to represent them therein; now therefore,

We, the delegates and representatives of the people of the state of Tennessee, duly elected, and in convention assembled, in pursuance of said act of Assembly have ordained and established the following Constitution and form of government for this state, which we recommend to the people of Tennessee for their ratification: That is to say

ARTICLE I.

Declaration of Rights.

Section 1. That all power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority, and instituted for their peace, safety, and happiness; for the advancement of those ends they have at all times, an unalienable and indefeasible right to alter, reform, or abolish the government in such manner as they may think proper.

Section 2. That government being instituted for the common benefit, the doctrine of nonresistance against arbitrary power and oppression is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind.

Section 3. That all men have a natural and indefeasible right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own conscience; that no man can of right be compelled to attend, erect, or support any place of worship, or to maintain any minister against his consent; that no human authority can, in any case whatever, control or interfere with the rights of conscience; and that no preference shall ever be given, by law, to any religious establishment or mode of worship.

Section 4. That no political or religious test, other than an oath to support the Constitution of the United States and of this state, shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under this state.

Section 5. The elections shall be free and equal, and the right of suffrage, as hereinafter declared, shall never be denied to any person entitled thereto, except upon a conviction by a jury of some infamous crime, previously ascertained and declared by law, and judgment thereon by court of competent jurisdiction.

Section 6. That the right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate, and no religious or political test shall ever be required as a qualification for jurors.

Section 7. That the people shall be secure in their persons, houses, papers and possessions, from unreasonable searches and seizures; and that general warrants, whereby an officer may be commanded to search suspected places, without evidence of the fact committed, or to seize any person or persons not named, whose offences are not particularly described and supported by evidence, are dangerous to liberty and ought not be granted.

Section 8. That no man shall be taken or imprisoned, or disseized of his freehold, liberties or privileges, or outlawed, or exiled, or in any manner destroyed or deprived of his life, liberty or property, but by the judgment of his peers, or the law of the land.

Section 9. That in all criminal prosecutions, the accused hath the right to be heard by himself and his counsel; to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him, and to have a copy thereof, to meet the witnesses face to face, to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and in prosecutions by indictment or presentment, a speedy public trial, by an impartial jury of the county in which the crime shall have been committed, and shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself.

Section 10. That no person shall, for the same offence, be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb.

Section 11. That laws made for the punishment of acts committed previous to the existence of such laws, and by them only declared criminal, are contrary to the principles of a free government; wherefore no ex post facto law shall be made.

Section 12. That no conviction shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture of estate. The estate of such persons as shall destroy their own lives shall descend or vest as in case of natural death. If any person be killed by casualty, there shall be no forfeiture in consequence thereof.

Section 13. That no person arrested and confined in jail shall be treated with unnecessary rigor.

Section 14. That no person shall be put to answer any criminal charge but by presentment, indictment or impeachment.

Section 15. That all prisoners shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless for capital offences, when the proof is evident, or the presumption great. And the privilege of the writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in case of rebellion or invasion, the General Assembly shall declare the public safety requires it.

Section 16. That excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

Section 17. That all courts shall be open; and every man, for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law, and right and justice administered without sale, denial, or delay. Suits may be brought against the state in such manner and in such courts as the Legislature may by law direct.

Section 18. The Legislature shall pass no law authorizing imprisonment for debt in civil cases.

Section 19. That the printing press shall be free to every person to examine the proceedings of the Legislature; or of any branch or officer of the government, and no law shall ever be made to restrain the right thereof. The free communication of thoughts and opinions, is one of the invaluable rights of man and every citizen may freely speak, write, and print on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty. But in prosecutions for the publication of papers investigating the official conduct of officers, or men in public capacity, the truth thereof may be given in evidence; and in all indictments for libel, the jury shall have a right to determine the law and the facts, under the direction of the court, as in other criminal cases.

Section 20. That no retrospective law, or law impairing the obligations of contracts, shall be made.

Section 21. That no man's particular services shall be demanded, or property taken, or applied to public use, without the consent of his representatives, or without just compensation being made therefore.

Section 22. That perpetuities and monopolies are contrary to the genius of a free state, and shall not be allowed.

Section 24. That the sure and certain defense of a free people, is a well regulated militia; and, as standing armies in time of peace are dangerous to freedom, they ought to be avoided as far as the circumstances and safety of the community will admit; and that in all cases the military shall be kept in strict subordination to the civil authority.

Section 25. That no citizen of this state, except such as are employed in the army of the United States, or militia in actual service, shall be subjected to punishment under the martial or military law. That martial law, in the sense of the unrestricted power of military officers, or others, to dispose of the persons, liberties or property of the citizen, is inconsistent with the principles of free government, and is not confided to any department of the government of this state.

Section 26. That the citizens of this state have a right to keep and to bear arms for their common defense; but the Legislature shall have power, by law, to regulate the wearing of arms with a view to prevent crime.

Section 27. That no soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war, but in a manner prescribed by law.

Section 28. That no citizen of this state be compelled to bear arms, provided he will pay an equivalent, to be ascertained by law.

Nothing in this Section nor in this Article II shall deny to the General Assembly the right at any time to apportion one House of the General Assembly using geography, political subdivisions, substantially equal population and other criteria as factors; provided such apportionment when effective shall comply with the Constitution of the United States as then amended or authoritatively interpreted. If the Constitution of the United States shall require that legislative apportionment not based entirely on population be approved by vote of the electorate, the General Assembly shall provide for such vote in the apportionment act.

Section 5. The number of representatives shall be ninety-nine and shall be apportioned by the General Assembly among the several counties or districts as shall be provided by law. Counties having two or more representatives shall be divided into separate districts. In a Section 8. Legislative Sessions—Governor's Inauguration—The General Assembly shall meet in organizational session on the second Tuesday in January next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Representatives, at which session, if in order, the governor shall be inaugurated. The General Assembly shall remain in session for organizational purposes not longer than fifteen consecutive calendar days, during which session no legislation shall be passed on third and final consideration. Thereafter, the General Assembly shall meet on the first Tuesday next following the conclusion of the organizational session unless the General Assembly by joint resolution of both houses sets an earlier date. The General Assembly may by joint resolution recess or adjourn until such time or times as it shall determine. It shall be convened at other times by the governor as provided in Article III, Section 9, or by the presiding officers of both Houses at the written request of two-thirds of the members of each House.

Section 9. No person shall be a representative unless he shall be a citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years, and shall have been a citizen of this state for three years, and a resident in the county he represents one year, immediately preceding the election.

Section 10. Section 13. Senators and representatives shall, in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during the session of the General Assembly, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

Section 14. Each House may punish, by imprisonment, during its session, any person not a member, who shall be guilty of disrespect to the House, by any disorderly or any contemptuous behavior in its presence.

Section 15. Vacancies. When the seat of any member of either House becomes vacant, the vacancy shall be filled as follows: (a) When twelve months or more remain prior to the next general election for legislators, a successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of the district represented, and such successor shall serve the remainder of the original term. (b) When less than twelve months remain prior to the next general election for legislators, a successor shall be elected by the legislative body of the replaced legislator's county of residence at the time of his or her election. The term of any Senator so elected shall expire at the next general election for legislators, at which election a successor shall be elected. (c) Only a qualified voter of the district represented shall be eligible to succeed to the vacant seat.

Section 16. Neither House shall, during its session, adjourn without the consent of the other for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

Section 17. Bills may originate in either House; but may be amended, altered or rejected by the other. No bill shall become law which embraces more than one subject, that subject to be expressed in the title. All acts which repeal, revive or amend former laws, shall recite in their caption, or otherwise, the title or substance of the law repealed, revived or amended.

Section 18. A bill shall become law when it has been considered and passed on three different days in each House and on third and final consideration has received the assent of a majority of all the members to which each House is entitled under this Constitution, when the respective speakers have signed the bill with the date of such signing appearing in the journal, and when the bill has been approved by the governor or otherwise passed under the provisions of this Constitution.

Section 19. After a bill has been rejected, no bill containing the same substance shall be passed into a law during the same session.

Section 20. The style of the laws of this state shall be, "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee." No law of a general nature shall take effect until forty days after its passage unless the same or the caption thereof shall state that the public welfare requires that it should take effect sooner.

Section 21. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish it, except such parts as the welfare of the state may require to be kept secret; the ayes and noes shall be taken in each House upon the final passage of every bill of a general character, and bills making appropriations of public moneys; and the ayes and noes of the members on any question, shall, at the request of any five of them, be entered on the journal.

Section 22. The doors of each House and of committees of the whole shall be kept open, unless when the business shall be such as ought to be kept secret.

Section 23. Each member of the General Assembly shall receive an annual salary of $1,800.00 per year payable in equal monthly installments from the date of his election, and in addition, such other allowances for expenses in attending sessions or committee meetings as may be provided by law. The senators, when sitting as a Court of Impeachment, shall receive the same allowances for expenses as have been provided by law for the members of the General Assembly. The compensation and expenses of the members of the General Assembly may from time to time be reduced or increased by laws enacted by the General Assembly; however, no increase or decrease in the amount thereof shall take effect until the next general election for representatives to the General Assembly. Provided, further, that the first General Assembly meeting after adoption of this amendment shall be allowed to set its own expenses. However, no member shall be paid expenses, nor travel allowances for more than ninety Legislative days of a regular session, excluding the organizational session, nor for more than thirty Legislative days of any extraordinary session.

This amendment shall take effect immediately upon adoption so that any member of the General Assembly elected at a general election wherein this amendment is approved shall be entitled to the compensation set herein.

Section 24. Appropriation of public moneys. No public money shall be expended except pursuant to appropriations made by law. Expenditures for any fiscal year shall not exceed the state's revenues and reserves, including the proceeds of any debt obligation, for that year. No debt obligation, except as shall be repaid within the fiscal year of issuance, shall be authorized for the current operation of any state service or program, nor shall the proceeds of any debt obligation be expended for a purpose other than that for which it was authorized.

In no year shall the rate of growth of appropriations from state tax revenues exceed the estimated rate of growth of the state's economy as determined by law. No appropriation in excess of this limitation shall be made unless the General Assembly shall, by law containing no other subject matter, set forth the dollar amount and the rate by which the limit will be exceeded.

Any law requiring the expenditure of state funds shall be null and void unless, during the session in which the act receives final passage, an appropriation is made for the estimated first year's funding.

No law of general application shall impose increased expenditure requirements on cities or counties unless the General Assembly shall provide that the state share in the cost.

An accurate financial statement of the state's fiscal condition shall be published annually.

Section 25. No person who heretofore hath been, or may hereafter be, a collector or holder of public moneys, shall have a seat in either House of the General Assembly, or hold any other office under the state government, until such person shall have accounted for, and paid into the Treasury, all sums for which he may be accountable or liable.

Section 26. No judge of any court of law or equity, secretary of state, attorney general, register, clerk of any Court of Record, or person holding any office under the authority of the United States, shall have a seat in the General Assembly; nor shall any person in this state hold more than one lucrative office at the same time; provided, that no appointment in the Militia, or to the Office of Justice of the Peace, shall be considered a lucrative office, or operative as a disqualification to a seat in either House of the General Assembly.

Section 27. Any member of either House of the General Assembly shall have liberty to dissent from and protest against, any act or resolve which he may think injurious to the public or to any individual, and to have the reasons for his dissent entered on the journals.

Section 28. In accordance with the following provisions, all property real, personal or mixed shall be subject to taxation, but the Legislature may except such as may be held by the state, by counties, cities or towns, and used exclusively for public or corporation purposes, and such as may be held and used for purposes purely religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational, and shall except the direct product of the soil in the hands of the producer, and his immediate vendee, and the entire amount of money deposited in an individual's personal or family checking or savings accounts. For purposes of taxation, property shall be classified into three classes, to wit: Real Property, Tangible Personal Property and Intangible Personal Property.

Real property shall be classified into four (4) subclassifications and assessed as follows:

- (a) Public Utility Property, to be assessed at fifty-five (55%) percent of its value;
- (b) Industrial and Commercial Property, to be assessed at forty (40%) percent of its value;
- (c) Residential Property, to be assessed at twenty-five (25%) percent of its value, provided that residential property containing two (2) or more rental units is hereby defined as industrial and commercial property; and
- (d) Farm Property, to be assessed at twenty-five (25%) percent of its value.

House trailers, mobile homes, and all other similar movable structures used for commercial, industrial, or residential purposes shall be assessed as real property as an improvement to the land where located.

The Legislature shall provide, in such a manner as it deems appropriate, tax relief to elderly, low-income taxpayers through payments by the state to reimburse all or part of the taxes paid by such persons on owner-occupied residential property, but such reimbursement shall not be an obligation imposed, directly or indirectly, upon counties, cities or towns.

By general law, the legislature may authorize the following program of tax relief:

- (a) The legislative body of any county or municipality may provide by resolution or ordinance that:

(1) Any taxpayer who is sixty-five (65) years of age or older and who owns residential property as the taxpayer's principal place of residence shall pay taxes on such property in an amount not to exceed the maximum amount of tax on such property imposed at the time the ordinance or resolution is adopted;

(2) Any taxpayer who reaches the age of sixty-five (65) after the time the ordinance or resolution is adopted, who owns residential property as the taxpayer's principal place of residence, shall thereafter pay taxes on such property in an amount not to exceed the maximum amount of tax on such property imposed in the tax year in which such taxpayer reaches age sixty-five (65); and

When any amendment or amendments to the Constitution shall be proposed in pursuance of the foregoing provisions the same shall at each of said sessions be read three times on three several days in each house.

The Legislature shall have the right by law to submit to the people, at any general election, the question of calling a convention to alter, reform, or abolish this Constitution, or to alter, reform or abolish any specified part or parts of it; and when, upon such submission, a majority of all the voters voting upon the proposal submitted shall approve the proposal to call a convention, the delegates to such convention shall be chosen at the next general election and the convention shall assemble for the consideration of such proposals as shall have received a favorable vote in said election, in such mode and manner as shall be prescribed. No change in, or amendment to, this Constitution proposed by such convention shall become effective, unless within the limitations of the call of the convention, and unless approved and ratified by a majority of the qualified voters voting separately on such change or amendment at an election to be held in such manner and on such date as may be fixed by the convention. No such convention shall be held oftener than once in six years.

Section 4. The Legislature shall have no power to grant divorces; but may authorize the Courts of Justice to grant them for such causes as may be specified by law; but such laws shall be general and uniform in their operation throughout the state.

Section 5. The Legislature shall have no power to authorize lotteries for any purpose, and shall pass laws to prohibit the sale of lottery tickets in this state, except that the legislature may authorize a state lottery if the net proceeds of the lottery's revenues are allocated to provide financial assistance to citizens of this state to enable such citizens to attend post-secondary educational institutions located within this state. The excess after such allocations from such net proceeds from the lottery would be appropriated to:

(1) Capital outlay projects for K-12 educational facilities; and

(2) Early learning programs and after school programs.

Such appropriation of funds to support improvements and enhancements for educational programs and purposes and such net proceeds shall be used to supplement, not supplant, non-lottery educational resources for education programs and purposes.

All other forms of lottery not authorized herein are expressly prohibited unless authorized by a two-thirds vote of all members elected to each house of the general assembly for an annual event operated for the benefit of a 501(c)(3) or a 501(c)(19) organization, as defined by the 2000 United States Tax Code, located in this state.

A state lottery means a lottery of the type such as in operation in Georgia, Kentucky and Virginia in 2000, and the amendment to Article XI, Section 5 of the Constitution of the State of Tennessee provided for herein does not authorize games of chance associated with casinos, including, but not limited to, slot machines, roulette wheels, and the like.

The state lottery authorized in this section shall be implemented and administered uniformly throughout the state in such manner as the legislature, by general law, deems appropriate.

Section 6. The Legislature shall have no power to change the names of persons, or to pass acts adopting or legitimatizing persons, but shall, by general laws, confer this power on the courts.

Section 7. The General Assembly shall define and regulate interest, and set maximum effective rates thereof.

If no applicable statute is hereafter enacted, the effective rate of interest collected shall not exceed ten (10%) percent per annum.

All provisions of existing statutes regulating rates of interest and other charges on loans shall remain in full force and effect until July 1, 1980, unless earlier amended or repealed.

Section 8. The Legislature shall have no power to suspend any general law for the benefit of any particular individual, nor to pass any law for the benefit of individuals inconsistent with the general laws of the land; nor to pass any law granting to any individual or individuals, rights, privileges, immunities [immunities], or exemptions other than such as may be, by the same law extended to any member of the community, who may be able to bring himself within the provisions of such law. No corporation shall be created or its powers increased or diminished by special laws but the General Assembly shall provide by general laws for the organization of all corporations, hereafter created, which laws may, at any time, be altered or repealed, and no such alteration or repeal shall interfere with or divest rights which have become vested.

Section 9. The Legislature shall have the right to vest such powers in the Courts of Justice, with regard to private and local affairs, as may be expedient.

The General Assembly shall have no power to pass a special, local or private act having the effect of removing the incumbent from any municipal or county office or abridging the term or altering the salary prior to the end of the term for which such public officer was selected, and any act of the General Assembly private or local in form or effect applicable to a particular county or municipality either in its governmental or its proprietary capacity shall be void and of no effect unless the act by its terms either requires the approval of a two-thirds vote of the local legislative body of the municipality or county, or requires approval in an election by a majority of those voting in said election in the municipality or county affected.

Any municipality may by ordinance submit to its qualified voters in a general or special election the question: "Shall this municipality adopt home rule?"

In the event of an affirmative vote by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon, and until the repeal thereof by the same procedure, such municipality shall be a home rule municipality, and the General Assembly shall act with respect to such home rule municipality only by laws which are general in terms and effect.

Any municipality after adopting home rule may continue to operate under its existing charter, or amend the same, or adopt and thereafter amend a new charter to provide for its governmental and proprietary powers, duties and functions, and for the form, structure, personnel and organization of its government, provided that no charter provision except with respect to compensation of municipal personnel shall be effective if inconsistent with any general act of the General Assembly and provided further that the power of taxation of such municipality shall not be enlarged or increased except by general act of the General Assembly. The General Assembly shall by general law provide the exclusive methods by which municipalities may be created, merged, consolidated and dissolved and by which municipal boundaries may be altered.

A charter or amendment may be proposed by ordinance of any home rule municipality, by a charter commission provided for by act of the General Assembly and elected by the qualified voters of a home rule municipality voting thereon or, in the absence of such act of the General Assembly, by a charter commission of seven (7) members, chosen at large not more often than once in two (2) years, in a municipal election pursuant to petition for such election signed by qualified voters of a home rule municipality not less in number than ten (10%) percent of those voting in the then most recent general municipal election.

It shall be the duty of the legislative body of such municipality to publish any proposal so made and to submit the same to its qualified voters at the first general state election which shall be held at least sixty (60) days after such publication and such proposal shall become effective sixty (60) days after approval by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon.

The General Assembly shall not authorize any municipality to tax incomes, estates, or inheritances, or to impose any other tax not authorized by Sections 28 or 29 of Article II of this Constitution. Nothing herein shall be construed as invalidating the provisions of any municipal charter in existence at the time of the adoption of this amendment. The General Assembly may provide for the consolidation of any or all of the governmental and corporate functions now or hereafter vested in municipal corporations with the governmental and corporate functions now or hereafter vested in the counties in which such municipal corporations are located; provided, such consolidations shall not become effective until submitted to the qualified voters residing within the municipal corporation and in the county outside thereof, and approved by a majority of those voting within the municipal corporation and by a majority of those voting in the county outside the municipal corporation.

Section 10. A well regulated system of internal improvement is calculated to develop the resources of the state, and promote the happiness and prosperity of her citizens, therefore it ought to be encouraged by the General Assembly.

Section 11. There shall be a homestead exemption from execution in an amount of five thousand dollars or such greater amount as the General Assembly may establish. The General Assembly shall also establish personal property exemptions. The definition and application of the homestead and personal property exemptions and the manner in which they may be waived shall be as prescribed by law.

Section 12. The state of Tennessee recognizes the inherent value of education and encourages its support. The General Assembly shall provide for the maintenance, support and eligibility standards of a system of free public schools. The General Assembly may establish and support such post-secondary educational institutions, including public institutions of higher learning, as it determines.

Section 13. The General Assembly shall have the power to enact laws for the protection and preservation of game and fish, within the state, and such laws may be enacted for and applied and enforced in particular counties or geographical districts, designated by the General Assembly. The citizens of this state shall have the personal right to hunt and fish, subject to reasonable regulations and restrictions prescribed by law. The recognition of this right does not abrogate any private or public property rights, nor does it limit the state's power to regulate commercial activity. Traditional manners and means may be used to take non-threatened species.

Section 14. [Repealed.]

Section 15. No person shall in time of peace be required to perform any service to the public on any day set apart by his religion as a day of rest.

Section 16. The declaration of rights hereto prefixed is declared to be a part of the Constitution of the state, and shall never be violated on any pretense whatever. And to guard against transgression of the high powers we have delegated, we declare that everything in the bill of rights contained, is excepted out of the general powers of the government, and shall forever remain inviolate.

Section 17. No county office created by the Legislature shall be filled otherwise than by the people or the County Court.

Section 18. The historical institution and legal contract solemnizing the relationship of one man and one woman shall be the only legally recognized marital contract in this state. Any policy or law or judicial interpretation, purporting to define marriage as anything other than the historical institution and legal contract between one man and one woman, is contrary to the public policy of this state and shall be void and unenforceable in Tennessee. If another state or foreign jurisdiction issues a license for persons to marry and if such marriage is prohibited in this state by the provisions of this section, then the marriage shall be void and unenforceable in this state.

Schedule.

Section 1. That no inconvenience may arise from a change of the Constitution, it is declared that the governor of the state, the members of the General Assembly and all officers elected at or after the general election of March one thousand eight hundred and seventy, shall hold their offices for the terms prescribed in this Constitution.

All other officers shall vacate their places thirty days after the day fixed for the election of their successors under this Constitution.

The secretary of state, comptroller and treasurer shall hold their offices until the first session of the present General Assembly occurring after the ratification of this Constitution and until their successors are elected and qualified.

The officers then elected shall hold their offices until the fifteenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three.

Section 2. At the first election of judges under this Constitution there shall be elected six judges of the Supreme Court, two from each grand division of the state, who shall hold their offices for the term herein prescribed.

In the event any vacancy shall occur in the office of either of said judges at any time after the first day of January one thousand eight hundred seventy-three; it shall remain unfilled and the court shall from that time be constituted of five judges. While the court shall consist of six judges they may sit in two sections, and may hear and determine causes in each at the same time, but not in different grand divisions at the same time.

When so sitting the concurrence of two judges shall be necessary to a decision.

The attorney general and reporter for the state shall be appointed after the election and qualification of the judges of the Supreme Court herein provided for.

Blount County Sheriff's Office

Blount County Sheriff's Office Succession Plan

Law enforcement agencies have an increased challenge in providing career counseling and guidance to their employees. It is imperative that agencies develop programs that will not only aid employees in the endeavor, but also help to improve employee attitudes towards the workplace and improve employee retention rates. Employees that leave prior to retirement impact the Blount County Sheriff's Office in two clear ways. First, we lose the benefit of their agency experience in the community. Second, the financial impact of recruiting, hiring, and training new employees can be a tremendous financial and operational expense. Excessive turnover can also impact the ability to provide quality services to the community. Even for those employees that remain in the agency, it is in the interest of the agency and the employees to prepare, develop, and advance the best candidates to specialty assignments and promotional opportunities.

One way to accomplish this goal is through the development and implementation of a Succession Plan. The need for such a plan is identified as an "other than mandatory" standard (15.1.4) from the revised CALEA standards. We have now completed the process of developing a formal plan to identify the experiences, training and behaviors that are required and desirable for employees seeking assignment to full-time specialty assignments and promotional opportunities.

Currently, certified deputies, depending on their rank, can compete for specialty assignments as Investigators (Criminal, Narcotics, and Corrections) Crime Scene Investigators, Sex Offender Investigator, Property and Evidence Custodian, School Resource Officers, Traffic Safety Officers, Canine Handlers, and Training Officers. This is in addition to the baseline assignments as a Patrol Deputy, Court Services Deputy, and Corrections Deputy. Promotional opportunities for certified deputies currently begin with promotion to Corporal and/or Sergeant. Above Sergeant, the ranks are Lieutenant and Captain (depending on the Function). The positions of Deputy Chief and Chief Deputy are appointments by the Sheriff. Non-certified promotional opportunities include Records Office Manager, Assistant Records Office Manager.

There are a variety of specialty assignments that are part-time assignments and are not included in the Succession Plan at this time. These assignments include a variety of instructor assignments and assignments to the SWAT Team, Crisis Negotiation Team, Bicycle Patrol, BSORT, and Crime Scene Search Officer and similar type assignments that are in addition to the deputies' full-time assignment to a particular Function.

The Blount County Sheriff's Office Succession Plan is designed to identify individual requirements and expected qualities for all full-time specialty assignments, as well as the promotional positions within the Blount County Sheriff's Office. This will allow employees with current individual ambitions of specialty assignments and/or promotional opportunities to begin planning and preparing now to prepare themselves for future positions. Supervisors should serve as a guide to the employees assigned to their functions, to assist them in preparation and mentorship by identifying skills and abilities of the employees who they are assigned to supervise.

For example, a patrol deputy with aspirations of being an Investigator should be encouraged by the supervisor to go more in depth with follow-ups and interviews with cases she/he is assigned. This could further lead the supervisor to search for training schools for things such as Interview and Interrogation to better prepare the deputy for the possibility of future assignments. Further Example is a deputy with aspirations of being a supervisor. If the deputy has the potential and it is noticed by the immediate supervisor, the supervisor may seek out a frontline leadership school to better prepare the employee for future advancement within the sheriff's office. The Succession Plan ultimately starts when deputies graduate from the Blount County Sheriff's Office Regional Training Academy. Upon graduation, academy personnel advise the Patrol Captain in writing of certifications obtained during the academy. This allows for the Patrol Captain to keep track of what certifications each deputy still needs in the future. Each Function within the Sheriff's Office will maintain their own training requirements for assigned personnel.

During the semi-annual employee evaluation period, supervisors are encouraged to spend extra time with the employees and listen to their future career ambitions. Supervisors should then notate these ambitions (supervisory ambitions or specialty assignment) on the evaluations of the employees. This allows the supervisor to schedule future training for the employees to mirror with the individual ambitions of the employees. The evaluation period is also the time that the supervisor should note what training and/or certifications the employee maintained during the 6 month evaluation period, as well as what training and/or certifications the supervisor plans to schedule in the next evaluation period for the employee.

There are only a few positions currently within the Sheriff's Office that require a college degree. This however, should not stop employees from seeking out a college education with the assistance of the Tuition Reimbursement Plan within the benefit section of the Blount County Sheriff's Office Human Resources Manual.
